President Blasts Congress Inaction

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Ford said Wednesday that the U.S. government needs a new “energy czar” to deal with the growing crisis of oil shortages and that the oil crisis threatens the nation’s economic stability. Ford’s comments came hours after he and Congress failed to agree on a new energy policy.

“I am giving our energy czar the go-ahead to start work,” Ford said. “We need to act immediately to deal with the situation.”

Ford called for a new plan that includes a strategy to increase domestic oil production, reduce energy consumption, and diversify the nation’s energy sources.

Reagan Favored In State?

An article in the Miami Herald suggested that President Reagan may be favored in Florida, but the state’s Secretary of State, Joe Hargett, said there is no evidence to support such a claim.

Hargett said that the state’s primary elections are scheduled for November 8, and that the results will be announced on November 15.

“I do not have any information to support the idea that President Reagan is favored in Florida,” Hargett said.

Sooner’s Narrow Win

Blessing In Disguise?

By Bob Wright

CINCINNATI - The University of Oklahoma Sooners, who had been looking for a break, finally found one in the form of a 17-13 victory over the University of Missouri Tigers. The game was marred by a series of controversial calls, including a no-call on a tip drill that gave the Sooners a first down and a pass interference call on Missouri’s Mike Johnson that negated a potential game-winning touchdown.

Mizzou Rallies

The University of Missouri Tigers made a valiant effort to overcome the Sooners’ 17-0 lead, but were unable to overcome the deficit. The Tigers scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, but the Sooners held on for the victory.

Divorce Law Giving Wife Everything To Take Effect

In SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA, the Oklahoma law giving the wife everything has taken effect, but the law is not perfect. Although it is a step forward, it leaves much to be desired.

The law requires that a man must prove that his wife was the one who committed the act of adultery. This is a difficult burden to meet, and many men are killed by the law because they are unable to prove their case.

Many women are forced to live in poverty because of the law. They are not able to support themselves and their families, and they are forced to rely on the charity of others.

The law also fails to address the needs of the children. It leaves them in the care of the mother, even when the father is the one who is capable of caring for them.

Overall, the law is a step forward, but it is not perfect. It leaves much to be desired, and it needs to be improved in order to meet the needs of all of its citizens.

Book Exposes CBS, Sally Quinn

"Sally's a hot box" to Todd, who says that "she's a top, top, top, top, top, top woman." Todd isn't the only one who thinks this. Many of the men in the book are impressed with Sally's looks, and they are willing to do anything to get close to her. This includes paying large sums of money to have dinner with her at the most exclusive restaurants in New York. Todd even arranges for a private party for Sally at his home, where he invites some of the most influential people in the city. Sally is flattered by the attention and begins to enjoy herself. She is also impressed by Todd's wealth and status. However, she knows that he is just after her money, and she is not interested in a serious relationship. In the end, Todd realizes that he has been used, and he is left with nothing but a broken heart and a lot of debt.

People ask me
if I really enjoy smoking.

I sure do. And Salem Longs are why. They give me all the good cigarette taste I'm looking for. Plus Salem's fresh, menthol. And they're longer, too. That's why I enjoy smoking. That's why I smoke Salem Longs.
Some Disturbing Facts About Our "Golden Years"

By John Kelly

Many middle-aged Americans have an uneasy feeling that things are not as they should be. They are aware of the pressures of a fast-paced world, the demands of work and family, and the financial stress. But they also sense a lack of purpose and meaning in life. They are not sure what comes next.

We found that disorientation behavior was a major risk factor among the elderly. And we found more of this type of behavior among those treated for stress and depression.

The list includes:

1. More frequent trips to the doctor
2. More frequent calls to the doctor
3. More frequent visits to the hospital
4. More frequent trips to the pharmacy

And the list goes on.

Don't We All Have a Lot To Learn About Driving?

Bob Bondurant's "High Performance" Driving School Has an Answer: Yes

By Robert C. Smith
With Mike E. Van and Donald S. Wright

Y ou've just bought a new car, or maybe you've been driving for a while. Have you thought about why you're driving? Are you prepared for the responsibilities that come with driving? Here are a few things to consider:

1. Know your vehicle: Understanding how your car works is crucial. Make sure you know the functions of each part, so you can respond appropriately in different situations.
2. Be aware of your surroundings: Pay attention to your immediate environment. Always check for other vehicles, pedestrians, and cyclists before changing lanes or making turns.
3. Follow the rules: Adhering to traffic laws and regulations is essential for safe driving. Violating these rules can lead to accidents and legal consequences.
4. Stay focused: Avoid distractions such as cell phones, music, or eating while driving. Keep your attention on the road.
5. Drive defensively: Be prepared for unexpected situations. Keep a safe distance from other vehicles and be ready to react quickly.

By taking these steps, you can enhance your driving skills and ensure a safer driving experience for yourself and others on the road.
You're paying for a tune-up whether you get one or not.

Untuned cars waste 1 to 2 gallons per tankful.

Before you think, "They're just trying to sell me something," consider this:
1. 2-out-of-3 cars on the road today need tune-ups.
2. That means there's a good chance we will be talking to you. Especially if it's been 10,000 miles since your last tune-up.

A tune-up with Champion Spark Plugs can save you that one to two gallons per tankful (depending on the size of your tank). To say nothing of giving you fewer starts and better engine performance all around.

Gasoline is just too expensive to waste. To get your car back in tune, take it to your mechanic and say "Fill 'er up with Champions." Then you won't have to say "Fill 'er up with gas" nearly as often.

Fill 'er up with Champions.

Now, a blunt promise by an eminent dermatologist:

You can make your face look as though time was running backwards!

Installed by an eminent dermatologist (see his word-for-word statement below) now, you can literally make your skin look younger, and younger! You see, the skin of the face is a living organ, and like most organs, it follows the laws of nature. In fact, the laws of nature are the same for your face as they are for your body. Even the laws of nature are not absolute, they can be altered. And that's the key to turning back the hands of time. By altering the laws of nature. By altering the laws of nature, you can make your face look younger, and younger!
