'Look, Madame, No Seams' On Parisian Dresses

French Couture 'Lavish'

By SHELLEY GRANBURY

THE STYLE of the Parisian woman is as sumptuous as her couture. A grandeur that is timeless, a sleek silhouette that is contemporary. A Parisian chic that is both elegant and edgy.

The Parisian woman wears it all: the flowing gowns of Dior, the avant-garde designs of Yves Saint Laurent, the edgy elegance of Jean-Paul Gaultier, and the timeless beauty of Chanel. Her style is a blend of tradition and modernity, a reflection of her unique personality.

A Parisian woman is not just any woman; she is a woman of style. She knows how to dress for every occasion, from a formal event to a casual outing. She chooses her attire with a sense of sophistication and panache.

'Concorde' May Make U.S. Touch-Down In '76

By JOSEPH M. BAUMANN

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Washington Redskins, a team that has never before played in the Super Bowl, are one point away from making history. With a victory over the Dallas Cowboys on Sunday, the Redskins could become the first NFL team to win the Super Bowl.

The Redskins, who have been in the division since 1937, have never won a Super Bowl. However, they have been a competitive team in the NFC East, finishing in the top four in the division in four of the last five seasons.

The Redskins' success can be attributed to their strong defense, led by linebacker Ken Norton. Norton, who was a key member of the 1972 Oakland Raiders Super Bowl team, has been a leader on the Redskins' defense for several years.

The Redskins' offense has improved significantly this season, with quarterback Joe Theismann leading the way. Theismann, who has thrown for more than 4,000 yards in each of the last two seasons, has been a key factor in the Redskins' success.

If the Redskins win on Sunday, they will become the first team to win the Super Bowl in their first appearance. The Redskins' victory would also make them the first team to win the Super Bowl in the 1976 season.

Don't Run From Reruns

Concerned from F.A.D.

In the FASDA (Federation of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse) of Oklahoma, a panel of experts discussed the rebirth of the "broken home" in Oklahoma. The "broken home" is defined as a home that has been disrupted by the death, divorce, or desertion of a parent. The panel included Dr. Jane Struck, Dr. Robert White, and Dr. John Brown. Dr. Struck emphasized the importance of early intervention and support for children living in broken homes. She suggested that schools and communities should provide resources and support to help children and families recover from the trauma of a broken home. Dr. White discussed the long-term effects of growing up in a broken home, including increased risk of substance abuse, depression, and other mental health issues. Dr. Brown introduced the concept of "resilience" and how it can help children and families overcome the challenges of a broken home. The panelists concluded that while the "broken home" is a significant issue, it is possible to provide support and resources to help children and families heal and thrive.

BILLY ROSE

Billy Rose sold Europe in 1360 words.

He was an artist, and the only one who could sell the entire continent in such a short time.

When he was asked how he did it, he said, “I told them about the art.”

Not even the greatest salesmen in the world could do that.

HARRY KATZ

Harry Katz sold New York in 75 words.

He was a real estate agent, and he sold the whole city in less than a minute.

When he was asked how he did it, he said, “I told them about the real estate.”

Not even the greatest salesmen in the

world could do that.

HENRY J. KAISER

Henry J. Kaiser sold the United States in 18 seconds.

He was a businessman, and he sold the whole country in less than a minute.

When he was asked how he did it, he said, “I told them about the economy.”

Not even the greatest salesmen in the world could do that.

ANOTHER GUY

Another guy sold the world in 2 seconds.

He was a philosopher, and he told everyone that the world was perfect.

Not even the greatest salesmen in the world could do that.

400,000 volunteers in two years. But the big news is the kind of people coming in.

Today’s Army is getting a unique view of today’s young people.

In the last two years, without the draft, over 400,000 young Americans have chosen service in the Army. As a result, the Army today stands at full authorized strength and is, in fact, ahead of schedule for fielding 16 ready divisions.

Not only are the numbers impressive, but so are the people. 56% of them have completed high school, 16,000 have some college behind them, and they’ll be able to continue their educations while in the Army.

According to commanders in the field, today’s young volunteers are making a positive impact on the older soldiers. They’re looking for personal challenge, and getting it. They’re at an age when they want to test themselves, and they’re doing it. In return for responsibility, opportunity, and adventure, they’re giving 100% to the job of soldiering.

It’s a good situation, and getting better. And perhaps not so surprising when you consider what today’s Army has to offer:

- We start a young soldier at $34,430 a month with a raise to $38,320 in just four months.
- For those who qualify, there are over 200 specific job-training courses to choose from.
- Most of these courses develop skills that can be used in civilian life.
- The opportunities to continue a formal education are varied and extensive. We have soldiers who go on to complete high school. Soldiers who start and finish college. And some who even acquire advanced degrees.

Today’s Army is better than ever. Today’s Army is stronger than ever. Today’s Army is more efficient than ever. Today’s Army is ready to serve.

For more information on opportunities in today’s Army, call 1-800-523-2000 or visit the nearest Army Recruiting Office.
