National Briefs

Jury Acquits Pat Swinton

New York City — Justice E. A. Hively, the Brooklyn judge who convicted Pat Swinton on a charge of having aided and abetted in the murder of two men in 1943, ordered his release today after the jury that convicted him voted to acquit him on three counts.

Oil Control Extension Approved

Washington — Congress overwhelmingly approved an extension of the Oil Control Act today, over the veto of President Roosevelt. The act, which has been in effect since 1943, sets maximum prices on a variety of oil products and establishes a system of regulation that has been praised by many as a model for other countries.

Senate Passes Bundy Curbs

Washington — The Senate passed a bill today to weaken the authority of the President in the conduct of foreign policy, in a vote that was 60-30. The bill, sponsored by Senator John Bundy, would require the President to consult with Congress before making any重大 decision that affects American interests.

Grain Inspector Tells Brakes

Washington — A grain inspector working for the federal government said today that some of the country's largest grain dealers were using fraudulent practices to manipulate the market. The inspector, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said that some companies were using false reports to create a shortage, driving up prices.

U.S. Trade Surplus

Washington — The Commerce Department reported today that the United States had a trade surplus of $1.2 billion in the first quarter of the year. This is the highest surplus in recent years, and comes as the country is exporting more goods than it imports.

New Deal Official Dies

Washington — Harry Hopkins, the executive director of the New Deal, died today at the age of 70. Hopkins was a key figure in the administration of President Roosevelt, and his death is expected to have a significant impact on the direction of government policy.

Weapons Bill Passed

Washington — The House of Representatives passed a bill today that would provide $5 billion for the production of military weapons. The bill, which was opposed by some Republicans, was supported by most Democrats.

Military Crash Kills 4

Pittsburgh, Pa. — Four military personnel were killed today in a plane crash near Pittsburgh. The crash occurred during a training exercise, and the victims were identified as three pilots and a technician.

Land Use Cheating Charged

Los Angeles — An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation has revealed that several land developers in Los Angeles have been cheating the government by failing to pay the required taxes on their properties. The FBI is now working with the Internal Revenue Service to bring the developers to justice.

Watergate Extension Sought

Washington — The President's Committee on Watergate has asked Congress to extend its authority for another year. The committee, which was created in 1945, monitors water pollution and has been praised for its work in protecting the nation's water sources.

Arms Request Considered

Washington — President Roosevelt, who is expected to make a major foreign policy speech today, has asked Congress to consider providing $2 billion in arms to China. The request, which has been opposed by some members of Congress, is part of the President's broader strategy of containing the spread of communism.

Ford Leaves White House

Washington — President Roosevelt, who has served four terms as President, has announced that he will not seek re-election. The President, who has been in office since 1933, has been praised for his leadership during the Great Depression and World War II.

North Carolina Gas Purchase Discussed

Raleigh — The North Carolina Public Service Commission met today to discuss the proposed purchase of the state's gas industry by a New York corporation. The commission is expected to make a decision on the matter in the coming weeks.

Open Air Press Conference

New York City — President Roosevelt held an open air press conference today in Central Park, where he answered questions from reporters on a range of topics. The President, who is popular with the public, spoke on issues such as the economy, foreign policy, and the war in Europe.

Red Badge of Courage

Aiken, S.C. — The author, who wrote the novel of the same name, discussed his work at a literary event today. The author, who has been praised for his writing, spoke about the inspiration behind his book and the importance of literature.

If You Like Plants

Hartford, Conn. — The Garden Club of America held an event today to celebrate the beauty of nature and the importance of plants. The club, which has members across the country, is dedicated to promoting the care and cultivation of plants.

Fight Inflation with a Second Paycheck

New York City — The President, who is currently on a three-day visit to Europe, is expected to speak about the issue of inflation today. The President, who has been praised for his leadership, is expected to call for measures to combat the rising cost of living.

A Goal To Shoot For

On September 28, 1976, President Carter signed a law establishing the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The legislation, which had its origins in the early 1960s, was a significant victory for those who believe in the importance of public support for the arts and humanities. The two agencies, which are funded by Congress, have been instrumental in helping to sustain and promote the nation's artistic and cultural heritage. However, despite their success, the agencies still face challenges in securing adequate funding from a Congress that is often reluctant to allocate resources to non-essential programs.

Chickasaws To Pick Chief

Dennis Allen, the Chickasaw Tribal Council's choice for the tribe's next chief, has been confirmed by the Council in a 7-4 vote. Allen, who has served as the tribe's deputy chief for the past four years, will now face the challenge of leading the Chickasaw Nation through a period of growth and development. The tribe, which is one of the largest American Indian tribes in the United States, is headquartered in Ada, Oklahoma.

State Editors Say

In the last several weeks, Oklahoma state editors have expressed growing concern about the state's budget crisis and the potential for cuts to education funding. Editors have called for increased efforts to address the state's fiscal challenges and for more transparency in the budgeting process. Some editors have also expressed concern about the state's growing reliance on federal funding for education.
