The American hockey team crowds onto the center pondum Sunday at Lake Placid after defeating Finland and winning the gold medal (UP) Reds Admit Afghan Troubles Mounting By United Press International The Soviet Union Sunday ad- mitted publicly for the first time that its group are meeting more resistance in Afghanistan than was expected when forces moved in to back the Marxist government against Kitchen invasion.
The admission, coinciding with reports that two of Afghan President Suhraward's closest advisors -- including his brother -- have been killed after a peace plan was rejected, may mean that the U.S. has been fighting a war of attrition against Afghan resistance groups.

BLITZKRIEG, Pakistan (UPI) - American helicopter pilot's capture, it is thought, marks the beginning of an all-out Soviet offensive in Afghanistan.

The Afghan government Thursday admitted it has been unable to find a solution to the problem of border fighting with Pakistan, which has been exacerbated by the recent Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

"If we are not able to find a solution to the problem of border fighting with Pakistan, we will have to take action," said an Afghan government official.

"The problem is that Pakistan has been supporting the Afghan resistance groups," the official said.

"We have been discussing the issue with Pakistani leaders, but we have not been able to reach an agreement."

The official further said that Pakistan has been providing assistance to the Afghan resistance groups, including weapons and training.

The Afghan government has been under pressure to find a solution to the border conflict, as the Soviet invasion has worsened the situation.

In addition, the Afghan government has been seeking support from other countries, including China and Iran, to help resolve the issue.

The capture of the American pilot has added to the tensions between Afghanistan and other countries, as the Afghan government has been accused of making concessions to the Soviets.

The official added that the Afghan government has been working closely with Pakistan to find a solution to the border conflict.

"We are seeking ways to resolve the issue, but we need the support of our neighbors," the official said.

The official further said that the Afghan government has been in talks with other countries, including Iran and the United States, to find a solution to the issue.

"We are discussing the issue with all possible players," the official said.

The official added that the Afghan government has been making efforts to resolve the border conflict, but the situation remains tense.

"We are making every effort to resolve the issue, but we need the cooperation of all players," the official said.

Bill Enfield

Unloved Guardians

A gourmet and a wine drinker, Bill Enfield, has come to the attention of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. According to reports, Enfield has been involved in a series of illegal activities, including money laundering and tax evasion. FBI agents have been monitoring Enfield's movements and communications for several months. Enfield, who is a well-known figure in the wine industry, has been a target of investigation due to his alleged involvement in a international drug trafficking ring. The FBI has not yet made any official statements regarding the investigation, but sources say that Enfield could face charges if he is found guilty of these crimes.

Bob Greene

Aiming To Be A Bunny

Fred Mcgraw, who has been a frequent target of satire in The Journal, is planning to run for governor of Illinois. Mcgraw, who is known for his controversial views, has announced that he will run as a independent candidate. Despite his previous unsuccessful attempts to gain political power, Mcgraw is determined to win this time. According to campaign sources, Mcgraw plans to focus on issues such as education and crime. However, his past successes in the entertainment industry have raised questions about his ability to handle the responsibilities of office.

Kennedy-less Campaign?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - The battle over who will replace the late President Kennedy is heating up in the Democratic Party. Candidates from across the country are vying for the party's nomination, and the race is expected to be closely contested. Some candidates are posing as the ideal successor to Kennedy, while others are presenting themselves as a fresh face for the party. The Democratic National Committee has set a primary election for March 15 to determine the party's nominee. The winner will face off against the Republican candidate in the general election in November.

Chicago Labor Ranks Split Over Firefighters Strike

Chicago firefighters and local labor unions have been divided over whether to support the strike by members of the Chicago Fire Department. While some unions are backing the strike, others have expressed concern about the impact it could have on public safety. The Chicago Fire Department has been on strike for several days, and it appears that the city's residents are beginning to feel the effects of the labor dispute. The fire department has been forced to cancel some of its scheduled training programs, and some residents have reported delays in responding to emergencies.

Generic Food Items Increase

Consumer Reports

When Consumer Reports released its annual food prices survey earlier this month, it revealed that the cost of many basic food items has increased significantly. The survey found that the average price of a loaf of bread, a gallon of milk, and a pound of potatoes has increased by nearly 10% in the past year. The report also noted that the cost of meat and produce has risen even more, with some items seeing price hikes of up to 20%. The increase in food prices is causing concern among consumers, who are already struggling to make ends meet.

Clarence Clemons

The Legend

Clarence Clemons, a member of the E Street Band and a close friend of Bruce Springsteen, has been diagnosed with a serious illness. Clemons, who is a popular musician known for his work with Springsteen and others, has been battling health problems for several years. The diagnosis has come as a shock to many fans and colleagues, who are offering their support and encouragement. Clemons is expected to take a break from touring to focus on his health, and he has asked for privacy during this difficult time.
Balanced Budget Forces Grow

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress is about to vote on a bill that would authorize a larger military budget, a move that would increase the nation's debt and force it to make further cuts in other programs. The bill is expected to pass, but it is unclear whether the military budget will ultimately be increased.

American's Tax Refunds Bigger

WASHINGTON (AP) - Americans are due to receive larger tax refunds this year, according to the Internal Revenue Service. The agency said it is preparing to send out refunds in the coming months.

The bomb was set off by a group of people who were protesting against the government's policy of exile for political prisoners.

Reserve Chief Urges Energy Crisis Action

WASHINGTON (AP) - Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker said Friday that the nation's energy crisis may prompt a move to a new energy policy.

Volcker, speaking at a conference on energy policy, said the country's energy needs are likely to increase as the nation moves to a new energy policy.

The chief problem is finding ways to meet the demand for energy without increasing the country's dependence on foreign oil.
