Mandated Courses Criticized

Schools Cry 'Enough!'

BY RICHARD STONE

"The time has come for schools to begin cutting class sizes," the Omaha Journal's chief writer declared in the paper's December 15, 1975 issue.

"You must be kidding — poor kids are education.

-Dr. Jane Lindley, assistant superintendent for the public schools' teachers' union.

Every time an American teacher takes notice of some major problem, there is a clamor for the solution. The public is fed up with the current system of education and is demanding more. Public school administrators now recognize this problem. They are preparing for a new approach to education.

"Our paychecks are not being increased," she said. "We're doing our best to prepare students for the future, but we're not getting the support we need."

"We probably can't do much about it, but we're doing our best."

Stevens' Choice

Surprise

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- A Washington Post story has revealed that Robert D. Mandel, a former president of the University of Chicago, has been nominated to the Supreme Court, as has Robert Bork, a Yale Law School professor.

Stevens, 60, a former law professor, is widely regarded as a liberal. He was appointed to the court by President Jimmy Carter.

"Stevens' choice is a surprise," said a White House official. "We had thought he was going to go with a more conservative choice.""""

Stevens is a frequent critic of the Reagan administration and is known for his strong views on civil rights and environmental issues.

"Stevens is a very strong choice," said a Democratic senator. "He has a strong record on civil rights and environmental issues.""""

Stevens is expected to be confirmed by the Senate, which is expected to vote on the nomination this week.

"I'm very pleased," said a Stevens supporter. "He's a strong, strong choice.""""

Judge Kills Plug Case

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Judge Charles M. Sherlock of the Hennepin County District Court on Monday ordered the shutdown of a plug riding operation near Minneapolis. The order was the result of a federal injunction in the case of United States v. George Nelson, operator of the plug operation.

The judge, in a 50-page opinion, said that the operation was being conducted in violation of federal law and that the defendant had failed to make a sufficient showing of the constitutionality of the regulation.

We The People—5th Ordinance

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Senate has passed the 5th Ordinance, which would prohibit the use of tobacco in federal buildings. The measure was sponsored by Senator John Doe, Republican of Wisconsin.

The bill would also provide for the appointment of a national health officer to oversee the implementation of the law.

The measure was approved by a 60-20 vote. The Senate is expected to vote on the measure later this week.
