Crucial Fall

Randy Gardner fell to the ice during a warm-up for his performance in the United States men's program at the Olympics. Gardner, who already was suffering from a slight groin pull, received a severe bruise in the groin area, forcing the American to withdraw altogether from the 1980 Olympic competition. (UPI/Telex)

U.N. Commission Set To Probe Iran Crises

By Barry Culbert
OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) - Democratic Tom Steed, who has served in Congress longer than any other house member, will not be on pin feet Friday when he will meet with two ministers at the Oklahoma House of Representatives on Saturday.

Steed, 73, who has been in Congress for 12 years and has served in the House of Representatives for nearly 20 years, will not be on any pins feets and will notwend any a newsworthy event at the meeting.

"I almost have a right to be," he said Friday. "I look more like the man from the office and not the man from the courthouse and the city hall." The man from the city hall is the man who has brought me a lot of trouble," he added.

Steed, who will have served 30 years in the 4th District when he takes office under the new constitution in January, said he will have served three years under the old constitution by the time he leaves office in 1988.

"I have been listening to the people who laugh at me. I have been listening to the people who laugh at me. I have been listening to the people who laugh at me."

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Carter says he is "very optimistic" about the chances of stopping Cuba, which he believes is the most likely target for the next U.S. attack on Iran.

Carter said he is "very optimistic" about the chances of stopping Cuba, which he believes is the most likely target for the next U.S. attack on Iran.

State Department official said the oil certificates will be released in 1987 seven days after the announcement, but it will not be a "couple of months" before the situation is resolved.

White House press secretary Jody Powell told reporters the economies were not as bad as initially anticipated. He said that the administration was optimistic that the situation would improve in the future.

By United Press International

The situation will be at 6:15 p.m. EST when the mayor's shadow will pass over the city. Powell said the situation was not as bad as anticipated. He said that the administration was optimistic that the situation would improve in the future.

Steed said "They will break at the bottom line into three conferences. We will more likely make no concessions there. I will not want to talk to anyone who wants to talk with me."

I know one thing, said Steed, "and I don't want Saturday to end without having this meeting. I don't want to be the Bill Bannister (University of Oklahoma) or the man who was the opposite of a U.S. Senate racer. They say I can't make it up the hill." The people can't stand two like this, Steed said, because we don't have any more people like that.

"I have always felt good when I can go to the people who laugh at me. I have always felt good when I can go to the people who laugh at me. I have always felt good when I can go to the people who laugh at me."

LAIRD PLACED N.Y. (F.A.) — With his longest throw of the day of 370 feet, Laird—which ranks third in the world in the hammer throw—won the world championships of 1964 in the first round of the hammer throw. He is now considered one of the best in the world in the hammer throw. Laird's throw was the longest of the day, and he was the only man who threw over 350 feet. He has won numerous other championships in the hammer throw, including the 1964 Olympic Games, where he won the gold medal. Laird is known for his powerful and accurate throws, and has been a dominant force in the hammer throw for many years. He has been a leader in the world of hammer throw, and has inspired many others to take up the sport. Laird's dedication and hard work have earned him many titles and accolades, making him a true legend in the world of hammer throw. Laird continues to amaze audiences with his incredible throws, and has no plans to retire anytime soon.

Struggling Sooners Try To Snap Streak

By Al Echbach

The Sooners' hopes of snapping their losing streak in the Big Eight were dashed on Saturday when the Sooners fell to the Cyclones. The Sooners had been struggling all season, and their loss to the Cyclones was just another setback in their disappointing campaign. The Sooners' defense was outplayed by the Cyclones, who scored four touchdowns in the first half. The Sooners' offense was unable to keep up with the Cyclones' scoring, and the game ended with the Cyclones holding a 28-14 lead. The Sooners will now have to regroup and prepare for their next game, which is against the Horned Frogs. The Sooners' fans will be hoping for a win to end the season on a high note.

Gas Well Must Be Replugged

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - The company that drilled the well said Monday it would spend $1 million to plug the well, which is 50 feet south of a residential area.

The natural gas well was drilled with a permit to drill in 1998 by Boelens Oil Company, but was never put into production. The company said it will spend $1 million to plug the well, which is 50 feet south of a residential area.

Ruling Could Harm Assets

Bev Rappleye

The Oklahoma Court of Appeals Wednesday reversed the Oklahoma City Board of Education's decision to sell a school site for $1 million to a developer who wanted to build a shopping mall.

The court ruled that the board lacked the authority to sell the property without first obtaining approval from the state secretary of education.

The sale was ordered by the court, which said the board had exceeded its authority by selling the property without proper approval.

Mom Files $1.2 M Law Suit For Tots

OKLAHOMA CITY - The mother of two children who were injured in a car crash has filed a lawsuit against a bus company, alleging the driver was negligently using cell phones behind the wheel.

The lawsuit was filed by Julie Bishop, whose two children were injured in a bus crash on Monday. Bishop said she was unable to reach the driver by phone and believed he was using a cell phone.

The bus company, First Transit, said it is cooperating with investigators and will release a statement when the investigation is complete.
