Drivers Leaving Cars For Buses

By Ginie Trigell
Staff Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY — With opening of glumly priced, almost empty, new rapid transit system to passengers in nearby downtown Oklahoma City, the State Transportation Authority is doing its best to make the new service unpalatable.

Ride reliability in Oklahoma City is one of the worst in the nation, and in recent months, the cost of operating a bus service has risen sharply. The State Transportation Authority has been working on an agreement with the city to find ways to cut costs, and is considering the possibility of a tax increase to help pay for the service.

The city recently purchased 20 new buses, five of which are to be used in a limited route service. The rest of the service is scheduled to begin February 1.

The state is also considering the possibility of losing the service, but this would require a decision by the legislature to increase taxes.

White House Aide Threatens Olympics

Washington Post News Service
LAVIN, PLACID - A White House aide had threatened to withdraw the USA's entry from the Olympics if the United States is not allowed to compete in the Games. "No way!" said Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs James Shriver.

Shriver said the State Department would continue to press the issue with the International Olympic Committee (IOC) and that the decision would be made in the coming weeks.

"We are prepared to take any steps necessary to ensure that the Games are fair and free of political interference," Shriver said.

Tulsa Senator Pushes Oil Tax Redistribution Proposal

Senator Smith introduced a bill to redistribute oil tax revenues to the states, arguing that the current system is unfair. He proposed that the federal government should reallocate the funds to ensure that all states receive a fair share of the revenue generated from oil production.
Valentine’s Day Traces Roots Back To Romans

(Editors’ Note: Every February is a reminder of the ancient Roman festival of Lupercalia, celebrated on February 15th. Lupercalia, also known as the Feast of Love, had a strong influence on the Christian tradition of Valentine’s Day. According to legend, two Roman shepherds, Lupercus and Lupercula, were said to have saved the life of the infant Emilius Latrunculatus, who later became the first bishop of Rome. The festival was named after them, and it is believed to have been the origin of the modern tradition of Valentine’s Day.

New Zealand Land Of Sheep, Immense Beauty

By William Carver
D. E. G. Traveler

Travel

Now is the ideal time to see New Zealand. The country is in the peak of its lush greenness. The Southern Hemisphere is in the midst of winter and the Northern Hemisphere is in the middle of summer. This is the best time to travel to New Zealand because the weather is mild and the cost of travel is lower. It is also a great time to see the wildlife, as the sheep are in their natural habitat and the birds are active. The best cities to visit are Auckland, Wellington, and Christchurch. In Auckland you can see the Sky Tower, in Wellington you can see the Museum of New Zealand Te Papa Tongarewa, and in Christchurch you can see the Canterbury Museum. It is advisable to travel with a local tour guide who can take you to the best spots and provide you with information about the culture and history. It is also a good idea to bring warm clothes because even though it is summer, there can be sudden changes in the weather. It is recommended to book your flights and accommodations well in advance because New Zealand is a popular tourist destination. It is also advisable to carry a map and a guidebook to help you navigate the country. It is a great idea to try the local cuisine, such as fish and chips, and to visit the vineyards to taste the wine. It is a great experience to visit New Zealand and it is a must-do for any travel enthusiast.
Leiding Narrows It Down To Sooners, Texas

Al Eshbach

There was a time in Texas that people went by the rule of thumb: "You make your own luck." And in 1901, that seemed to work for Al Eshbach.

Al Eshbach, the former head baseball coach at the University of Texas, recently announced that he would be stepping down after 30 years of服务. In his final season, the Longhorns won 28 games and finished second in the Big 12 Conference.

"I'm happy to have been able to give back to my alma mater," Eshbach said in a statement. "I'm looking forward to spending more time with my family and friends."

How can I cope with today's staggering inflation?

How should I prepare for retirement security?

We've got the answers to help you win the battle with taxes and inflation.

An individual Retirement Account (IRA) is one answer if your employer does not offer a retirement or profit-sharing plan.

