BEEF TO FOLLOW PORK PRICE SLIDE

By JACK BOUSEY
Joelton Business Editor

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA - Beef producers are watching closely as pork prices remain steady for the time being. The price of beef has not changed significantly in recent weeks, and producers are hoping for a rebound in the market. The current price of beef is around $2.50 per pound, up from last month's $2.25 per pound. Pork producers, on the other hand, are facing a more stable market, with prices remaining around $1.75 per pound. The price is influenced by the supply and demand of the market, with a slight increase in demand for beef expected in the coming weeks. Beef producers are hoping for a similar increase in price as they continue to watch the market.
