Cups, Beans Climb Coffee Up To 25 Cents

"Brother, you sure know a lot about coffee," said Senator Albert B. Williams to his friend, Senator John D. Rockefeller. "I never knew there was a direct correlation between the price of coffee and the political climate of a country."

"Indeed, Brother," said Rockefeller. "Coffee is not just a beverage, it's a symbol of power. As the price of coffee rises, so does the influence of the coffee growers."

"That's right," said Williams. "And don't forget, coffee is also a symbol of progress. As the price of coffee goes up, so does the standard of living for the average coffee drinker."

"Yes," said Rockefeller. "And it's also a symbol of our times. As the price of coffee goes up, so does the importance of our international relations."

"I couldn't agree more," said Williams. "Coffee is a symbol of our times. And as the price of coffee goes up, so does the power of the coffee growers."

"And the power of our nation," said Rockefeller. "Coffee is not just a beverage, it's a symbol of our times."

Bankers' Pressure Charged

WASHINGTON (ASSOCIATED PRESS) - A 31-year-old woman was in jail yesterday for a $50,000 debt on her credit card, but she said she had no money to pay it. She had been charged with stealing a car and using it to rent a hotel room.

"I was just trying to get by," the woman said. "I didn't know what else to do."

Frank, 31, was arrested last week for allegedly stealing a car and using it to rent a hotel room. He later told investigators that he had been living in a car for the past six months and had no place to go.

"I was just trying to survive," he said. "I didn't know what else to do."

Asa Williams, 20, died in jail last week after serving two years on a probation violation. His lawyer, Albert Green, told the court that Williams was in good health when he was arrested and that the jail's conditions were not to blame.

"I believe he died of natural causes," Green said. "The jail's conditions were not to blame."

The case will be reviewed by the state's medical examiner.

Soviet Photos Show Venus Surface Rocky, Not Sandy

With Power, Potential For Abuse

The labor union movement would seem to be a friend of the worker, but it is not always the right friend. The experienced executive of the labor union movement often resembles a salaryman with a union racketeer's tie. The executive is often overpaid, the union racketeers are often underpaid, and the organization is often run for the benefit of the union racketeers.

The American labor movement is a racketeer's paradise. The executive is often overpaid, the union racketeers are often underpaid, and the organization is often run for the benefit of the union racketeers.

The answer is to reform the unions. This is the only way to stop the racketeers. The executive is often overpaid, the union racketeers are often underpaid, and the organization is often run for the benefit of the union racketeers.

of every one of the 20,000 distinguished visitors we are expecting in our town.

Six hours a day, five days a week... they put up with wiggling, giggling, questions, answers, note passing, paper grading, homework... and still have the stamina to supervise a playground, coach a class play and cope with 50 sets of parents at the P.T.A.

Monday through Friday they're policemen, peacekeepers, philosophers, sociologists, counselors, judges.

They're those proverbial folks who reject no lucrative and less-exhausting jobs, because they think of people's children's challenges.

Their challenge is the object of more public concern than ever before in history.

Their field is great, respected, proud, urgent. Their title is Teacher.

They're indispensable, shoppers, to an immeasurable degree, of the world's destiny... they form opinions, guide minds, manufacture thoughts.

They open the door to opportunity, ignite the spirit, kindle ideals, mold manners and morals, steer careers, change character, motivate lives.

It is a job apart, all hard and demanding with standardized production impossible... for education is as individual as the individual to be educated.

They transmit accumulated knowledge and experience to build a better world and, in return, find some of the most durable of human satisfactions.

It is the vast vision of the great potentialities in young people which is, perhaps, the real basis for teacher's love affair with their profession.

That, and the sure knowledge that ignorance anywhere is a threat everywhere, that education is the world's largest hope for peace.
