11 Get High Scout Honor

By John Allen

The Oklahoma City Council has recommended that the City Schools, the Oklahoma City Police Department, and the United Methodist Church be honored for their contributions to scouting.

The recommendation, made by the Council's Education Committee, is in recognition of the work of the Oklahoma City Scout Council, which has been actively involved in scouting for many years.

The Council's decision is in line with the recommendations of the Boy Scouts of America, which recently announced that it would be phasing out its traditional scouting program in favor of a more inclusive approach.

Nursing Home Reform Bill Revived

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - The House Social Services Committee, which was preparing to consider a bill to reform the state's nursing home system, Wednesday had its agenda sidetracked by the debate over a bill that would allow a nurse to refuse to treat an incompetent patient.

The committee on Friday is expected to vote on the bill, which was introduced last week by Rep. Jerry Nelson, D-Duncan, and Rep. Mike Hunter, R-Cushing. The proposal would allow a nurse to refuse to treat a patient who is judged incompetent or disabled.

The bill was introduced following a report by the Oklahoma City Department of Health that found that 20 percent of Oklahoma's nursing homes were not meeting minimum staffing requirements.

Uses Many For Old Dishwasher Racks

Dear Heloise:

I need to buy a dishwasher rack for an old machine. I don't know what it was but it has a lot of holes in it. I would like to make a new one, but I don't know what kind of rack I should use. Can you help me?

Sincerely,

DEAR HELoise:

It sounds like you have an old dishwasher rack that needs to be replaced. To make a new one, you can use a variety of materials. One option is to use metal rods or pipes. You can cut them to size and then bend them into the desired shape. Another option is to use plastic pipes or tubes. This can be a bit more challenging to work with, but it can be done. You can find these materials at most hardware stores. Good luck with your project!

Kortchmar moves from backup to center stage

"SINNEE" DANNY KORTCHMAR

Aspirant Veteran session guitarist Danny Kortchmar has made his long-awaited move to the center stage and the results are spectacular—but only if the listener understands that he is the kind of laid-back staff whose superstar associates are known for.

Bolstered is his past work ever honored at the kind of instrumental masterpiece and hook-filled hit behind them.

Playback

Since the demise of his first professional band the New York-based Nymphs, who recorded on RCA-Kortchmar has played both backup and in the studio for most of the most important singer-songwriters including James Taylor, Carole King, Graham Nash and David Crosby. He has also been his own band, including Flying Machine a group he was with Taylor and the group he is now, a band called the Raindrops, the role of Paul Simon's band and a self-styled group of tenors made up of Los Angeles' finest, Kasey Kam, and keyboardist Craig Douglas.

The four members of the Section had recorded together as at least a dozen albums by other artists in the last 15 years. They took the material to the studio one day and began working on an instrumental program of funk and jazz, and much of the material was written by Kortchmar.

Considering those credits, his new solo LP is a total surprise. He displays an uncharacteristically tough guitar style similar to the raucous, raucous style of Kelly Gordon and this is a real plus. He has also added a rock foundation to his voice, which makes for a more electric sound. His singing is excellent, and his playing is masterful. His guitar solos are long and complex, with a lot of detail, and his overall musical style is very reminiscent of Gordon's.

The BABIES

Danny Kortchmar

"Sinnee" is a song about the loneliness and isolation of the urban environment. It's a powerful statement about the impact of city life on the human spirit.

Iran crises gives relevance to 'Attica' saga

By Joan Hanover

NEW YORK (AP) - The hostages sit squattled in the yard of the compound, their children and their own girls, in the open air of a hot summer day, as they hold the man who tries to keep them captive.

The hostages are the American diplomats and their families in Teheran, Iran, who are held by the Red Guards in the Takyi compound over poor prison conditions and hold 50 guards hostage for five days.

At the end of that time, the state moved in with troops, but not one did it, and the hostage crisis continued.

It is in this context that the hostages were held, with their families, in the heat of the men sent in to institute this prison. The state moved in.

The plight of the American hostages in Iran is given the air of the American government. 'Attica' is a startlingly relevant story, as viewers will see who have been watching the Black Wall movements for years. The state moved in.

The inspiration for the movie was Iran, however, and not back in the book on which it was based. "A Time To Die," by New York Times reporter Tariq William, who accurately wrote and published the state moved in.
