Authorities Fear Prison Uprising

By JOHN GILLES
The Journal

Authoritative sources at the state's correctional facilities in Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas report that the situation in the Montague State Prison is worse than any of the other facilities.

The guard on trial in Phoenix is charged with violating civil rights of inmates during the uprising. The guard, John Smith, was charged with 17 counts of misconduct.

Only one day has passed since the guard was arrested. He is being held on $100,000 bail.

The guards at the facility are said to be on high alert. The facility has been placed on lockdown.

OU Prof. Also Ship Doctor

Dr. Clyde A. Lynn, associate professor at the University of Oklahoma's School of Medicine, is in the hospital because he has been sent on a specific mission. The mission is to assist in the treatment of a patient suffering from a medical condition that requires immediate attention.

Dr. Lynn, who is also a Navy Reserve officer, was called to duty in order to provide medical care for a patient who is in critical condition. The patient is a sailor who suffered a severe injury during a specialized training mission.

Dr. Lynn's expertise in radiology and medical diagnostics is crucial in this situation. His knowledge of medical imaging and diagnostic techniques will be invaluable in determining the best course of treatment for the sailor.

Dr. Lynn's experience in naval medicine and his commitment to serving his country make him an ideal candidate for this mission. He is well-equipped to handle the challenges that come with providing medical care in a military setting.

Educator To Talk To Advisory Group

Dr. John Fugler, director of the Education Committee of the State University Board of Trustees, will speak to the Southeastern Higher Education Commission advisory committee. His presentation will focus on the current state of higher education in the region, including the challenges and opportunities faced by institutions of higher education.

Dr. Fugler's insights will be valuable to the advisory committee, as they are responsible for making recommendations to the state university board of trustees on matters related to higher education policy and planning.
