Winter Storm Spreads Snow Over Oklahoma

By STEPHIE SMIAN
The Oklahoman

A strong winter storm blazed across Oklahoma Tuesday, causing travel warnings in many of the state’s southern counties as snow fell over much of the state.

Snow began falling in parts of southeastern Oklahoma early Tuesday, but by Wednesday morning, snow had spread across most of the state. The storm was expected to continue through the week, bringing heavy snowfall to some areas.

The storm caused travel problems across the state, with many roads closed and vehicles stranded. The state Department of Transportation reported widespread closures, with some areas reporting up to 10 inches of snow.

The storm also led to school closures and work delays, with some businesses closing early.

The man, who had been diagnosed with terminal cancer, was given the drug after a lengthy legal battle. The drug, which is not currently approved by the FDA, was found to be safe and effective in the man’s case.

The judge ruled that the drug was safe and effective, and that the man was not suffering from a terminal illness.

Boren Equalization, OK’d; Critics Busy

By JOHN GILLIS
The Oklahoman

The State Equalization Board voted Tuesday to increase telephone rates by 25 cents a month, starting January 1.

The vote was 4-1, with Board Chairman Fred Boren voting against the increase. Critics of the increase said it was unnecessary and that the state was already collecting too much money from consumers.

The increase will raise the rate for local calls from 25 cents to 50 cents, and for long-distance calls from 15 cents to 30 cents.

Fromm Judy Appears Split

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The jury deliberating the Marionette Fraud case, strongly indicating it was split on whether the defendants conspired to defraud investors, failed to reach a verdict Tuesday.

The trial has been going on for two weeks, and the jury has been deliberating for three days. The defendants are accused of defrauding investors by selling them shares in a company that never existed.

The judge ordered the jury to continue deliberating until they reach a verdict or fail to agree on a verdict.

Request Slashed Sharply

By JULIE JOHNSON
The Oklahoman

The state legislature has approved a request to reduce funding for a new state agency by 25 percent.

The agency, which was created to oversee the state’s energy programs, had requested $15 million in funding for its first year of operation. The legislature approved a budget that slashed the funding by $3.75 million.

The agency will now have to operate on a budget of $11.25 million, and will have to find ways to cut costs and reduce its operations.

At Least Be Consistent

The "War on Drugs" has now been going on for years, yet the problems seem to persist. The recent Supreme Court decision on the constitutionality of the刑法 for drug offenses has not brought about the expected changes. The argument against the use of such a controversial approach is that it creates more problems than it solves.

Sooners Will Be Needing Plenty Of Help To Win National Crown

Al Eischbach's column

There is a big, fat object that Michigan fans believe the Sooners will need in order to win the Big Eight and the Big Ten. That is the Sooners' defense. While it may be true that Oklahoma's defense is the best in the conference, it is not the only factor in determining the winner of the Big Eight. The Sooners' offense is also very strong, and if they can maintain their recent form, they will be tough to beat.

The Sooners have been playing great defense recently, allowing only 11 points per game in their last three games. This has been a key factor in their recent success, and if they can continue to play this way, they will be tough to beat.

On the other hand, the Sooners' offense has been struggling recently. They have scored only 12 points per game in their last three games, and if they can't improve their offense, they will be hard-pressed to win the Big Eight.

The Sooners will need to focus on both offense and defense if they hope to win the Big Eight. If they can do that, they will be tough to beat.

Bowl's A Boost To Tiger Program

by Arnold Hamilton

It is true that the Sooners have a great defense, which is why they are in the Big Eight championship game. However, if they want to win the championship, they will need to step up their offense.

The Sooners have struggled offensively recently, and if they can't improve their offense, they will have a hard time winning the championship. The Sooners will need to focus on both offense and defense if they want to win the Big Eight.

Luther will take a 15-point lead in the Class 2A football playoff game with just two weeks. Coach said Back and a strong Kansas Eight defense will stop the Sooners.

The Sooners are 7-0 in the Kansas Eight, and will play a team that is 4-3 in the conference. The Sooners have been strong on defense, but the Sooners will be up against a team that is 4-3.

Jets' Fans Just Don't Care Anymore
Nor Do The Jets

by Milton Richman, UPI sports editor

NEW YORK (UPI) - "You know what I think? It's the fans' fault. They create the demand when they show up and watch the games. The team, on the other hand, has been so poor for so long, the fans have just given up." So said a New York Jet fan at the game against the Cleveland Browns Sunday afternoon. The Jets, of course, lost to the Browns 21-0. They have lost 16 games in a row, a record for the league. The fans have given up. It's not the team's fault, it's the fans' fault. And it's the fans' fault, the fans have given up.

Ditka, who was born in Chicago, is a native son and is a proud representative of the city. He has been a vocal supporter of the Bears and has never been afraid to speak his mind. Ditka is also known for his love of food, particularly Chicago-style hot dogs. He has even been known to eat a hot dog at halftime of games.

New Penalty Keeps NHL Icers Quiet

by Tom DiRado

The New York Islanders, famously known as the Icers, were held scoreless in the third period against the New York Rangers. The Islanders were unable to capitalize on several scoring opportunities, including a power play in the final minutes of the game. Despite a strong performance by the Islanders, the Rangers were able to hold on for the win. The Islanders are now 5-0-1 in their last six games, but will need to regroup quickly in order to avoid a losing streak.
