Damages Denied To Kent Victims

CLEVELAND (AP) — The victims of the 1977 Kent State University shootings have been denied damages, a jury decided Monday.

The jury found that the university was not liable for the deaths of four students and the injuries of many more who were wounded during the May 4, 1977, incident. The university had previously offered to settle for $50,000 per plaintiff, but the plaintiffs rejected the offer.

The plaintiffs, represented by New York City-based lawyer James A. Rhodes, argued that the university was negligent in its handling of the situation.

"The university had a duty to protect its students, and it failed to do so," Rhodes said. "The university had a duty to prevent violence, and it failed to do so."
Cosmetics Support Ozone Theory

Chemists Support Ozone Theory

The ozone layer is a layer of gases in the Earth's atmosphere that absorbs most of the sun's ultraviolet radiation, which can harm living organisms. The ozone layer is formed by a chemical reaction involving molecular oxygen and ultraviolet light. When certain gases, such as chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) and other ozone-depleting substances, are released into the atmosphere, they can react with the ozone layer and destroy its ability to absorb ultraviolet radiation. This can lead to an increase in the amount of ultraviolet radiation reaching the Earth's surface, which can cause skin cancer, cataracts, and other health problems. In recent years, there has been a global effort to reduce the production and use of these substances, and many countries have signed international agreements to phase them out. These efforts are seen as crucial for protecting the ozone layer and the health of the planet.
Bilingual Elections Ordered

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - The Department of Labor is seeking to order bilingual elections for some workers in a federal court in New York City.

The move follows a decision by a federal judge in New York to order bilingual ballots for workers in a federal court.

The judge ruled that the workers, who are predominantly Spanish-speaking, should be able to vote in their own language.

The Department of Labor is seeking to enforce the judge's order, which was based on evidence that the workers were not able to understand English.

Litigation Preferred By ACT, Board Told

The American College Testing (ACT) Board of Directors has been told that litigation is preferred by the board.

The board was notified by the legal department of the ACT that it is considering litigation in a case involving the organization.

The case involves a dispute over the use of the ACT logo by a local company.

Scientists Study Possibility Of 'Planet X' Existence

The two leading scientists, Dr. John Smith and Dr. Jane Doe, have recently announced their research into the existence of a planet that could be referred to as 'Planet X'. According to Dr. Smith, the evidence for the existence of this planet is based on the analysis of data collected by telescopes from around the world. The signal of the planet's gravitational influence was detected on Earth and was confirmed by several independent teams of scientists. Dr. Doe added that the planet could be older than the Sun and might have a population of small objects that could be used as potential resources for future missions. The discovery of such a planet could revolutionize our understanding of the universe and could lead to new technologies and exploration opportunities. The implications of this discovery have been widely discussed in the scientific community, and many are waiting to see the results of further research.

People In The News

Amin's Tonsils Removed

Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton keep '69 moment in mind. The actor and actress have been married for 10 years, but their relationship has been tumultuous. Taylor has been open about her struggles with addiction, and in recent years, she has been working to get sober.

Kissinger Outshone By Taylor And Burton

Henry Kissinger was once the face of America's foreign policy, but today, he is overshadowed by the romance of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. The couple's relationship was the talk of the town in the 1960s, and their love affair was captured in several films. Kissinger, on the other hand, was involved in several high-profile international conflicts, but his legacy has been overshadowed by the personal life of these Hollywood stars.

Bypass Hearing Slated

The case of the bypass surgery patient who was accidentally given a placebo instead of the real drug has been delayed. The patient, who was scheduled to have the surgery, was mistakenly given a dummy pill, and the surgery was cancelled. The doctor in charge of the case has been suspended, and an investigation is underway.

'Casanova' Kidnapped

A man has been arrested for the recent kidnapping of a film noir classic. The man, who was known for his role in 'Casablanca,' was kidnapped and held for ransom. The police were able to quickly locate the man and rescue him from the kidnapper's lair.

Banker Arraigned

A bank executive has been charged with fraud after it was discovered that he had been embezzling funds from the bank. The banker, who was known for his financial acumen, had been working at the bank for several years, but his true motives were revealed when an audit was performed. The banker has been arraigned and is facing several charges.

OCU Coed Sets German Tour

FTZS KIES WINKS, German students, and German tourists will be getting a taste of American culture in the form of an OCU coed tour to West Germany. The tour is being organized by the German Department and is being funded by the university. The coeds will be staying in small hotels and will be traveling by bus. They will be visiting the cities of Munich, Berlin, and Dusseldorf. The tour will last for two weeks and will be attended by around 20 students.

School Safety Tips Given

As part of the tour, the coeds will be given safety tips to follow. They will be told to stay in groups, to be aware of their surroundings, and to report any suspicious activity to the hotel staff. They will also be given a list of emergency contacts in case they need to call for help.
