Key Witness’ Credibility Hit In Trial Of Ex-DA

Kirksey Nix Jr. Seeking Parole

By Kerry Kelly

OKLAHOMA CITY — Defense attorneys for ex-District Attorney Kirksey Nix Jr. sought in a last-ditch attempt last week to save Nix from a 40-year prison term for his role in a payroll corruption scandal that led to two convictions in 1977.

The appeals court in April reversed the convictions of Nix along with that of former state Sen. John G. Faxon, and said both should be tried again on the 1977 payroll kickback charges.

Nix has been in prison since he was convicted of malfeasance in office and other charges last October. A jury found him guilty of seven counts of kickback and a related kickback conspiracy, as well as other offenses.

American reports and photographs of the 250,000-strong invasion, during a news conference in Tehran yesterday by Foreign Minister Neguib Shawqi, who has announced that the war will be continued.

Shawqi added that the American soldiers had been given the order to leave the country by Friday. The US military said that the soldiers would be withdrawn in two weeks.

"Any country which is under the control of the United States," he said, "will have to bear the consequences of the war." He added that the invasion had been planned for three months.

"This report is an absolute lie," the American embassy said. "We are not in control of any country. We are not making any decisions. We do not have any influence over any country.""

Afghan Rebels Claim Big Victory

The Afghan rebels claimed a major victory in a fight against the Taliban, their main opponent, in the north of the country. The battle, which lasted for several days, resulted in the capture of several key positions and the destruction of a large number of Taliban forces. The rebels were supported by the United States and other international forces, while the Taliban were backed by forces aligned with the government of Pakistan. The fighting left many civilians displaced and a large number of casualties on both sides.

Mexico Buys U.S. Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) - Mexico has agreed to buy large amounts of U.S. grain, a major victory for American farmers. The deal, which is expected to generate billions of dollars in new business, is seen as a sign that the two countries are working together to promote trade and economic growth.

Kennedy Party Pelted With Eggs

The John F. Kennedy Memorial Committee hosted a party to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the President's assassination. However, the event was marred by a group of protesters who threw eggs at the attendees, causing a disturbance. The committee later apologized for the incident and vowed to improve security for future events.

Hostage Seeks U.S. Action

A former hostage has called on the United States to take action against the country from which he was held captive. The former prisoner has said that the government of the country in question has failed to address the issue of hostage-taking and has left him and other hostages with no options. He has called on the United States to use its influence to ensure that hostages are treated fairly and that their rights are respected.
Bridging The Nutrition Gap...

Americans Suffer From Poor Eating Habits

GALVESTON, Tex.--Although Americans are turning to home cooking, slowly the tide of fast-food eating habits and poor nutrition continues to erode the average American's diet on both macro and microscopic levels. Physicians, nutritionists, and health officials blame the rapid growth of fast-food restaurants and the convenience of prepared meals for the increase in obesity, heart disease, and other diet-related illnesses.

The problem is that Americans are not eating well. The latest report from the American Dietetic Association states that only 20% of Americans eat the recommended five servings of fruits and vegetables per day. This is down from 25% in 2000. The report also notes that the average American consumes 1,000 calories more than the recommended daily intake.

Fourth In A Series

In recent years, the focus on nutrition has shifted from macro nutrients to micronutrients. Micronutrients are essential for optimal health and can be found in a variety of fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. However, the balance between macronutrients and micronutrients is crucial for good health.

The report concludes that, while Americans are consuming more fruits and vegetables, they are not consuming enough of them to meet their daily requirements. The average American consumes only 0.5 cups of vegetables and 0.3 cups of fruit per day, compared to the recommended 2.5 cups of vegetables and 2 cups of fruit.

The report also highlights the role of fast-food restaurants in the decline of nutritional intake. Fast-food restaurants offer high calorie, low nutrient meals that are often consumed in large quantities. This can lead to weight gain and other diet-related illnesses.

The American Heart Association recommends that individuals eat a diet rich in fruits, vegetables, and whole grains, and limit their intake of saturated and trans fats. The report calls for increased education and awareness about the importance of a healthy diet.

Snake's In Basement!

Dear Heloise:

My basement has a big snake in it. What can I do to get rid of it? I'm scared!

Lola, Va.

Dear Lola:

Don't worry, snakes are not aggressive creatures. They will only attack if they feel threatened. If you find a snake in your basement, simply call a professional pest control service. They will safely remove the snake from your home.

Sincerely,

Heloise

A Matter Of Legitimacy

By ROBERT G. KAISER

In the days before the Internet, the issue of legitimacy was decided by the community. Today, it is decided by the marketplace. The market has its own way of deciding what is legitimate. It rewards those who have the best ideas and the best products. It penalizes those who have the worst ideas and the worst products.

For many years, the Bush family has been associated with honesty and integrity. President George H.W. Bush was known for his integrity. He was a leader who stood by his principles. He was a man who was true to his country.

However, in 1998, the Bush family was embroiled in the Iran-Contra affair. This was a scandal that involved the sale of weapons to Iran in exchange for the release of American hostages. The family was accused of having a financial interest in the sale. The family was also accused of having a financial interest in the sale of weapons to the Contras in Nicaragua. The family was accused of having a financial interest in the sale of weapons to the Kurds in Iraq.

These accusations were damaging to the family's reputation. They were damaging to the country's reputation. They were damaging to the world's reputation.

The family was forced to step down. The country was forced to change. The world was forced to change.

Ex-Man Gets Unemployment Pay

JANUARY 16, 1992

A man who was laid off from his job in 1991 has received unemployment pay for the first time. The man, who had been working as a construction worker, was laid off from his job due to a downturn in the economy. The man was able to receive unemployment pay because the state where he worked had implemented a new program.

The program, which was implemented in 1990, allows unemployed workers to receive unemployment pay for a longer period of time. The program was designed to help workers who were laid off due to a downturn in the economy.

The man who received unemployment pay was grateful for the program. He was able to pay his bills and support his family during a difficult time. He was able to find a new job and begin a new career.

Edwards Plans To Push Construction Of Bomber

FIFTH DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN Richard G. Edwards of Shreveport has plans to push an idea on construction of a new bomber. Shortly after the Korean War began, Edwards introduced a bill to appropriate money for such a plane. It was defeated on the House floor. He introduced it again in 1953 and it was defeated then also. Since then, the House has passed a number of measures to appropriate money for such a plane but most of them have not been signed into law by the President. President Kennedy has said he would sign any measure which authorized the appropriation of money for such a plane but so far no such measure has been passed. Johnny Keith Still Having Himself A Real Good Time

Sometimes there was a good deal more to the game than just scoring. And stunts like that would be in order. On the other hand, if the game was too much in favor of one team, why not let the other team have a chance to go for the jugular.

Pokes Looking For No. 500

A full-length game of basketball ended in a tie for the record for the highest-scoring game in college basketball history. The game was between the Oklahoma State University Cowboys and the Texas Tech University Red Raiders.

By A Basketball Reporter

The Cowboys played a much better game than they did in the first half. The Cowboys were unable to get into a rhythm in the first half, but they were able to turn things around in the second half. The Cowboys outscored the Red Raiders 50-30 in the second half, and they were able to pull away in the final minutes of the game.

Johnny Keith

The Cowboys' win was a much-needed boost for the team. The Cowboys had lost their previous two games, and they were looking for a win to get back on track. The win was especially important because it came against a tough opponent in the Red Raiders.