Each year you deduct 1% of your personal income tax could go up to $1,000 with an IRA, your deposits up to 15% of your income or a minimum of $1,500 a year on tax deductible.

All notices you hold the laws on annual income taxes and do not deduct more than the amount you'll be saving for a better retirement future.

Ask your Liberty banker if an IRA plan could go to work for you.

WRONG IMPRESSIONS: Last Tuesday night I watched "The Misadventures of Sherlock Holmes," and saw Deputy Perkins (played by Mills Watson) getting himself in some of the craziest messes ever seen on television. I happen to know that Watson is a widower who has sole custody of his 9-year-old son, so I could have sworn that Mills Watson must feel pretty foolish knowing his son is watching him make a complete idiot of himself on screen. Not so, says Mills. "I've got it much better than I used to have," says Watson, "I've got the rights to this house, and I've got a new son who is just like me."

"Ol' boy," says Mills, "the other day I was walking down the street and a little girl came up to me and said, 'Hey, Mr. Watson, what do you do for a living?' And I said, 'I'm a detective, and I work for the police department.' And she said, 'Oh, that's nice,' and walked away."

"I'm just glad I can make a living and support my son," says Mills, "I've got a great job, and I'm very happy."

Tates get new butter

Roscoe Lee Browing, one of America's leading black actors, will star as Saunders, the new butler in the madcap Tate household, on the ABC television network's "Soap" comedy series, which airs Thursdays (8:30-9:00 p.m.).

Browning's movie credits include "Topaz," "The Cowboys," who received an Emmy nomination several years ago for his role as an escape artist on ABC's "Barney Miller," that taped his first episode.

Saunders, the character he will portray, has worked for the finest families and at top embassies throughout the world. He is completely thrown by his first encounter with the Towers in a house which has been leaderless since Benson (Robert Guillaume) left for work to a governor in the ABC series, "Benson."

Trapper John, M.D.

Gonzo and Trapper, with the welcome aid of one terminally ill patient, take on the challenging job of trying somehow to lift another dying patient out of his depression, on "Trapper John, M.D.," Sunday, Feb. 10 (9:00-10:00 p.m. on the CBS Television Network.

Jayne Meadows, Marcia Rodd and Gary Lockwood head the guest cast. Bernard McEveety directed the episode from a teleplay by Jack Guss.

After diagnosing Auggie Berger's illness as appendicitis and operating on him for it, Gonzo is stunned to discover that Auggie has terminal cancer. Auggie drops into deep depression over his condition, and, too, he's not to respond to any medical medicines, even from Dr. Eugene Keaton, who is also dying but who's on mental state is admirablely well.

Meanwhile, another hospital patient, Edwin Garth, has Dr. Stanley Riverside in a state of hideous suspense because of the candid way in which she is vowing to vent violence upon a whole roster of unknown people.

Lou faces pressures

A typical work day piles up pressure on an overworked Lou as he tries to handle crank calls, libel problems and a feuding staff, on "Lou Grant," Monday, Feb. 11 (9:00-10:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Roger Young directed from a script by series executive story editor Michele Gallery.

Lou's attention is diverted from a nuclear protest rally by a scandalous item from popular Trib columnist Jack Towne and a stubborn campaign by pretty feature writer Regina Kelly for a transfer to the city room.

ROYAL FAMILY
A delightful, heart-warming story of America's best-loved show business family, loosely based on the Barrymores.

EDWARD AND MRS. SIMPSON

STAR TREK IS: FAR OUT ADVENTURE

POPEYE VALENTINE
When Popeye forgets Valentine's Day for the 110th time in this marathon romance, Olive oil decides to dump him and go looking for Mr. Right.

SPORTS CALENDAR
The networks have their concerns these days about Olympics. For NBC, it is "no show." For ABC, nevertheless, all signs point to business as usual when the Winter Olympics come off the week. The schedule makers are going full blast in Lake Placid, and word is that events will be scheduled as expected.

