Oil Decontrol Seen
As Soon For State

LISBON (AP) - A group of armed men entered the oil decontrol bill text in Lisbon on Wednesday, demanding its passage. The decontrol bill, which would allow oil prices to be set by market forces, has been controversial in Portugal, with some fearing it could lead to higher prices and instability. The group, which identified itself as the "Reds" and wore red and black clothing, stormed the Lisbon parliament building and occupied a key room. The situation remained tense as negotiations continued.

Norman Jury Probe Sought

BY NANCY GILSON

The Oklahoma Journal

NORMAN - Desperate for changes and recognition in the Norman Police Department, the Norman Citizens Committee has asked for a grand jury probe to investigate allegations of corruption and misconduct. The group cited several incidents, including a altercation involving a police officer and a citizen, as evidence of a need for external oversight.

Costumed Bandit Strikes

An unusual twist on the classic "Dress-Up" crime, the Oklahoma City Bandit, dressed in a costume, robbed banks in the city. The suspect, identified as "Bandit Bob," would don a different costume at each crime scene. Police have no leads on his identity.

Informant Says FBI Got Lie

WASHINGTON - An informant who helped the FBI uncover a $10 million fraud case has come forward to testify about the criminal network behind the scheme. The informant, a former employee of the target company, has provided crucial evidence that led to the arrests of several key figures involved in the scam. This development could expedite the legal process and bring swift justice.

Shriver Plans Race

By Joseph P. Shriver, Jr.

A new column, "Shriver Plans Race," will focus on the political ambitions of Governor Shriver. The column will analyze his campaign strategies, track his progress in the polls, and provide insights into his policies and political style. The first entry will discuss his decision to run for governor and the challenges he faces in the crowded field.

Invocation Leads Congress In Prayer

WASHINGTON - At the start of the new Congress, lawmakers observed a moment of silence and prayed for unity, cooperation, and the wellbeing of the nation. This traditional gesture sets the tone for the session, reminding members of their role in representing the diverse voices of the American people.

National Enquirer: Hottest Can Of Peas At Supermarket

CHICAGO, Ill. — "The latest in snacking at the supermarket is a new line of canned food from the National Enquirer, a leading national publication that specializes in providing information on all aspects of modern life," said Mr. John Doe, editor of the National Enquirer. "These new cans are filled with a variety of vegetables, and each can contains a complete meal. They are a must-have for anyone who wants to stay up-to-date on the latest food trends."

The canned food line includes a variety of vegetables, such as peas, carrots, and green beans. Each can contains a complete meal, making it a convenient and healthy option for busy people.

"We are excited to offer these new cans to our readers," said Mr. Doe. "They are a great way to stay informed and be part of the latest food trends. We are confident that these cans will be a hit with our readers and will be a staple in their grocery carts."
When you use less energy, it just naturally costs less

An efficient use of energy in your home is the secret of using less. Natural Energy Homes use less energy. Because they use both natural gas and electricity, with each doing the particular job it does best.

With clean, dependable natural gas doing the heating, air conditioning, water heating, cooking, and clothes drying, you can save up to 25 percent in total energy consumption over electricity generated from gas. And, when you use less energy, it just naturally costs less.

If you're ready to buy or build a home, choose a Natural Energy Home. It'll save energy...and save you money.

Answer Blowin' In The Wind

The government is going to spend $2 billion this year combating smoking, the largest such effort in its history. The annual price of cigarettes has dropped to 40 cents a pack, but smokers still smoke 400 million packs a year, costing $350 billion. The government's anti-smoking campaign has had less effect than a bag of potato chips.

In fact, the government's efforts have been so inept that they have actually encouraged more people to smoke. In 1963, when the government launched its first anti-smoking campaign, the percentage of smokers in the population was 42%. Today, it is 44%. The government's campaign has failed miserably.

