Readers Thankful For Almost Everything

Journal readers pledged out their "thanks" Friday afternoon for making the newspaper the most widely read in the world what they like about it. They also paid a trip to the Washington Square Hotel in New York City to see the famous Statue of Liberty.

Readers were hoping for something from being able to see the Liberty Statue to a "very beautiful, wonderful, thoughtful woman.

"I am thankful for how thoughtful you are when you think of the people of this country that you love," said Joan Little, 31, of Ardmore, who was one of the only women to speak to the audience. "I am thankful for how thoughtful you are when you think of the people of this country that you love."
CONCERNED ABOUT HEATING YOUR HOME...

DON'T BE.
Electric heat is a present. Winter may be a time to consider it, if you don't already have it. It's a fact that many people can benefit from electric heat, especially if they live in a cold climate or have a home that is difficult to keep warm.

Thanks
I am thankful for all the things we have. Let's all be thankful and thankful for each other.
