Bread Price Traced From Farm To Store

by DON DREHER

News Services

In what appears to be the first of a series of reports on the changing economic climate, the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce has released a study on the relationship between bread prices and farm costs. The study, which was conducted by a team of economists and business analysts, reveals a strong correlation between the cost of bread and the cost of wheat.

The study found that the price of bread has increased 30% in the past year, with the majority of this increase attributable to higher wheat costs. The cost of wheat has increased 25% in the same period, due in part to a significant decrease in the supply of wheat from international sources.

The study also notes that the price of bread is likely to continue to rise in the coming months, as the supply of wheat remains tight and demand for bread remains strong.

German Car Makers Adjust To U.S. Need

by JIM RACONE

Staff Writer

The German car makers have been quick to adjust to the increased demand for European cars in the United States. In response to the growing interest in their products, several German car makers have introduced new models and expanded their sales networks in the U.S.

One of the most notable changes is the introduction of the new BMW M5. This high-performance sedan is priced at $75,000, making it the most expensive BMW ever produced. The M5 is powered by a 5.0-liter V10 engine, which produces 530 horsepower and 550 lb-ft of torque.

Another significant development is the expansion of the Audi dealerships in the U.S. Audi has announced plans to open 50 new dealerships in the next five years, bringing the total number of Audi dealerships in the country to 250.

Japan Autos Face End Of Dream Era?

by JOHN DOUGLAS

Staff Writer

The Japanese auto industry is facing a major challenge as the dream era of low-cost, fuel-efficient cars comes to an end. After a decade of growth, the Japanese car makers are now facing increased competition from American and European manufacturers.

The industry is also grappling with the high cost of research and development, which has led to higher prices for Japanese cars. As a result, some analysts predict that the Japanese car makers may need to restructure their operations to remain competitive.

Bread Price Traced From Farm To Store

In the News

F. W. Plowman, a farmer from Oklahoma, spoke about the high bread prices. The bread price increase can be traced to the high cost of flour and other ingredients. The processor, however, is also a factor. The processor, a major player in the bread industry, has been raising prices due to increased costs of production. The processor's increased costs are due to rising prices of raw materials and energy. The farmer, Plowman, emphasized the need for government intervention to stabilize the bread market.

GOOD BAD GUY RETURNS TO TELEVISION

By Lawrence Kasdan

Jared Lee Lewin was a man of two faces, one good and one bad. He was a kind and gentle soul who would do anything for his family, but he was also a ruthless and deadly criminal who would stop at nothing to get what he wanted.

Once a member of the Yakuza, Lewin was imprisoned for a crime he did not commit. After his release, he was hired by a powerful corporation to help them take down their rivals. This corporation was run by the evil Mr. Black, who wanted to control the city.

Lewin was able to use his skills to infiltrate the corporation and gather information, but this led him down a dark path. He found himself drawn into a world of crime and violence, where he had tochoose between his loyalty to his family and his duty to protect the city.

In the end, it was Lewin's own family who stood against him. They saw the danger he was in and tried to talk him out of it, but it was too late. Lewin was forced to make a choice, one that would change his life forever.

HUNTING - SPORT OR SLAUGHTER?

By Sander Vangus

Washington - In the early evening of "All in the Family" on CBS this fall, Archie Bunker will see his friends in whom he has always admired and with whom he spent many happy hours. Still, he will be watching a movie and there is no indication that he will be watching "All in the Family." A few months ago, when he was watching a news program on ABC, he remarked that he didn't understand why people would want to watch a movie when they could read a book.

"All in the Family" is a new show on ABC that has been described as a "family soap opera." It is about a family that lives in a small town and has to deal with all the problems that come with being a family. The show is about the different ways that people cope with these problems and the ways that they learn to live with each other.

"All in the Family" has been controversial because of its portrayal of race and ethnicity. Some people have said that it is not realistic to portrait black and white people living together in this way. Others have said that it is important to have these kinds of stories told on television.

"All in the Family" has been a ratings success for ABC. It has been nominated for several awards and has won some. It has also been a hit with advertisers, who have paid a lot of money to have their products advertised on the show.

"All in the Family" has been a controversial show. It has been accused of being unrealistic and not realistic to portray black and white people living together in this way. Others have said that it is important to have these kinds of stories told on television.

Can’t Take ‘Country’ Away From Atoka

Country singer was feeling just fine. The song that Factor had written and recorded for the movie, 'Country,' was released recently and has been a big hit. The singer had been in the studio for months, working on the album, and he was thrilled with the results. He was ready to start touring to promote the album, and he couldn’t wait to see how the audience would react.

