Teacher Admits Fund Mishandled

By BILL ENFIELD

A Capital City school principal who admitted to mishandling an academic grant for which he was responsible has been dismissed.

Larry Williams, principal of the school, was placed on administrative leave last month after an investigation by the school district. The investigation found that Williams had misused funds intended for educational purposes.

Williams, who specified the funds to a bank account, is accused of using the funds for personal expenses. He is scheduled to appear in court on June 10 to face charges.

Preparation H Used On Face

The Los Angeles Times News Service

By AUGUST WILSON

Preparation H cream, a popular antifungal cream, is being investigated after several reports of allergic reactions.

The cream, which is used to treat fungal infections, has been linked to several cases of allergic reactions. Some users have reported a rash, itching, and swelling on their skin.

The FDA has not released any official statements regarding the investigation. However, they have urged consumers to stop using the cream if they experience any adverse reactions.

Shrinks Wrinkles, Too

By NORA WILLIAMS

A dermatologist from New York City has developed a new treatment for wrinkles that uses a combination of laser technology and injectable fillers.

The treatment, which is called "The New York Laser Peel," involves a series of laser treatments followed by the injection of a filler. The laser treatments help to stimulate collagen production, while the filler helps to fill in wrinkles.

The treatment is non-invasive and has been well-received by patients. It is currently being offered at a high-end dermatology clinic in New York City.

Nedzi Quits House CIA Probe Post

The Washington Post

Washington, D.C.

ROBERT McCAIN, the Senate majority leader, today began a probe into the CIA's handling of domestic spy cases.

The probe, which is being led by the Senate Intelligence Committee, is focused on the CIA's treatment of detainees held in secret prisons.

The CIA has been under scrutiny since the release of a report by the Senate Intelligence Committee last year, which found that the CIA had used torture and other abusive techniques on detainees.

Gamblers To Start Defense On Friday

By JOHN SMITH

The defense team for the gamblers charged with racketeering are due in court on Friday to begin their defense.

The gamblers, including two casino executives, are facing charges of racketeering and conspiracy.

The defense team is expected to argue that the gamblers did not commit any crimes and that the charges are baseless.

Boren Raps Jobless Pay To Teachers

By JOE BROWN

A state legislator has introduced a bill to provide jobless pay to teachers.

The bill, which is currently pending in the state legislature, is designed to provide jobless pay to teachers who are laid off during the school year.

Boren, a teacher himself, has been a vocal advocate for providing jobless pay to teachers.

Food Stamp Rules Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP) - Federal appeals court ruled Thursday that the Agriculture Department is not authorized to make cuts in the food stamp program.

The ruling overturns a lower court decision that upheld the government's authority to make cuts in the food stamp program.

The court's decision is expected to have significant implications for the future of the food stamp program.

"Homes" Traffic Up

By CARROL H. WRIGHT

I had an interesting talk with a fellow who has been engineering a new traffic pattern along the Highway 66 corridor. He was expressing a lot of interest in the effect of the "Homes" construction going on along the highway. He stated that traffic on the highway has been increasing significantly, and that the new construction could have a major impact on the flow of traffic. He was concerned that the new homes might create a bottleneck at some points along the highway.

Flying Fanfairs

Just in time for the Flying Fanfairs, fashionable housewives are6ing in to plan for the season. In the Bryant & May circles.

Flyers Find

In Love In Air

When winter banished the Maritimes and the Maritimes banished winter, the Maritimes were left with a sullen and unresponsive atmosphere.

The Flying Fanfairs are held on the 20th and 22nd of May, right after the Opening of the Season. The Flying Fanfairs bring not only the Flying fanfares, but also the Flying fanfares themselves. The Flying Fanfairs are held in the most beautiful and picturesque locations in the Maritimes, such as the Flying Fanfares in St. John's, Newfoundland.
