Educator Urges Focus On Basics

The National Right To Farm Committee is urging farmers to focus on the basics of farming. "We need to get back to the fundamentals," said farmer John Smith. "It's not just about growing crops, it's about caring for the land and the animals." The committee is also calling for better education on farming practices and support for small farmers. "We can't just rely on big agribusinesses," said farmer Jane Doe. "We need to support our local farmers and help them succeed." The committee is holding a series of workshops and seminars to help farmers improve their skills and knowledge. "We want to empower farmers to take control of their own destiny," said farmer Bob Johnson. "It's time to stand up for our rights and the future of our farms."

Case For 'Inverted Seniority'

There has never been any question that seniority, or length of service, is a factor to be considered in the determination of who goes first in layoff situations. The problem is what happens when a number of persons were hired at the same time, or who otherwise have the same credentials.

A recent decision by the National Labor Relations Board in the South Shore Steel Corp. case (UAW vs. NLRB) is pertinent in this regard.

In a decision by the National Labor Relations Board, a number of workers were laid off in an order determined by seniority. The workers argued that this was discriminatory because they all had the same seniority.

The board ruled that the order of layoff was not discriminatory. The workers argued that this was discriminatory because they all had the same seniority.

Effects Of Default Called Dire

Albuquerque, N.M. — A home owner who has defaulted on his mortgage is typically on the hook for a large amount of money, but he also suffers other consequences that can be devastating.

The article goes on to discuss the consequences of defaulting on a mortgage, including the impact on the individual's credit score and the potential for the lender to take legal action to foreclose on the property.

Cinderella Homes

Is this the coziest room in your home?

Poor insulation in your home has chilling consequences during the winter months. It's the major cause of heat loss, wasted energy, and ultimately, high payments. Without proper insulation, water and ice form, and your home is cold and drafty. Your energy bill is often much higher than it needs to be, and your home is uncomfortable, drafty, and noisy.

This month, the U.S. Department of Energy released a report on the importance of proper insulation. The report states that proper insulation can save homeowners up to 15% on their energy bills, and can also improve the comfort and health of their homes.

3 Arrested In Vandalism

Someone is vandalizing your home with a can of spray paint. It's as if someone has been using your house as a canvas for their creativity.

We know we're not the only ones who are bothered by this. We love our homes, and we want to keep them looking their best. But it's frustrating to see someone destroying our property.

We've talked to the police, and they're on their way. They're going to get to the bottom of this and make sure that whoever did this is held accountable.

Dallas Dumped
Blazers, 3-1, Snaps Streak

ERI, Ill., Nov. 3 - The Dallas Mavericks' 18-game winning streak ended here with a 96-91 victory over the Chicago Bulls. It was the Mavericks' first game on the road since their winning streak began, and they had to overcome a 12-point deficit to win.

The Mavericks were led by forward Dave Cowens, who scored 31 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Guard Bob McAdoo added 18 points and guard Mel Daniels had 15 points and 11 assists.

The Bulls were led by forward Bill Cartwright, who had 24 points and 10 rebounds. Center Bill Russell added 15 points and 13 rebounds.

The Mavericks' loss snapped a 16-game winning streak, which was the longest in the NBA this season.

Sea Of Ratings, Critics Threaten Show

The new movie "Sea Of Ratings," starring John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara, has received mixed reviews from critics. While some have praised the film for its action and humor, others have criticized it for its predictable plot and lack of depth. The movie's box office success has been attributed to its star power and marketing campaign, rather than the quality of the film itself.

New City Art Museum's Goal Lofty

By LUCY JAYNE

The Oklahoma City Art Museum has announced its goal of becoming one of the top art museums in the country within the next decade. The museum has a talented team of curators and artists, and is dedicated to showcasing a diverse range of art from around the world.

"We want to become a destination for art lovers from around the world," said Dr. Bronson. "Our goal is to create a world-class museum that will attract visitors from all over the country and even from abroad."

The museum has already begun planning for a new building, which will be completed in 2025. The new building will feature state-of-the-art galleries, a new education center, and a new restaurant.

The museum has also launched a new website, which will feature a virtual tour of the museum, as well as access to online exhibitions and educational resources.

"We are excited to announce our new goals," said Bronson. "We are committed to providing a world-class experience for our visitors, and we are confident that we can achieve our goals with the help of our dedicated staff and volunteers."

Requiem For Beatles Hoax

By STEPHEN ROBINS WILCOX

Perhaps it's fitting, considering the Beatles' memories and legacies, that the world would remember them on a television broadcast. The Beatles, who once ruled the pop music charts, have left their mark on the world through their music and personalities. But what happens when a group of people attempt to imitate them, only to discover they are not the original? This was the case for a group of fans who tried to recreate the Beatles' sound and style in the 1990s.

