Boren Predicts Passage Of Reforms

One David Boren closed six weeks of campaigning Monday with a prediction that the Democratic candidate for governor would win.

"I don't regard this as a personal referendum," Boren said. "But I have been hearing the same question from the people over and over again. I think the people will go out and vote for what they think is right." Boren appeared to be referring to the governor's race, in which he faces Republican candidate Frank D. Keating.

Boren, who is running for a fourth term, is seeking his party's nomination in the Tuesday, July 22, 1975, primary election.

Teachers Request Federal Mediator

Smoke, no rules, no discussion, no teacher." That's the way one teacher described the scene at Oklahoma City Public Schools as they prepared to strike over the question of a federal mediator.

"I don't think there is much of a teacher-control over the curriculum, or even a decision to close a school," Boren said. "But I do think the people are saying, 'We want a chance to talk about the issues, to have a say in what happens in our schools.'"

OIL PRICE CUTS VETOED BY FORD

President Gerald R. Ford vetoed the oil price controls bill, saying it would "create a dangerous precedent for the future." The veto was signed Monday.