Parts Supersede The Whole

Cutters are getting too much for their cutters. They are cutting the parts of the budget that are the whole of the government. For instance, the Department of Defense is being cut, while the Department of Commerce is being increased. This is a clear case of the parts superseding the whole.

But the whole of the government is not being cut. The budget is being increased, but the cuts are coming from the parts. This is a clear case of the parts superseding the whole.

State Editors Say National Health Care...Who Cares?

In many states, the editors of newspapers are saying that the national health care system is not worth the expense. They are arguing that the system is too complex and that the benefits are not worth the cost. They are saying that the system is not worth the expense.

The editors are correct. The national health care system is not worth the expense. It is too complex and the benefits are not worth the cost. The editors are correct.

Patsy Recalls Stars

By TIM DONELLY

The Washington Times-Herald Service
WASHINGTON — "I'm a very busy lady," said Pat of Kelly, "and I work hard at it," but I always try to enjoy myself. I went to see the great Frank Fay in the Palace of the Stars when I was about 12. Originally, I was a big fan of his and I always thought he was the most handsome man in the world. But I have to say, as I get older, I find myself more attracted to other men."

Kelly graduated from Bryn Mawr to become an actress, and although she was willing to make sacrifices, she never once regretted her decision. She worked with the finest directors and actresses of her time, and in fact, she is credited with being the first actress to receive an Academy Award for Best Actress.

"The fire chief said, 'You know, to get me on the screen, you'll have to buy me a new suit.' I'm not sure if that's true, but I do remember him saying that he was going to buy me a new suit when I was about 12."

Kelly loved to travel and went to see the world. She was a great lover of art and was often seen at the Louvre and other museums. She even had a collection of paintings and other art pieces.

"The reason I love acting is because it's a way to escape from reality. I've been to places I've never been to in real life."

Kelly was a great friend to many stars of her time, including William Powell, Fred Astaire, and Ginger Rogers. She worked with many famous directors, including Frank Capra, who directed her in "It Happened One Night," and Billy Wilder, who directed her in "The Best Years of Our Lives."}

Groucho On TV? You Bet Your Life!

Trevor and Agnes Tweedie are about to hold the rehearsal and find themselves in a dilemma. They are planning to rehearse a famous old show, "You Bet Your Life," and they are having trouble finding the right characters to play the starring roles. The show is about a man named Groucho Marx, who is a talk show host. The characters they plan to play are Groucho Marx and George Burns.

Groucho Marx

The Washington Post News Service (W.P.N.S.) says that the show is about to go into production. Agnes Tweedie, who plays Mrs. Tweedie, is objsd about the role of Groucho Marx. She is concerned about how to portray the character and worried about whether the audience will understand the show. She is worried that the character will be too difficult to play and that the audience might not be interested in watching the show.

George Burns

Trevor Tweedie, who plays Mr. Tweedie, is also concerned about the role of George Burns. He is worried about whether he can deliver the lines correctly and whether the audience will understand the character's humor. He is also concerned about whether the audience will be interested in watching the show.

Questions:

1. How big a piece of the show do you think you will be able to do?
2. Do you think personal appearances fit in at all of the performances you are planning?
3. Do you think the audience will react favorably?
4. How many performances do you estimate you will be able to do?
5. Do you think the audience will be interested in watching the show?

Answers:

1. I think we can do a whole hour of the show.
2. Yes, I think personal appearances fit in at all of the performances we are planning.
3. Yes, I think the audience will react favorably.
4. I think we can do at least 10 performances.
5. Yes, I think the audience will be interested in watching the show.

Cerberus' Belly Button Survives Family Hour Restrictions

KOFM's Lois Johnson says women are keeping themselves from becoming radio disc jockeys.

Nancy Gilson

Jockey Shortage

By NANCY GILSON

Frasco Witter

I was never very fond of the idea of being on the radio with my older brother when we were kids. We always tried to keep a distance, but my brother would always try to get me to join in. "Hey, Si, why don't we do a show together?" he would say. "We could make it fun!"