The story begins in 1992, when a group of fans in England decided to form a band to recreate the Beatles' sound and style. They called themselves the Beatles and spent months rehearsing and perfecting their act. They even went so far as to wear the same outfits as the original Beatles, complete with matching suits and6 ties.

The band began playing at local clubs around London, building a following and gaining recognition as a credible Beatles tribute band. But what happened when they took their act to the United States? The answer lies in a series of events that would lead to the bankruptcy of the band.

The band's first major gig in the States was a highly anticipated event, with fans waiting in line for hours to see them perform. But when the band took the stage, the audience was left disappointed. The sound quality was poor, the lighting was dim, and the band members' performances were lackluster compared to the original Beatles.

The band tried to salvage the situation by performing a cover version of one of the Beatles' classic songs, but it was not enough to save the show. The audience booed and jeered, and the band members were left feeling humiliated and defeated.

As the band's career continued to falter, the members began to question whether they were capable of reproducing the Beatles' sound and style. They knew they were not the original Beatles, but they were determined to prove themselves as credible performers. They spent months rehearsing and perfecting their act, but their efforts were ultimately in vain.

In the end, the band's bankruptcy was inevitable. They had spent too much money on costumes and equipment, and their performances were not up to par. But even in failure, they had achieved something: they had brought the Beatles' music to a new generation, and in doing so, they had become a part of the Beatles' legacy.

Rowan and Martin's 'Report'

The news of the day is a topic of great interest to many people, and Rowan and Martin's 'Report' was a television show that covered the news in an entertaining and informative way. The show featured Rowan and Martin, two talented actors and comedians, who presented the news in a unique and engaging way.

The show's format was simple: Rowan and Martin would present the news in a humorous and lighthearted manner, often using their own unique perspective to comment on current events. They would also include interviews with guest stars, who would provide their own insights into the news.

One of the show's most memorable moments was when Rowan and Martin interviewed President John F. Kennedy, who appeared on the show to discuss the Cuban Missile Crisis. The interview was a turning point in the show's history, as it helped to solidify its reputation as a trusted source of news.

Rowan and Martin's 'Report' continued to be a popular show for many years, and its influence on television news can still be felt today. The show's legacy is a testament to the power of entertainment and education, and it remains a beloved part of television history.
Review
'Mahogany' Comedy Hit

By CLYDE MARDEN
Washington Post-Keen News Service

"Mahogany" is a responsible entertainment, a dark comedy, thoroughly pitched in a world of genteel racism, reflecting a period of American history when a black man could be considered a laughing stock for being a comic actor. "Mahogany" is a sensitive, well-crafted film that, despite its shortcomings, offers a valuable perspective on the social and cultural attitudes of the time. It is a testament to the power of cinema to challenge and illuminate our understanding of the world.

Actress

Why didn't she act like that? The sad truth is that the actress who played the part was not quite up to the task. She was miscast and at times seemed to be going through the motions. The character she played was not particularly likable, and her performance was forgettable. It's a pity that such a talented actress was not used to better advantage.

Film

"Mahogany" is a film that has aged well. Despite its flaws, it remains a significant work of cinema that offers a glimpse into a world that is both fascinating and disturbing. It is a film that challenges us to think about the way we perceive race and the ways in which it affects our lives.

"Being in Love" Versus "Having a Relationship"

When Edith Ford said recently that she "wouldn't be surprised" if her daughter became "a womanizer," the White House was immediately faced with the question of whether the President was being ineffectual in his efforts to support the First Lady. Obviously, the theme of today's young women is a sensitive issue to many Americans. In this essay, noted newspaper columnist Harriet Van Horne addresses herself to this topic of love, and often, choice, commitment.

OPINION

It is a right to question one's own nature, a spiritual 70's that we've been exploring. How do we balance love, work, family, and personal fulfillment? And what is more important—love or commitment? And how do we find the right balance? It is a complex decision with all those who share our lives, our work, our friends. It is to be noted that Harriet Van Horne's essay is a thoughtful and insightful examination of these issues. It is a must-read for anyone interested in the questions of love and commitment.

The proud smoke
Product of a proud land.

Tobacco. It's as proud a part of the American tradition as Niagara Falls. At L&M & Myers, we've made tobacco into a cigarette worthy of that tradition. The rich, mellow, distinctively smooth L&M. Smoke it proudly.

People Quiz
By John E. Gibson

True or False? Whether a person is kind or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.

TRUE OR FALSE?
A. More friendships grow from a single act than from repeated acts on the part of the person who expects a return of positive actions on the other side.
B. Whether a person is kind or easy to make friends with depends on whether the person is fat or thin.
C. The kind of relationship an individual has with another depends on the degree to which we receive our want.
D. Friends are not naturally kind.
E. If you were chosen, you'd be likely to make friends with people who are like you.
F. A person who is alone is often kind to others.

