Bring Back Railroad

The proposal for a new railroad could provide many benefits for the community. Although there have been some concerns raised about the cost and potential impact on the environment, the overall benefits make it a worthwhile investment. The new railroad could help to reduce traffic congestion and improve the economy. It is important that we continue to support this initiative.

The Iranian Trials

NEW YORK CITY - As a result of their political actions, Iran has been facing international sanctions and economic pressure. The situation in Iran is currently tense, and there is concern about potential human rights violations. The United Nations has called for Iran to respect the rights of its citizens and to cooperate with international organizations. It is crucial that we monitor the situation closely and support efforts to resolve the conflict peacefully.

In Bad Taste

It seems that the trend of bad taste is now mainstream. It makes me wonder if we have lost our sense of judgment and respect for our culture. I believe that we need to revisit our values and traditions to maintain a healthy society.

Buckeyes’ Bruce Says
USC Deserves To Be No. 1

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Ohio State quarterback Brice McCain said it — USC deserved to be No. 1. And no one was more surprised than the Buckeyes.

"I'm just a kid from Ohio State," McCain said. "I don't know if I've ever been to USC. I don't know if I've ever been to Southern California. But I know that USC is a great team. They deserve to be No. 1."

McCain's words echoed those of Ohio State coach Brian Kelly, who also spoke highly of USC after the Buckeyes lost to the Trojans in the national championship game.

"We knew going into this game that USC was going to be a tough challenge," Kelly said. "They have a lot of talent on offense and defense. They have a lot of experience. They have a lot of weapons. We just didn't have enough firepower to get it done."

The loss was a bitter pill for the Buckeyes, who had entered the season as the No. 1 team in the coaches' poll and were hoping to win their third national championship in four years.

"I don't know if I've ever been to USC," Kelly said. "I don't know if I've ever been to Southern California. But I know that USC is a great team. They deserve to be No. 1."

The Buckeyes will now have to regroup and prepare for their upcoming games. But for now, they can only look back at what could have been.

"I don't know if I've ever been to USC," Kelly said. "I don't know if I've ever been to Southern California. But I know that USC is a great team. They deserve to be No. 1."

Prep stars awaiting All-State selections

More on the selection of All-State football players.

There was no easy decision when it came to the selection of All-State football players. The task was made more difficult by the quality of the players from all four divisions. In each division, there were at least 10 candidates who could have been considered for the honor.

The first division was the hardest to decide. The players were so skilled and accomplished that it was difficult to choose the best. However, in the end, we decided to go with the player who had the most impact on his team and the league as a whole.

Improper pruning death sentence to trees, shrubs

By Hugh Shriver

Imperative pruning is not as versatile as it appears. Many people think that all they have to do is remove dead branches and trim the tree to give it a smooth, rounded shape. The truth is, there are many other things that can be done to improve the health and appearance of your trees and shrubs. Improper pruning can ruin a beautiful tree or shrub. The following are some common mistakes to avoid when pruning:

1. Prune too much: Removing too much growth can stress the plant and cause it to die back. It is better to remove only the dead or diseased branches.

2. Prune at the wrong time: The best time to prune most trees and shrubs is in the late winter or early spring. Pruning in the fall can cause problems with disease and pests.

3. Prune in the wrong place: Pruning too close to the trunk can cause problems withろう根 growth and may even kill the tree.

4. Prune too vigorously: Pruning too vigorously can damage the plant and cause it to become weak and susceptible to disease.

5. Prune too infrequently: Pruning too infrequently can cause the plant to become too large and difficult to maintain.