"I don't think so," I would reply. "I just don't feel comfortable being on the radio with my brother."

Despite my protests, my brother continued to push me to join him on the radio. He would always come up with new ideas for shows and try to convince me that it would be a lot of fun. "It's just a little show," he would say. "We can do it on weekends."

Finally, I gave in and agreed to join him on the radio. To my surprise, it turned out to be a lot of fun. We had a good time doing the show together and it became something we both looked forward to every weekend.

Once she became accustomed to being on the radio with her brother, Lois Johnson says she was surprised to find that she actually enjoyed it. "I think it was just a matter of getting used to the idea," she says. "I realized that it was actually a lot of fun and that I was really enjoying myself."

Johnson says she has since gone on to become a successful radio disc jockey and that she is very grateful for the experience she gained while working with her brother.

Dorin says audience projections suggest women are willing to join the ranks.

Tina Ritter

Good News for Women

In our society today, we see a lot of pressure on women to conform to certain standards and expectations. Many women feel as though they have to fit into a certain mold in order to be accepted. However, Dorin says that this fear of being judged is becoming less common as we move into the 21st century.

"Women are becoming more confident and are no longer afraid to be themselves," she says. "They are starting to speak out and fight for their rights. This is a great thing to see and I believe that it will only continue to grow stronger as we move forward."

Parade Of Homes Beckons

The parade is better than ever when you see a parade of homes in Tinker Country. The Tinker Country Association of Home Builders has planned a parade in conjunction with the dedication of a new shopping center in Oklahoma City.

The parade will feature homes from the Tinker Country area, as well as other areas of Oklahoma. The parade will begin at 7:30 PM on Saturday, August 17th, at the Tinker Country Shopping Center.

The parade will feature a variety of homes, including one-of-a-kind custom homes, traditional homes, and homes in a variety of styles. The homes will be decorated with colorful lights and decorations, and will be open to the public for viewing.

The parade will be a great opportunity to see the latest in home design and decoration, and to get ideas for your own home. So mark your calendars and come out to enjoy the parade!

We’re looking for people to write children’s books.

If you ever wanted to write and be published this is your opportunity.

by Francis Green

No need to wonder. There are over 150 publishers of books, 17 of which publish only children’s books. That’s over 100 magazines, all of which use fiction and non-fiction articles about children. In fact, the whole field of children’s literature is expanding rapidly and the need is great.

Getting started in this field is not difficult. There are many places to get help. The Children’s Literature Association, a division of the National Council of Teachers of English, holds regular meetings in cities throughout the country. The American Library Association’s Children’s Services Division and the Young Adult Services Division also hold regular meetings. Many libraries have special collections of children’s books and are willing to give advice.

Starting with a simple question:

What do you want children to learn from your books?

Will you be the first try?

It’s not easy to write for children. It takes a great deal of time and effort. There are many people who do it well, but it’s a difficult job. It’s important to know what you want to say and how to say it. It’s also important to know what kind of books you want to write.

Is your book ready?

Learn to write for children. Take a course in children’s literature. Learn how to write stories, poems, and non-fiction articles. Learn how to use the computer.

Once you’re ready, look for the right publisher. There are many places to send your manuscript. The Children’s Literature Association, the American Library Association, and the Young Adult Services Division all have lists of publishers.

Write your own book.

Work on your own pace. You can write at your own pace. It’s important to have a good understanding of the subject you want to write about. It’s also important to have a good understanding of how to write for children.

Michael Landon: Some Candid, Painful—And Painfully Funny—Memories

F or 16 glorious years, Michael Landon played the youngest son of an all-dude family on NBC’s long-running success, “Bonanza.” Today he’s back in another NBC hit series, “The Little House on the Prairie”—his first time in a role of a fatherless father of three daughters. He is also executive producer and writer and direct some segments. With the responsibility of a large family and the children’s ages, it is an exciting challenge. So far, the show is going well. It has won its audience and is doing very well in the ratings. It is a hit with the fans. I know they’re happy to see me back on television. Thanks to the loyal fans, I am able to continue telling the story of the Ingalls family.

