State Education

Editorial

Toward Excellence

The State Education Board will meet in Oklahoma City at 1 p.m. Monday to consider a $60 million plan to improve Oklahoma’s schools. The plan, which includes the hiring of 3,000 additional teachers, would cost the state $24 million in the first year and $44 million in the second year. The state would also provide $24 million in matching funds to school districts that agree to raise teacher salaries by 15%. The plan is expected to increase student enrollment by 15% and reduce the state’s teacher-to-student ratio from 19:1 to 15:1. The improvement is expected to save the state $83 million in the first year and $109 million in the second year. State Board members say they will consider the plan during their meeting.

Pro Results

"First of all, when you buy tires from me, you get the service who will match your tire. So I'll recommend the right tires for the way you drive. Then you get free monthly inspections and free tire rotation. And I'll check your tires any time you want."

"And everything goes wrong with these tires, you get me to back you up. You get the tire company to back you up."

"Now you tell me, what other tire store gives you all that?"

"I CAN BE VERY FRIENDLY."