What is the kick-off date? Well, the ABC announcement has some viewers a bit confused. Do the ceremonies begin Tuesday, Feb. 12, or Wednesday, Feb. 13? The answer is the latter; however, ABC has 1 1/2 hours of prime time coverage scheduled on the night before (Feb. 12). This is a special program titled "Adirondack Gold Rush." The host will be Jim McKay and the show will feature coverage of Downhill Ski training and a preliminary hockey game between the U.S. and Sweden.

But opening ceremonies do not take place until Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 13. And these ceremonies will be repeated on ABC that same night in prime time.

Coverage will continue thru Feb. 24, encompassing an unprecedented 50 hours of programming. As a benchmark, you may recall that for the Innsbruck games in 1976, coverage was 20 hours.

In watching the Lake Placid games it should occur to you that all the money going for new facilities was a waste, forget it. It is true that no expense was spared in getting this site ready, but when the games are over, it will not be tear-down time. These new facilities will enable this very sports-minded community to become a year-round sports center, a place where athletes from all over the country will come to train.

What kind of sports capital will Lake Placid be? "Every town which stages an Olympics has a different atmosphere," says Jim McKay. "Lake Placid is the kind of town in which you might see two men playing pinchpoke at the local gas station."

Popeye returns to the sea

How much abuse can a girl take? After Popeye forgets Valentine's Day again in their marathon romance, the long-suffering Olive Oyl decides to leave Popeye and the past behind her, and she signs up for a cruise in hopes of meeting "Mr. Right," in the animated "The Popeye Valentine Special: Sweethearts at Sea," starring Popeye the Sailor and the Thimble Theater troupe, including Olive, Bluto and Larry, to be rebroadcast on Wednesday, Feb. 13 (7:30-8:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. With a glamorous new image in tow, Olive Oyl boards Valentine's Sweetheart Cruise. Popeye's arch-nemesis, Bluto, jumps at the opportunity to finally oust Olive for himself. Dressed to the nines in a fancy white suit, and complete with a freshly acquired debonair French accent, the otherwise goof Bluto sets out in his quest of Olive Oyl.

Man of Magic Returns

Master illusionist Doug Henning returns for his fifth NBC TV special and, appropriately, offers five original illusions never performed before, when he stars in "Doug Henning's World of Magic," Friday, Feb. 15 (7:00-8:00 p.m.).

In a panic, Popeye joins the cruise as a stowaway, determined not to let Olive out of his sight. But that's not as easy as it sounds, and the Sailor Man's efforts to salvage his love life are thwarted by the Sea Hag, an ugly witch of a woman who has her own romantic designs on the spinach-guzzling sailor and would welcome him as a partner in her underwater home.

While-Wimpy pilots the Sweetheart Cruise, the leading characters sail through some bumpy waters as the romantic triangle becomes a quartet.

William Hanna and Joseph Barbera are executive producers for Hanna-Barbera Productions, Inc. "The Popeye Valentine Special: Sweethearts at Sea" was directed by Oscar Dufau from a script by Tom Dagenais and John V. Hanrahan; Music for the special was By Paul De Korte and Woy Curtin.

"Citizens Band"

It seems everyone in a small California town has taken to the CB airwaves, with crazy results, in the critically acclaimed comedy, "Citizens Band," to be broadcast for the first time on network television on "The CBS Saturday Night Movie," Saturday, Feb. 16 (8:00-12:00 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. The movie was released theatrically under this title and as "Hand's With Care" by Paramount Pictures in 1977.

Paul Le Mat, Candy Clark, Ann Wedgewood, Marcia Rodd and Charles Napier star. Jonathan Demme was the director.

Under the anonomy of their CB handles, the citizens of a small town feel free to assume any identity they choose, clumping up the channels with their constant broadcasts. To Blaine (Paul Le Mat), who goes by the handle of Spider, this is an outrage he is determined to correct.

Blaine uses the CB for serious business--looking and rescuing truckers and motorists in distress. Among the people he helps is a philosophizing trucker (Napier) who uses his CB to spread some wisdom. One of his messages is "Life of the highways (Aki Elia), who goes by the handle of Hot Coffee.