Michael Landon and his wife Lynn, Landon says he’s the “best of the bunch” because “it’s the decision he’s been to do the decision.”

With the Freespirit Seamless Bra

No seams. Nophony stitched in-stitching. Just body-sculpt, body-contoured tricot cups that shape like a brassiere, not like a bra. So you can look beautiful naturally, and never obviously naked. Finesse’s Seamless soft cup bra... available in all sizes and fully padded styles. And right now you can save $2.00, too.

F W: Would you like to be in your own name?

MICHAEL: No way. Please, I don’t want to put it on the front. I don’t have the time. I’m too busy doing the things I really want to do.

F W: What do you think about the new show?

MICHAEL: I think it’s wonderful. I think it’s great. I think it’s going to be successful. I think it’s going to be a hit. I think it’s going to be a hit. I think it’s going to be a hit. I think it’s going to be a hit.

F W: Do you think you’ll change anything about the show in the future?

MICHAEL: No, I don’t think so. I don’t think I’ll change anything about the show. I’m happy with the way it is now. I’m happy with the way it is now. I’m happy with the way it is now. I’m happy with the way it is now. I’m happy with the way it is now.

What in the World!

What in the World is happening in the world of @Hollywood!? Rich Little, the man of a thousand voices, is joining Family Weekly. He's been a staple of late-night talk shows and stand-up comedy for years. But what is he doing in Hollywood? We'll have to wait and see. In the meantime, let's take a look at some of the biggest stories of the week.

On the importance of diversity in education and the Lauren Linear character (Ginger Snaps), Family Weekly asks: What does it mean to be diverse? And how can we ensure that all students have equal opportunities to succeed?

I'm a little over it in the writing world. Especially with Robert Redford, Paul Newman, and most of today's celebrities. Why? There's no emphasis on doing anything right, no, it's all about the money. You want to know why? Because the rich are so much more important than the poor. And it's no wonder that so many celebrities choose to live a life of luxury and comfort, while others struggle to make ends meet. It's not fair, and it's not right. But it's the world we live in.

The Quips and Quotes section features a variety of wise and witty sayings to brighten your day. From famous figures like Mark Twain to lesser-known personalities, there's something for everyone.

If you smoke...

We're not telling you anything you don't know when we acknowledge that a controversy about smoking exists. And since we're in the business of selling cigarettes, you obviously know where we stand.

If you don't smoke, we're not about to persuade you to start. But if you do, we'd like to persuade you to try a cigarette you'll like more than the one you're smoking now.

Vantage gives you flavor like a full-flavor cigarette. Without any where near the 'tar' and nicotine. That's a simple statement of truth.

We don't want you to misunderstand us. Vantage is not the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you can buy. It's probably the lowest 'tar' and nicotine cigarette you'll enjoy smoking.

We just don't see the point in putting out a low 'tar' and nicotine cigarette. You have to work so hard getting some taste out of it, you won't smoke it.

If you agree with us, we think you'll enjoy Vantage.
Will your health insurance pay when you DON'T go to the hospital?

Mutual of Omaha’s disability income insurance can provide benefits both IN and OUT of the hospital...

$1,200.00 A MONTH
$40.00 A DAY
when a covered sickness or injury keeps you from working.

Our figures show that you are more than nine times more likely to be out of work due to sickness or injury than you are to be out because of a hospital stay. That’s why Mutual of Omaha’s Disability Income Protection is a valuable benefit that can provide income when you can’t work. We call it the Disability Income Income Policy.

Your policy pays you an amount equal to your regular weekly income. It’s not limited by the kinds of sickness or injuries that prevent you from working. It’s your income stream when you need it most.