Art Instructors Named

When your instructor and a companion ride in your car, it’s not unusual to see them talking. Sometimes they’ll discuss their art, other times they’ll chat about the weather. But one day, a conversation took place that was a little different. The instructor, who was known for her innovative techniques, was discussing the importance of light and shadow in art. Her companion, who was a student, was intrigued by her ideas. They spent the rest of the ride talking about the beauty of light and how it can change the way we see the world.

‘Archie’ Shifted By Network

The popular TV show, 'Archie,' has been on the air for many years. But now, the network that airs it is shifting it to a different time slot. The move has caused some controversy, as fans of the show have mixed feelings about it. Some are happy about the new time slot, as it gives them a chance to see the show without having to miss other important things in their day. Others are not so happy, as they feel that the show is being given less attention and respect.

Movies on TV

This week, there are several movies on TV that you might want to check out. 'The Great Gatsby,' directed by Baz Luhrmann, is a new release that has been getting a lot of attention. 'The Hunger Games,' the latest in the popular book series, is also on TV this week. And '12 Years a Slave,' a powerful drama about slavery in the U.S., is being shown as part of a special series on the history of slavery in America.

Can Jealousy Possibly Be an "Obsolete" Emotion?

By Joseph Simon

Recently, a young woman, whom I shall call "Daisy," told me about her breakup. I was told that they had been together for two years, and that the relationship had ended on amicable terms. However, it was clear that Daisy was experiencing intense feelings of jealousy and insecurity.

"My ex-boyfriend is in love with someone else," she exclaimed. "I can't help but feel jealous every time I think about it." I tried to reassure her that it was normal to feel this way, but she seemed convinced that her jealousy was a sign of something deeper.

Jealousy, as an emotion, has been studied extensively in psychology and sociology. It is often described as a negative emotion that arises when we perceive a threat to our sense of control over another person, particularly in intimate relationships. Jealousy can be triggered by a variety of factors, including perceived infidelity, unfaithfulness, or a perceived lack of commitment from the partner.

Daisy's case illustrates how jealousy can manifest in different ways. In her case, it was characterized by anxiety, fear, and a sense of loss. She was afraid that her ex-boyfriend might be happy with someone else, and that she would be left feeling rejected and insignificant. She also felt a sense of guilt for not being able to trust her ex-boyfriend, even though she knew it was his right to be happy.

There is no quick fix to jealousy. It requires time, effort, and self-reflection. Daisy's case highlights the importance of addressing and managing jealousy in healthy ways. In the end, Daisy was able to come to terms with her feelings and move on.

"I'm not going to let my ex-boyfriend beat me at my own game," she said with newfound determination. "I'm going to work on myself and be the best version of myself for my future partner."

Is there an answer to the smoking question?

Should people smoke? They've been battling that one since the smoking controversy started. Smokers have an answer. Non-smokers have another answer. And the critics of smoking think they have all the answers.

But arguing whether people should or shouldn't smoke isn't going to change anything. The reality is that people do smoke. And they will continue to smoke. No matter what anyone says.

So perhaps a more realistic question would be: what should a smoker smoke? If some smokers don't want to give up smoking yet find themselves concerned about 'tar' and nicotine, then the critics could well recommend that they switch to a low 'tar' and nicotine cigarette. Like Vantage.

And if some of these smokers prefer a menthol cigarette, then the critics could suggest that they switch to a low 'tar' and nicotine menthol. Like Vantage Menthol. Vantage Menthol offers smokers all the cool, refreshing flavor they could ever ask for. And at the same time gives them the substantial cur in 'tar' and nicotine they may be looking for.

Now Vantage Menthol isn't the lowest 'tar' and nicotine menthol around. But anything lower probably compromises the flavor.

So if you smoke a menthol cigarette, we're not going to argue whether you should or you shouldn't. The fact is you do.

And if you want to do something about 'tar' and nicotine, Vantage Menthol could be one answer for you to consider.

MAILMAN QUOTES: The reason why.

For all 12 your (cigarettes), we con- sidered the idea of a mailman's daily routine. He's got to make his rounds, deliver the mail, and still find time to smoke. So we asked ourselves, "What is a mailman's daily routine?" We found that he has to make sure he delivers the mail on time. We also found that he has to deal with customers who may be in a hurry. We concluded that this is a busy life, but one that is not without its pleasures. We discovered that the mailman is a social creature, and he enjoys spending time with his friends. We also found that he has to be organized, and he has to be able to multi-task. We concluded that this is a life that is not without its rewards.

Saratoga 120's.

Introducing the Saratoga idea

Enjoy smoking longer without smoking more.

Saratoga 120's.

That's the Saratoga idea.

More puff than 100's. Tailored longer and thinner than 100's, so you enjoy extra smoking time, extra smoking pleasure, without smoking more cigarettes.

Priced no more than 25% more than 100's. And Saratoga 120's are rich, flavorful cigarettes made from a fine blend of tobaccos.