"Unique underwater treasure hunt"

The heart-stopping terror and beauty of "The Deep," written by "Dallas" author Peter Benchley, is more breathtaking than ever as Nick Nolte, Jacqueline Bisset and Robert Shaw star in the expanded version—with almost an hour of previously unseen footage restored to the chilling story—in a two-part presentation on the ABC Television Network's "The ABC Sunday Night Movie" and "The ABC Monday Night Movie," Feb. 10 & 11 (both times 8:00-10:00 p.m.).

The movie, one of 1977's top box office hits, pits Nolte, Bisset and Shaw against a dope-dealing Haitian (played by Louis Gossett) in a race for a fortune in morphine capsules which is dependent on a sunken freighter off the coast of Bermuda. What no one knows—until the morphine is raised—is that an even greater fortune in jewels rests in a Spanish galleon hidden by the freighter.

The critics were unanimous in their praise of the underwater photography in this extraordinary movie. Ultimately, the star is the deep ocean, and the terror (lasting without "—S.F. Chronicle). The two-part version will offer much more of what the New York Daily News called "its splendid underwater photography. (The camera explores the dangerous, captivating world of the diver with a thoroughness that even Jacques Cousteau could have managed. For hair-raising horror, it records a hungry shark ensnared in a diver's line as well as the terrifying attack of the green moray eel."

The New York Times critic also found these scenes "alternately beautiful and chilling," but he saved special praise for "Jacqueline Bisset, one of cinema's natural splendors."

The stars of the $9 million production (filmed in the British Virgin Islands, Bermuda and Australia) all teamed to liven for the movie and did their own underwater sequences (except for Eli Wallach, all of whose scenes were above water.)

"The Exorcist" and sequel premiere

"The Exorcist," the Academy Award-winning motion picture, and one of the biggest box office hits ever, and its sequel, "Exorcist II: The Heretic," will be presented for the first time on network television as special movie presentations on Tuesday, Feb. 12 (7:30-10:00 p.m.), and Wednesday, Feb. 13 (8:00-10:00 p.m.), respectively, on the CBS Television Network.

"The Exorcist," starring Ellen Burstyn, Max von Sydow, Lee J. Cobb, Kitty Winn, Jack MacGowran, Jason Miller and Linda Blair, won an Academy Award for producer and screenwriter William Peter Blatty, who was honored for his script, which he based on his own best-selling novel. The motion picture was nominated for an additional eight Academy Awards, including best picture, best actress, best supporting actor and best supporting actress. It received a record Oscar for its achievement in sound.

"The Exorcist" was directed by William Friedkin, who won an Academy Award for "The French Connection." He supervised the editing and redubbing of "The Exorcist" for network television premiere. Noel Marshall was executive producer of "The Exorcist," a 1973 Warner Bros. release.

"Exorcist II: The Heretic" stars Linda Blair, Richard Burton, Louise Fletcher, Max von Sydow, Kitty Winn, Paul Henreid, James Earl Jones and Ned Beatty.

"The Exorcist" is the story of Regan (Linda Blair) a young girl stricken by a mysterious affliction. Her worried Mother (Ellen Burstyn) seeks medical and psychiatric help, but the experts can find no rational explanation for the increasingly bizarre turn of events. As a last resort, two priests, the aged Father Merrin (Max von Sydow), and skeptical young psychiatrist, Father Karras (Jason Miller), approach the case as a possible instance of demonic possession.

What follows is a titanic life-and-death struggle between the forces of good and evil for the possession of the young girl's mind, body and soul.

"Exorcist II: The Heretic" picks up the story four years later. Regan, played again by Linda Blair, is now a teenager, seemingly normal although she is troubled by nightmares.

Paul Henreid stars as a Cardinal who tells Father Lamont (Richard Burton) to investigate the death of Father Merrin, who was a tragic victim of Regan's exorcism.

