NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A U.S. Attorney working a key version of the FBI's "Brilliant" undercover insurance payoff investigation Monday said those in the investigation were set up and targeted but became involved when they "the opportunity presented itself."

U.S. Attorney John Voit said a federal grand jury specializing in organized crime would begin hearing evidence in the Brillant case Monday.

Among those named in the indictments are Louisiana Governor Ed Edwards, Lt. Gov. Jimmy Fairchild, former State's Attorney for the 25th judicial circuit, and a federal judge.

The indictment charges the five with racketeering.

"We don't go after anybody unless they're involved," Voit said. "If she did, the FBI did a job."

Hearings To Begin

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A temporary battery in the Oklahoma City local schoolteachers was called Monday to discuss a new contract proposal, and the teachers were ordered to accept it or face a 24-hour work stoppage.

The teachers, who represent about 30,000 teachers in the district, voted Monday on the new contract proposal, and they accepted it. The teachers were expected to return to work Tuesday.

EX-MORMON Feminist Says
ERA Draft Must Be Linked

OKLAHOMA CITY — A woman who became a feminist after leaving the Mormon church was one of several who spoke at the Oklahoma City school district's farewell to the Equal Rights Amendment, or ERA, which was approved by the city's school board.

"I didn't like the draft for war and I don't like Jews in my field," the woman said.

"We're not going to make the same mistake and sacrifice women, if the ERA is not included, it can't be included.

"We won't fight for the ERA, we're not going to fight for a system that allows us only to be second-class citizens.

"We're not going to be second-class citizens, we're going to be first-class citizens, we're going to fight for the ERA."

Draft Should Be Fair

President Carter has made it clear that the purpose of the draft lottery is to make it fair to all young men. However, the need for a draft lottery remains a subject of debate. The lottery system was introduced to ensure that all citizens have an equal chance of being drafted into the military.

Only An Excuse?

Some argue that the draft lottery is just an excuse for the government to avoid a national conscription system. The lottery system allows the government to draft young men without the burden of individual conscription. However, the lottery system does not guarantee that all citizens have an equal chance of being drafted.

Draft Proposals Spark Dissention

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter Thursday said that he would support draft proposals that would force men to register for the draft if he were to be reelected and the proposal were to become law.

The President also said that he would support a federal law that would make it illegal to draft any man under the age of 21.

The proposals were introduced in Congress by Senator Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who has said he would vote for them.
