Hostages May Move To Another Location

By United Press International

...Western officials are watching with the weather improving for both ground and air attack. The Soviets appear ready to launch or are already operating in a series of limited offensives in the region and these opposing the Soviet pressure in the area...

They pointed to key developments:

- U.S. officials in Washington and Moscow said in a statement that the threat of conflict was high.

President Carter was said to have ordered a show of force by the Libyan government.

...The theme of the military threat is still ongoing and may be preparing for an offensive or an evacuation.

...By the recent progress of the talks, the situation on the ground has improved...

...The U.S. government has been increasing aid to the Afghan rebels. Western and Pakistan officials believe that the Afghan forces have not been able to win all out against the Soviet forces but the United States has been providing...

Save Our Surplus

The claim is growing that the United States owes its military might to the surplus of goods and services over what it could use. But this is misleading, as a surplus is not a measure of national strength. The primary factor is the nation's economic strength, which is based on productivity, investment, and innovation. The surplus, while beneficial, does not guarantee national security. It is important to maintain a strong economy to ensure the country's security.

California's Tax War

The state of California is currently embroiled in a tax war, with rival groups pushing for different tax policies. It's important to consider the long-term implications of these policies on the state's economy and budget. The state government needs to find a balance between revenue and economic growth to ensure stability.

‘G’ Rated Movie Endangered Breed

In Los Angeles, a new movie is facing censorship due to its content. The film has been given a 'G' rating, but some are calling for it to be banned. It's important to balance the freedom of expression with the responsibility to protect society from harmful content. The movie's producers are arguing that the rating is unfair and are considering legal action.

Alabama Blacks Fight School Busing

The Alabama NAACP is fighting against the school busing plan, which has been implemented to desegregate schools in the state. It's crucial to address the root causes of segregation and work towards a more equitable education system. The NAACP's efforts are commendable, and they should be supported in their mission to ensure equal education opportunities for all students.

More Bark Than Bite?

The recent developments in the Middle East have raised concerns about the possibility of war. However, it's important to approach these situations with caution and consider all possible outcomes. The region is complex, and a military response could lead to unintended consequences. Diplomacy and dialogue should be prioritized to resolve conflicts peacefully.

Families Of Hostages Not Holding Breaths

United Press International

The families of hostages held in Lebanon are not holding their breaths, waiting for their loved ones to be released. It's essential to support them in their efforts to negotiate their release and bring their family members home safely. The international community should continue to apply pressure on the authorities involved.

Camel Sacrifice

A ritual sacrifice of a camel is taking place in the Middle East. This event is significant for the local community, and it's important to respect their traditions and beliefs. The sacrifice is part of a cultural practice that has been carried on for generations.

Bliss Doesn’t Pass Up ‘Opportunity’

DALLAS (AP) — Dan Blair had been an on-again, off-again basketball coach at Southern Methodist University. Friday, bringing him into a post-season tournament for the third time and the last time he was coach, Blair said he was ready for it. “It’s been a long time since we’ve been in a tournament, and it’s been a long time since we’ve had the opportunity to play,” he said.

“Basketball is a great game, but it’s also a business,” Blair said. “You have to have the opportunity to play, and that’s what we have now.”

Blair, who led SMU to two NCAA tournament appearances in 1990 and 1993, said he was looking forward to the challenge.

“We’re going to enjoy this,” Blair said. “We’ll enjoy every moment of it.”

Nebraska Is Big 8 Swimming Champ

LINDON, Utah (AP) — The Nebraska swim team won its first Big Eight title on Friday, slipping past Kansas by one point to win the men’s and women’s championships.

The Cornhuskers finished with 134 points, while the Jayhawks had 133.

The Nebraska women’s team was led by trồng-ptc, who won the 200-yard freestyle, 100-yard backstroke and 200-yard individual medley.