ANSWERS
1. True. People are conditioned for the feeling of enemies, of being inferior to another, of being balanced, socially by a number of things that influence the individual. These things include: the kind of relationship an individual has with another depends on the degree to which we receive our want.
2. False. Kindness is the opposite of social action.
3. False. Kindness is the opposite of social action.
4. True. People are conditioned for the feeling of enemies, of being inferior to another, of being balanced, socially by a number of things that influence the individual.
5. False. Kindness is the opposite of social action.
6. True. People are conditioned for the feeling of enemies, of being inferior to another, of being balanced, socially by a number of things that influence the individual.

Authors Who Have Shaped Our Lives

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Through his books, Dr. Peale has inspired millions of people to follow his positive thinking philosophy. His work emphasizes the power of positive thinking in overcoming life’s challenges.

Dr. Benjamin Spock

Author of "The Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care," Dr. Spock’s approach to parenting focused on empathy and understanding, challenging the traditional authoritarian approach of the time.

Dr. David Reuben

Known for his book "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex But Were Afraid to Ask," Dr. Reuben popularized sex education and helped demystify sexual topics.

Dr. George E. Vaillant

A psychologist whose work has focused on the long-term effects of early life experiences, Dr. Vaillant’s research has contributed significantly to our understanding of personality development.

Without mentioning specific page numbers, the text provides a broad overview of influential authors and their works, highlighting the impact of their contributions on society.
I don’t smoke to be like everybody else.

I smoke for taste. I smoke Winston. Winston gives me real taste and real pleasure. In my book, that’s the only reason to smoke. For me, Winston is for real.

A unique, scientific approach uses the muscle of your middle.

If you're too lazy to walk, too weak to lift weights, too busy to jog, or too tired to exercise, we have the solution to your problem: a unique, scientific approach designed to minimize the effects of growing middle-aged. By working with your body, you can achieve a leaner, firmer middle without the effort of exercise. This revolutionary technique will help you tone and firm your middle, reducing the appearance of unwanted fat and contours. A middle-aged face can be transformed into a younger-looking one with just a few simple exercises. The results are dramatic and permanent.

IF YOU DO NOTHING ELSE, READ THIS:

"When the rubber hits the road, the middle-aged face becomes a middle-aged problem," says Dr. Jonathan S. Gold, author of the new book "Middle-Aged Face". "But there's hope! With just a few simple exercises, you can achieve a younger-looking face in as little as one hour a week. Now you can look forward to a middle-aged face without the effort of exercise."

"You don't have to be a gym rat or a weight lifter to benefit from this program," says Gold. "With just a few simple exercises, you can achieve a younger-looking face in as little as one hour a week. The best part is that you can do it all in the comfort of your own home."

About the Authors:

The ELDAC and IPA are new organizations dedicated to helping middle-aged people look and feel younger. The ELDAC provides educational programs and resources to help middle-aged people achieve a younger-looking face, while the IPA offers support and guidance to middle-aged people who are struggling with the effects of aging.

The 1975 Danbury Mint Christmas Plate

Silent Night
A Limited Edition

The first in a series of fine Baranov porcelains, Christmas Plates, based on the world's most cherished Christmas Carol, to be issued annually by the Danbury Mint.

Limited edition available at original issue price only until Christmas Day, 1975, and only from the Danbury Mint. Not available to resellers.

Christmas Plates are the world's most sought-after collectible. Now, joining the ranks of the few Christmas Plates available today, is the first in its annual series of fine Baranov porcelain plates from the Danbury Mint. The Danbury Mint porcelain plate will be limited to the first 12,000 copies, and will be issued on a strictly limited basis. The original issue price is $25.00, and each plate will be presented in a gilt-edged, satin-finish box. The plate features an image of the famous "Silent Night" scene by P. T. Rowan, and is hand-painted with exquisite detail. The plate is signed and numbered by the artist, and inscribed with "1975 Danbury Mint Christmas Plate." Each plate is numbered and sealed, and will be available only at the Danbury Mint.
Talking 'Patty Prayer' Doll

Kneels and says her bedtime prayer!

Nothing to wind up—no string to pull. Whenever you want her to she says:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake,
Still bless Mommy and Daddy,
And make me a good girl.Amen!"

What a beautiful gift!

Just press her tummy and she kneels in a little girl's prayer. "Now I lay me down to sleep..." Almost 20 inches tall, she is made of durable nylon fabric. "Patty" is a miniature statue of押金, and arms are cloth-covered foam. She wears a soft washable apron tied around her waist. "Patty" is 6 years old and 9 inches tall. Order her for one special price today. Includes a bonus feature: "Patty" comes with a mini-microphone and voice recorder. Gift for the 1980s, "Patty" is a must for any girl's room. Whether she's in her own room or with her family, "Patty" will bring a smile to anyone's face. Order now for only $9.95. Ships free within the Continental U.S. and Canada. Offer expires July 1, 1984.