Father Lamont calls upon child psychologist Dr. Tuskin (Louise Fletcher) for her help and the pair learn the worst—the evil spirit Pazuzu still lurks within Regan.

Father Lamont must undertake a journey across Africa in search of Kokumo (James Earl Jones), a man who was successfully exorcised of the demon. But Father Lamont's real problem lies in his shaky faith; his questioning attitude is a tempting opportunity for the evil Pazuzu and a dangerous weakness for Father Lamont.

"Exorcist II: The Heretic" was produced by John Boorman and Richard Laderer. Boorman directed from a script by William Goodhart. The motion picture was released by Warner Bros. in 1977.

"Adirondack Gold Rush: The XIII Winter Olympic Games"

"Adirondack Gold Rush: The XIII Winter Olympic Games" will kick off ABC Sports' coverage of the Olympics, Tuesday, Feb. 12 (8:30-10:00 p.m.), on the ABC Television Network. Jim McKay will host the program, which will feature coverage of two actual Olympic competitions to be held that day—the final session of men's downhill skiing and a pivotal, opening hockey game for the United States against Sweden.

ABC hockey commentators Al Michaels and Ken Dryden, the former Montreal Canadiens goalie, will report on the U.S.-Sweden match. If the Americans win, they stand a good chance of making the final round and winning a medal.

ABC's Alpine skiing commentators, Frank Gifford and former U.S. Ski Team coach Bob Beattie, will describe the men's downhill event. This will be a critical day for teams blessed with an abundance of downhill talent. The Austrians, for instance, may have six world-class skiers battling for the four starting positions allotted to each nation by Olympic rules. One of those six is likely to be Franz Klammer, the 1976 Olympic downhill champion. Gifford and Beattie will show Klammer's gold medal run on the program to get his recollections of that thrilling, pressure-packed 1976 race.

Jim McKay will conduct a live interview with Jack Shea and Irving Jaffe, two Americans who swept all four gold medals in the speed skating events of the 1980 Winter Olympics at Lake Placid. Keith Jackson, ABC's speed skating commentator, will then take a close look at Shea's and Jaffe's successor in American speed skating, Eric Heiden of Madison, WI. A favorite to win as many as five gold medals during the Games, Heiden is not exactly well-known in his own country. He is, however, a Willie Mays-Joe Namath type hero in Europe. Viewers will see in a sequence filmed with Heiden on the streets of Oslo, Norway, The joy and perseverance of two American Alpine skiers, Phil Mahre and Abi Fisher, are highlighted in another segment. Both have recovered from serious leg injuries suffered during last year's Pre-Olympic World Cup meet at Lake Placid. ABC commentator Jim Lampsey will bring these comeback stories fully up-to-date with live interviews at the Olympic Village disco.

ABC commentator Dick Butta, two-time figure skating gold medalist, will present the skaters with a chance to make their own history during the games. Joining Butta for the live links will be Linda Fratianne, the current Ladies World Figure Skating Champion and favorite to win the Olympic gold medal. Viewers also will see Linda in a special, stylized skating performance, filmed earlier. Butta will spotlight other figure skaters, including Charlie Tickner, former men's world Champion, and Tai Babilonia and Randy Gardner, reigning pairs World Champions.

Terry O'Neil is the producer of "Adirondack Gold Rush: The XIII Winter Olympic Games." Larry Kimm and Joe Acci are the directors. The associate producers are Arnie Knox and Ken Wolfe.

Roone Arledge is the Executive Producer.

ABC will have a full complement of Olympic coverage on its three networks, ABC, ABC News, and ABC Sports, along with special inserts on the ABC News magazine and ABC News' Common Sense programs.
Here are seven ways to really express your feelings to your spouse...

...and help you fall in love all over again

By Dr. Debra Phillips and Robert Judd

Do you ever notice how your feelings can change so quickly? Even in the best of marriages, feelings can fall flat, and even in the best of marriages, it might seem at times if there are more strains than joys. Little habits start to wear on each other, and suddenly, seemingly small differences become huge.

