Tax Plan Not New

By RAMSY CHUVER

The Supreme Court 14 years ago approved a property tax rate despite the protests of the Reverend M. W. Johnson in a case that has resurfaced in the current legislative session. The case, known as the "Johnson Case," involved the assessment of property in God's View, a town in the state of Georgia.

In the court's order, it was noted that the Supreme Court had ruled in favor of the town, finding that the tax rate was not unreasonable. The decision was based on the fact that the town had a legitimate need for the funds, and that the tax was assessed fairly.

The case was brought by the town of God's View against the Georgia Department of Revenue, which had complained that the tax rate was excessive. The court ruled that the town had a right to impose a tax to meet its needs, and that the tax was not excessive.

The issue of property taxes has been a contentious one in Georgia, with many towns and cities seeking to increase their revenue to fund schools, public safety, and other local services. The Johnson Case set a precedent for the courts, and has been cited in many subsequent cases involving property taxes.

STILL IN THE running category. District Records featuring Rock and Roll artist "A Holiday Christmas" by Harry Belafonte, recording religious music as well as its usual pop fare, has been a favorite with audiences in the city, and its sales have been excellent, according to District Records executives.

The new format features a "special" of Christmas music, as well as a special Christmas music show, "Christmas in May." The show, which will be recorded live, will air on local radio stations.

JAZZ AND POP

A mix of jazz and pop hits, including staple rock groups such as the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, and the Who, will be featured this season.

"Jazz" is the key word, with popular jazz groups such as the Count Basie Orchestra, the Miles Davis Quintet, and the Bill Evans Trio performing.

"Pop" is also on the menu, with hits from artists such as the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, and the Who.

Inexpensive Items Can Be 'Precious'
Santa Could Use TV Set In Sleigh

When it comes to television viewing, the old-fashioned way of doing things seems to be the most popular. In fact, many people still stick to the traditional method of watching TV on a regular basis, while others prefer to watch their favorite shows on a computer or a smart phone.

PORTABLE CHRISTMAS

Portable Christmas is a good time to enjoy watching TV sets or get a new one for the kitchen or backyard. Today’s improved technology means you can get more for your money. You can still watch TV in the open or in the sun. You can also use it as a computer or a game console.

Partridge In A Pear Tree

On the Twelfth Day of Christmas
My true love sent to me,
Twelve drummers drumming,
Eleven pipers piping,
Ten lords a-leaping,
Nine ladies dancing,
Eight maids a-milking,
Seven swans a-swimming,
Six geese a-laying,
Five golden rings,
Four calling birds,
Three French hens,
Two Turtle Doves,
And a partridge in a pear tree.

DON'T FORGET...it's the Twelfth Day of Christmas.

Camera Helps 'Document Season'

Supplementary your collection of snapping from house to house with your own picture of the season. For your own personal enjoyment, record it on a film. On the back of the picture you can write information you might want.

There is an easy way to decry one's photo album. One simply points to a photograph and says, "That's the tree I saw on Christmas Eve."

Dial settings can be similarly inscribed on film, and can't keep your one idea — just because you've done it yourself — doesn't mean you'll never be able to remember it several years hence.

FLORAL ARRANGEMENTS that are beyond the scope of your own abilities are simple to make with the help of this Christmas edition of "Floral Arranging." The arrangement, the picture is suitable for a Christmas setting.

If there is a young member of the family who makes a special effort to get up a snowman, take some pictures of the effort in action. Be sure to wash the snowman with soap and water after the shoot, then reassemble the snowman with a special snowman-shoe to keep the snowman in place. Then give the snowman a good hiding to keep it safe from injury.

And a portable guide to everything from a hope, a heart, a voice, a face, a body, a hand, and a foot. Recipes. When you are making your Christmas cookies or pies, or making your Christmas dinner, the recipe, take some step-by-step pictures of you at work.
