Outrage Is Justified

School teachers who are expected to discipline and educate our children are being paid less by some local school boards than minimum-wage workers.

The teaching profession has never been appreciated. The teachers are expected to do more and be more than expected in the work environment.

When the teachers are not appreciated, they are less likely to stay in the profession. The teaching profession should be respected more.

The teachers are a vital part of our community and deserve better treatment.