Do you still remember the days when little things meant a lot more? Do you still remember the days when you were so in love that every little thing was a cause for celebration? Do you remember the days when you were so in love that every little thing was a cause for celebration?

If you find yourselves falling in love all over again, just as you once did in the early days of your relationship, you may be experiencing a natural occurrence of a phenomenon known as...
Learning to Keep Your Cool During Tests

By Margaret Jerrard

Have you ever felt so panicky during an examination that you couldn't even put down the answers you knew? If so, you were suffering from what is known as test anxiety.

According to psychologist Ralph Trimb-ble, test anxiety is a very real problem for many people. When you're worried about your performance on an exam, your heart beats faster, your pulse speeds up, hormones are secreted. These reactions trigger others. You may sweat more than normal or suffer from a stomachache or headache. Your field of vision narrows and becomes tunnel-like, leaving you with very little peripheral sight. Before you know it, you're having difficulty focusing.

"What I hear students say over and over again," says Dr. Trimb-ble, "is that they're upset with the Psychological and Counseling Center at the University of Illinois. "It's my mind went blank."

For a number of years, Dr. Trimb-ble helped many students learn how to function better during exams and to bring up their grades. Some of these students were interested in sharing what they learned, and with Trimb-ble's help began holding workshops on overcoming test anxiety. For many students, just being in a workshop with other sufferers was a relief. They realized they weren't alone, that they went through only the ones who had done poorly on tests because of tension.

The workshops were so successful that they are still given.

In the workshops students are taught that anxiety is normal. You just have to prevent it from getting the best of you. The next step is to learn to relax. If you're feeling nervous or during an examination you start to panic, stretch as hard as you can, loosen the muscles in your arms and legs, then suddenly relax all of them. This will help relieve tension.

But keep in mind that you don't want to be too relaxed. Being completely relaxed is no better than being too tense. "If you are so calm that you don't care how you do an examination, you won't do well," Trimb-ble says. "There is an optimum level of concern when you perform at your best. Some stress helps. There are people who can't take even slight stress. They have to learn that in order to perform at their best, they have to bring their anxiety level up a little good and will help them to do better. But if the level is anxiety and say, "It's going to hit me again... that will push them over the edge."

As a student you must realize that if you leave too much studying until a day or two before the examination, you can't do the impossible and learn it all. Instead, concentrate on what you can do and try to think what questions are likely to be asked and what you can do in the time left for studying.

When you are ready to study, set a moderate pace and vary it by interposing reading, writing notes and going over any papers you have already written for the course, as well as the anthologies and notes you took in class. Review what you know. Take breaks and go to sleep in plenty of time to get a good night's rest before the exam.

You should also eat a moderate breakfast or lunch, avoiding drugs with caffeine and steering clear of fellow students who get tense. Panic is contagious.

Get to the exam room a few minutes early so you will have a chance to familiarize yourself with the surroundings and get out your supplies. When the examination is handed out, read the directions and underline the significant instructions, making sure you understand them. Ask the teacher or proctor to explain if you don't. First answer the easiest questions, then go back to the more difficult. If you're stumped on a multiple-choice question, first eliminate the impossible answers, then make as good an intuitive guess as possible and go on to the next.

On essay questions, instead of plugging right in, take a few minutes to organize your thoughts, make a straight outline and then start off with a summary sentence. Keep working steadily and even when time seems to run out, don't speed up.

After the examination is over, don't torture yourself by thinking over all the mistakes you made, and don't start studying immediately for another exam--instead, give yourself an hour or two of free time. Among the students who are working now as volunteer leaders in the workshops are the same people who started out panicky and unable to function on exams. They learned how to deal with test anxiety and are now teaching others. It's almost as easy as ABC.

What Deep Thinkers Think About In Think Tanks

At think tanks such as Arthur D. Little, Inc., it's not just the unthinkables. Researchers constantly come up with innovations to improve our everyday lives. They've even made a silk purse from a sow's ear.

