Lookalike Denies He's D.B. Cooper

By TERRY MAZIN
The Washington Post

The FBI is investigating whether a lookalike Venezuelan named Jose Martinez posed as D.B. Cooper in a Thanksgiving Day heist. Martinez posted a photo on Facebook that the FBI says is "consistent in all appearances" of the real Cooper. The FBI has asked for the public's help in finding Martinez, who has been reported to be in South America.

Truth About Bankruptcy

The people who say that all bankruptcy does is rob the creditors of their money are missing the point. The bankruptcy laws were put into effect to provide a way for individuals and businesses to get out of debt without having to declare bankruptcy. The idea is to provide a fresh start for those who are struggling financially. It's a way to get back on your feet and start over.

We need to be realistic about the fact that bankruptcy can be a good thing. It can help people get their lives back on track and move forward. The idea is to give people a second chance, not to put them into a endless cycle of debt.

The PEOPLE'S Voice

Urgent

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my concern about the current state of education in our community. The quality of education is declining, and we need to take action to improve it. The teachers are overworked and underpaid, and the students are not getting the education they need to succeed in life.

Sincerely,

William F. Buckley

Our Carol In Panama

Harriet Van Horne

The Errant Errand

On my recent trip to Panama, I had the opportunity to visit a small town called Chiquibul. The town is known for its beautiful scenery and its rich history. While there, I met a local woman named Maria who was kind enough to show me around.

She told me about her family's history and about the traditions and customs of the area. It was a wonderful experience, and I learned a lot about this place that I had never heard of before.

Energy Top Issue In Survey

Sylvia Porter

Proving Your Need For Aid

I recently conducted a survey on the need for energy aid in our community. The results showed that a significant number of people are struggling to afford energy costs. Many families are having to choose between paying for food and paying for the lights.

It's clear that we need to take action to address this issue. The government needs to provide more funding for energy assistance programs and work with utilities to offer more affordable rates.

Giants Doused Dan's Summer Plans

The Giants came back to New York on Monday night after a 2-1 trip to San Francisco, 2-1 to San Diego, and 2-1 to Dallas. They had to arrange for a rousing party for the fans at Giants Stadium. But the fans didn't care about that. They wanted to know the status of quarterback Dan Fouts, and if the Giants can win their next two games. Fouts is recovering from a knee injury he suffered in the game against the San Diego Chargers.

They’re ‘Just Friends’
Judge Blistered

By LARRY CANNON
Of The Journal Staff

Oklahoma County American District Judge Carl Grubert is a stringing four-page letter Monday against his fellow judges. "I speak to a closed shop spirit which engenders hate among some for one," Grubert said.

Grubert was one of 15 of the county's 123 circuit, municipal and probate court judges who were interviewed by The Journal Friday. The interviews followed a recent meeting of judges in which a new policy was adopted requiring all judges to submit their cases to a central office for screening.

Grubert said the judges thought the policy was an attempt to control their work and that it was a breach of the judges' powers.

"There was a lot of hate in the letter," Grubert said. "It was directed at some of the other judges, but not all of them."

Quarrel Sparked Sisters' Slaying?

By STEVE BEHRENS

The South Dakota Supreme Court has reversed a decision that had found a man not guilty of murdering his wife and two daughters.

The court said the jury did not have enough evidence to support the verdict.

"We do not believe the evidence was sufficient to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt," the justices wrote in their decision.

The Ohio Supreme Court had found Lyle preservation in the cold case of a woman who disappeared in 1975.

"We have reviewed the record in this case and find that there is no evidence to support a finding of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt," the justices wrote.

Ford Slates Veto Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford's veto of Congress' bill to continue a nuclear freeze treaty with the Soviet Union, was vetoed by the House on Tuesday. The veto was the first for the budget since 1949.

"I am disappointed that the bill failed to pass," Ford said. "I believe in a nuclear freeze, but I also believe in the American people."
