CITY GETS $465,000 PLAN

The Oklahoma Journal

WASHINGcTON (UPI) -- AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Mine Workers and the General Motors Corp. have agreed to make a joint effort to reduce the current steel worker strike.

The agreement was announced today in an effort to bring an end to the 10-week-old strike. The workers have agreed to participate in a "national steel industry program" to improve productivity and reduce costs.

The agreement includes a commitment by the companies to work together to develop a comprehensive plan for industry restructuring. The companies also agreed to explore the possibility of a joint venture to produce high-performance steel.

The agreement is a result of six months of negotiations between the companies and the labor unions.

The Journal staff

The Oklahoma Journal has received a $465,000 grant from the Ford Motor Co. to help fund a project to boost grain export.

The project will focus on improving the marketing of Oklahoma wheat and other grains.

The grant is the largest ever awarded to the newspaper, and it will be used to hire additional staff to assist in the project.

The newspaper plans to use the grant to support a team of reporters and editors who will work exclusively on the grain export project.

The newspaper will also use the grant to conduct market research and develop new marketing strategies to increase the demand for Oklahoma grain.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

Second Best

There has been a lot of talk recently about the second best. I think it's a shame that we spend so much time talking about the second best. I think we should be focusing on the best.

I believe that the best is always the best. It's the best because it's the best. We should be focusing on the best, not the second best.

The Fight For Disclosure

It's been a long time since we had a fight like this. I'm glad to see that people are finally getting involved. I think it's important that people are aware of what's going on.

I believe that the public has a right to know what's going on. We need to be more transparent. We need to be more open.

Detour Spells Progress

The detour was a mistake. We should have been more careful. But it's too late now. We have to accept the fact that it's going to take longer.

Monitoring Park To Get 'Safe' Beaver Traps

CITY PARK (W. W.) - City parks Director E. L. Marly Monday said the city will return beaver traps to the park areas to prevent the destruction of the natural environment.

Marly said the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service requested the park to return the traps after receiving reports of animal deaths.

The park has been monitored by local wildlife officials who have observed beaver activity in the park areas.

The park's decision to place the traps again is aimed at protecting the beaver's natural habitat and ensuring the survival of the species.

Unwed Moms Win Abortion Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A federal appeals court Monday struck down a Louisiana law禁止 single mothers from having an abortion.

The court ruled that the law is unconstitutional and violates the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.

Unmarried mothers have a constitutional right to privacy, according to the court.