By Barry Stavro

Though common sense tells us that to fail means to win and the only way to succeed is to try and succeed, many of today's scientists believe that the opposite may be true. For example, the recent breakthrough in the development of a new type of superconductor could not have been achieved without the failure of previous attempts. Similarly, the invention of the transistor was made possible through the failure of the original Edison light bulb.

But the most important lesson we can learn from the history of science is that failure is not the end. It is merely a stepping stone to success. As the famous scientist Isaac Newton once said, "Failure is the first step toward success."

The Heavenly Days of Linda Manz

By Brie Quinby

Linda Manz, all 6 feet of her, perches around her manager's office in search of an outhouse. Deadlines to tight鞋, and a pair of old shoes, Manz has been living over her open spaces and cowboy hand, looking like a trout in the school principal's office. Which is exactly what she was four years ago when coming against Barbra Streisand for Wally's open slot in the movie. Now she's playing the local country girl in the romantic comedy Mirror Mirror, her first major role. She has a soft voice, a faint Texas accent, and a warm country girl in the movie.

Remember when it was a rare sign of being at the lower end of the socioeconomic ladder to own a television? Not now. Even the economically challenged, who rent their TVs for $60 a month, have them. And that's only the beginning. In July, we'll see the introduction of the new television, the Sears Roebuck, which is expected to revolutionize the industry. It's the first television that lets you watch the news in color, as well as listen to music, play games, and even watch movies. And all for just $2,999.99! So, if you're tired of being left behind, it's time to upgrade your entertainment system. Get your Sears Roebuck TV today!

SUPER-YIELDING NEW GARDEN DISCOVERY

GIANT Seedless GRAPES

It's new...It's incredible...and it's a perfect time!

"ROYAL BLUES"

* EXTREMELY PRODUCIVE
* SWEET JUICY-KIRED PLUSH
* COMPLETELY SEEDLESS

Grapes—some ancient, rare, kind of European charm...and still new, now, the most exciting new fruit crop since the grapefruit came from China. These grapes have been developed in California by Dr. Robert L. Baker of the University of California, and are a selection of the best of two varieties: the Del Rio and the Sonoma. The Del Rio is said to be the most productive of the two, and is characterized by its small, round fruit that is very juicy and sweet. The Sonoma, on the other hand, is known for its large size and firm, juicy flesh. Both varieties are said to be very disease-resistant and require little care. The grapes are harvested by hand, and are sold fresh or dried. These grapes are said to be very successful in California, and are expected to be popular in other parts of the country as well.

Super-Hardy Lavender

Enchanting Fragrance, Exquisite Beauty for Home and Garden!

You'll love the hundreds and hundreds of tiny, fragrant Lavender Broomsores that pop up every spring! The lovely rosy-colored (about 12 inches long) buds are covered with honey-comb beauty from June right on through the long blooming season any time of the year! Some are also used as a tea! They are native to France, and are found in the wilds of Provence, where they are harvested by hand, and then sent by air to the United States. The flowers are then dried, and are used to make the famous Lavender Brooms. The flowers are also used to make Lavender Brooms, and are used in many ways, such as in soaps, perfumes, and lotions. The flowers are also used in the making of Lavender Brooms, and are used in many ways, such as in soaps, perfumes, and lotions.

THIMBLES IN SUN OR PART-SHADe

Whatever planted, the resulting "Old English" fragrance will be to the far corner of your yard...durst through your windows...absolutely enchanting you for months! Even after bloom has ended, the new heads of Lavender Brooms appear from February to June, and are sure to delight your eyes and鼻子! The flowers are used to make Lavender Brooms, and are used in many ways, such as in soaps, perfumes, and lotions. The flowers are also used in the making of Lavender Brooms, and are used in many ways, such as in soaps, perfumes, and lotions.

How good is the bologna sandwich in that sandwich?

Of the 50 brands and varieties of bologna sampled by Consumer Reports for quality, nine were rated Poor or Very Poor. Bologna is a good substitute for meat in a sandwich. Both in-store and self-contained bologna may be detected by a perfume-like scent. So the next time you’re in the mood for a sandwich, you may be trying to tell you something.

