No Layoffs Here

Thanks to a combination of luck and planning, the company has avoided layoffs for the past several years. This year, however, the company faces a significant challenge as revenue has not kept pace with expenses. However, the management team is confident that they can weather the storm and keep everyone employed. The company has already implemented several cost-saving measures, including a freeze on hiring and a reduction in travel budgets. Employees have been encouraged to work more efficiently and to take on additional responsibilities. The company has also received a one-time infusion of cash from a previous successful project, which will help to mitigate some of the short-term challenges. Overall, the company remains optimistic and is committed to keeping everyone employed.

Kipling Was Right

Paul Harvey

Voice Of The People

No Justice

Kipling was right: "If you hear nothing of me, listen. This is the way the world ends. Not with a bang but a whimper." The injustice of the current legal system is striking. Too many innocent people are being sent to prison, while the guilty often walk free. This is not a system that serves justice. It is a system that serves power and privilege. We need a system that truly serves justice, where every person is treated equally under the law.

7 Votes Cost Wallace Presidency

Robert Walters

We're Left With A Stain

The vote was 210 to 209, with the margin of victory being seven votes. Wallace, seeking to become the first presidential candidate of the American Independent Party, needed just one vote to change the outcome of the election. The result was a wake-up call for those who supported Wallace and a reminder of the importance of every vote. Despite the loss, Wallace remains a force to be reckoned with in the political landscape.

DePaul, Irish Lead Largest NCAA Field

Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri Also Get Bids

By John Grant, Jr.

DePaul, the first school to qualify for the NCAA basketball tournament, will be joined by eight other schools in the Midwest. The eight schools are pegged to make the top six teams in the Midwest, according to the Associated Press basketball poll. The poll, which was released last week, placed DePaul at No. 1, followed by Notre Dame at No. 2, Illinois at No. 3, Ohio State at No. 4, Michigan at No. 5, and Kansas at No. 6.

The poll also included two new teams, Kansas State and Maryland. Kansas State was added because of its impressive non-conference schedule, which included games against No. 1 Oklahoma and No. 5 Kansas. Maryland was added because of its strong conference schedule, which included games against No. 3 Illinois and No. 4 Ohio State.

The remaining schools in the Midwest that will qualify for the NCAA tournament are

- Illinois
- Ohio State
- Michigan
- Kansas
- Kansas State
- Maryland
- DePaul
- Notre Dame

DePaul, Notre Dame, Illinois, and Ohio State are considered the top teams in the Midwest, with Illinois and Ohio State posting strong conference records and DePaul and Notre Dame having won their conference tournaments.

OSU Grad Gets Win In Florida

By Tom Forrest

Ohio State University grad Al Eschbach recently scored a victory in Florida, where he has been working as a sales representative for a major corporation. Eschbach, 23, graduated from Ohio State in 1989 and has been working in sales for the past two years.

In his most recent project, Eschbach was assigned to sell a new line of office furniture to a large corporate client. After months of hard work, Eschbach was able to secure the contract, which will generate significant revenue for the company.

Eschbach credits his success to his strong work ethic and his ability to build relationships with potential clients. "I think it's important to understand the needs of the customer," he said. "You have to be able to listen and communicate effectively in order to make a sale.
