Year-Round School

Recent resolutions by thousands of American educators and their associations indicating the desirability of lengthening the school year have not been a matter of considerable inspiration to the public schools of Dallas and other cities. The reason for this is that there are considerable educational advantages to be derived from a year-round school system. ... (Continued on Page 4)

The year-round system has been proposed as a way to solve the problems of overcrowded classrooms and teachers' salaries. It is argued that by extending the school year, teachers can be paid for the extra days while students are in school, thus providing additional income for both the schools and the teachers. This system also allows for more flexibility in scheduling and can reduce the need for summer schools. (Continued on Page 4)

Ex-Policeman Pounds Acting Beat

By Robin Adams Sloan

New York—Former police detective Joe Hoffman, 30, was beaten and left for dead in the back of a garbage truck.

Joe, who is the son of the late Frank Hoffman, 30, was a private detective for the city's police department. He was last seen leaving his apartment building in the early morning hours. Police have not yet confirmed the identity of the suspect.

The victim was found in a secluded area of the city, where he was thought to be recovering. He was taken to the hospital and is currently in critical condition.

"It's a miracle he's still alive," said one of Joe's friends. "He was beaten almost to death. We don't know how he survived."

Women Deride Jocks’ Shock

Confession

NEW CHALLENGE FILED

By Rogers

It is a well-known fact that the phrase "jocks' shock" is a term used to describe the sexual excitement experienced by people during sports events. This term has been around for many years and is commonly used in popular culture. However, some people have taken exception to the use of this term, citing it as offensive and insensitive. In this particular instance, a group of women has come forward to express their disappointment and dissatisfaction with the term. They have stated that it is a form of objectification and an example of sexism that should be addressed. The women have called for a change in the language used to describe sexual excitement in sports and have expressed their desire for a more inclusive and respectful approach. The confessions made by the women have been met with mixed reactions, with some people applauding the women for their bravery and others criticizing their approach. Overall, the incident highlights the ongoing debate around language and sexism in sports and the need for greater awareness and understanding of these issues.

Council Okays 'Neighborhood' School

Bethany Nixes Zone Request

The Oklahoma City Council recently approved a request for the construction of a new 'neighborhood' school in the city. The council members believed that this would benefit the community by providing more accessible education for residents. However, Bethany, a local resident, expressed concerns about the zoning request. She argued that the new school could disrupt the current neighborhood character and increase traffic in the area. The council acknowledged her concerns but decided to proceed with the plan, stating that the benefits outweighed the potential drawbacks.

North Area Students Named OU Achievers

North Area students from Greenway High School were among the seven high school students named as OU Achievers. The OU Achievers program is designed to recognize outstanding students who are also involved in community service. These students will have the opportunity to attend OU as students and will receive scholarships. The community was proud of their achievements and looked forward to their future success.

Edmond Opt for Composter

Garbage Disposal Station

Edmond residents are opting for composters to manage their waste. To encourage this practice, the city is installing composting stations throughout the area. This initiative aims to reduce the amount of waste sent to landfills and promote environmentally friendly practices. The city also encourages residents to compost at home to further reduce their carbon footprint.
North Area Senior Centers

Downtown Tunnel Tour Set

The North Area Senior Center is planning a downtown tunnel tour in the near future. Details of the tour have not been finalized, but it is expected to be held in approximately three weeks. Participants will gather at the North Area Senior Center at 10 a.m. The tour will proceed from the center to the Civic Center, then south to the downtown area with stops at the St. Louis Mercantile Library, the St. Louis Mercantile Museum, and other historic locations. Members and visitors are encouraged to attend. The tour is free for members, but non-members may pay a nominal fee. For more information, contact the center by calling 314-555-1234.

SWS Building Name Change To Honor Former Coach

The SWS Building has been renamed in honor of former coach, Betty Sue Smith. Smith, a long-time member of the SWS community, dedicated her life to the development of the senior center. The building now carries her name, Betty Sue Smith Building, and it serves as a tribute to her contributions. The renaming ceremony is scheduled for the end of the month, and is open to the public. Attendees are invited to celebrate the occasion and honor Smith's legacy. For more information, contact the center by calling 314-555-1234.

Meteorology Uses Many Skills

As many of you may know, meteorologists use a variety of skills to predict the weather accurately. These skills include critical thinking, problem-solving, and the ability to analyze data. By understanding the complex interactions between the Earth and its atmosphere, meteorologists can make accurate predictions and provide valuable information to the public.

Home Economist Offers Tips On Home-Freezing

A home economist has offered tips on home-freezing to help keep food fresh and reduce waste. According to her, freezing is a great way to preserve food for later use. She recommends washing and drying fruits and vegetables thoroughly before freezing them to ensure their quality. She also suggests using tight-fitting containers, labeling them clearly, and freezing nutritious foods like spinach, bananas, and applesauce. By following these tips, you can enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables all year round.

Senior Adult Clinic Opens

A new senior clinic has opened in the area to provide comprehensive health services to seniors. The clinic offers services such as vaccinations, blood pressure checks, and diabetes screenings. Staff members are dedicated to providing quality care and are available to answer any questions or concerns you may have. The clinic is located at 123 Main Street, and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, contact the clinic by calling 314-555-1234.

Librarian Selected For Ellison Branch

A new librarian has been selected to lead the Ellison Branch of the North Area Senior Center. The new librarian, Jane Smith, is excited to serve the community and bring new programs and services to the center. She has a background in library science and has previously worked as a librarian at the St. Louis Public Library. The center is proud to welcome her and is looking forward to her contributions.

Tea Shop Opening This Weekend

A new tea shop is opening this weekend in the downtown area. The shop, called "Tea Time," offers a variety of teas, including green, black, and herbal teas. The shop also serves light snacks and pastries. The opening ceremony is scheduled for 10 a.m. on Saturday, and is open to the public. Visitors are invited to enjoy a cup of tea and sample the delicious treats. For more information, contact the tea shop by calling 314-555-1234.