How does the bologna sandwich compare with the others?

Wear Counterfeit Diamonds. Today many wealthy people, and even some who have not entered the broad categories of high society, are wearing counterfeits. You can wear a diamond without giving away your income, but remember - counterfeit diamonds are not the same as real diamonds. A counterfeit diamond is not a real diamond.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

CARAT WEIGHT (ct.): a unit of weight used to measure the size of a diamond. One carat equals 0.2 grams and is divided into 100 points. A diamond 5 mm in diameter weighs about 1 carat.

HEAVY GOLD ELECTROPLATE (HGE): this coating is used to ensure the even flow of gold to the surface. The gold is applied on both sides of the piece, and the resulting coating is then given a protective coating of clear lacquer.

STERLING SILVER (SS): this material is 92.5% pure silver and is ideal for jewelry because it is strong and does not tarnish easily.

How to Find Your Ring Size:

OUT!

IT ISN'T FAIR!

SHATS IT?

COME ON IN

COME ON IN

IT'S A HORSE!

WAIT UNTIL THE LIGHTS GO OUT

GET OUT OF HERE, LOCO!

SHOULD HAVE USED A HUNT TO GET THE HAY SMELL OFF MY BREATH

"ALL TOGETHER NOW, BOYS! LET'S HEAR IT FOR THE WORK ETHIC!"

"BOOKS"

"YOU KNOW, IT'S HARD TO BE A SWEET LITTLE OLD LADY ANY MORE WITH THE BOOKS AND MOVIES THEY THROW AT YOU THESE DAYS!"

"BOY, DO YOU EVER HAVE THE WRONG NUMBER? NO, THIS ISN'T THE CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS!"

"NOTHING TO PLUG IN, NO SERVICE CALLS, NO DEPENDENCE ON FOREIGN OIL, AND TOTAL FREEDOM FROM MODERN TECHNOLOGY!"

"WHAT DO YOU CALL YOUR RELIGION, THE ONE THAT WORSHIPS THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR?"

"SAM AND SILO"

"WINTER! YOU CAN HAVE IT!"

"IF I HAD MY WAY, IT'D BE SUMMER!"

"YEAH!"

"RIGHT! AND IF I HAD MY WAY, THE SUN WOULD SHINE ALL DAY!"

"RIGHT! AND IT WOULD ONLY RAIN AT NIGHT, THE WAY IT USED TO!"

"AND WE'D NEVER BE BORED, LIKE WE ARE NOW."

"JUNIOR WHIRL"

"BY JERRY DUMAS AND MORT WALKER"

"IT WOULD BE SUMMER AND WE WOULD BE KIDS AGAIN!"

"YEAH, WE'D BE KIDS, WITH OUR FOLKS STILL BIG, AND STRONG, AND TAKING CARE OF US!"

"IT JUST GOES TO SHOW YOU—GROWING UP AND BECOMING SOPHISTACATED ISN'T EVERYTHING"

"HOCUS-FOCUS"

"CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you find them? Check answers with those below."

"JUNIOR WHIRL" by Hal Kaufman

- MAIL TIME: "Whatever became of the dusty blonde who married in school?" a shocker guest inquired at the class reunion. "HE Süd MOST ABRACADABRA IN THE CLAS!" The young woman replied. "Read between the lines."

- Boy-O! Take! Jerry's son of Enamor's daughter. Is Jerry a boy or a girl? You decide. D 1. Jerry is a boy. 2. Jerry is a girl. 3. Jerry is a boy and a girl. 4. Jerry is not a boy or a girl."

- West Side! Some word and an extra letter, spelling a word from the combined letters: 1. LOVE plus E, 2. HARRY plus B, 3. C, 4. Risible words, 1. Larry's, 2. Larry's, 3. Larry's, 4. Larry's.

- Four-Faced! Which has ties to an apartment? The tall top, which has been said, or the flat, which won't catch up the high-rise toss.
