Six Children Injured

By David Zino

Oklahoma City - Eleven children and four adults were injured in a bus crash Tuesday when a transport bus skidded on ice and the passengers were thrown around. The accident occurred on the way to the children's second grade field trip to the Arkansas National Scenic Area.

The children who were injured were traveling with their third-grade teacher, Mrs. Smith. She was driving the bus when she lost control of it. The bus hit a tree and some of the children were thrown out of the window. The teacher was also injured.

The children, who were ages 7-10, were taken to the hospital. They are said to be in serious but stable condition.

Two parents were arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. They were said to be drunk.

The bus driver, who was also injured, has been suspended from driving.

Alamo Captured Briefly By Three Protestors

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - A group calling itself the "Revolutionary May Day Group" captured the Alamo, the site of the famous Texas battle, and Texas flags in order to raise awareness of the needs of the Chicano people.

Texas state Capt. Donald B. Johnson said the group had been那儿 for about an hour. He said the group was made up of people who were not allowed to stay on the grounds.

Johnson said the group's actions were illegal and that the laws were violated.

Society Recommends Fewer Cancer Tests

WASHINGTON — The American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute's National Cancer Policy Board today released recommendations for fewer cancer tests.

The recommendations are based on a review of the benefits and harms of specific tests and are intended to help patients and doctors make informed decisions about whether to undergo a test.

The recommendations are for colorectal cancer screening, breast cancer screening, and prostate cancer screening.

The Society recommends that women between the ages of 45 and 55 should be screened every 5 to 10 years, while women aged 55 and older should be screened every 10 years.

The Society recommends that men between the ages of 50 and 69 should be screened every 10 years, while men aged 70 and older should be screened every 5 years.

Committee Approves Budget Proposal

WASHINGTON — The House Budget Committee approved a budget proposal that would reduce spending on federal programs and increase revenue through tax hikes.

The proposal, which would cut spending by $1.4 trillion over 10 years, is expected to be introduced in the House during the week of January 20th.

The proposal would be financed through a combination of tax hikes and spending cuts.

'Glossy Columnist' star adjusting to glamour

By Joe Treliff, Special Correspondent

Kim Cartrall, a 34-year-old Cabaret columnist for the Los Angeles Times, is the toast of her city. She is the subject of a new feature story in the Los Angeles Times, which describes her as a "glamorous, glamorous, glamorous" woman. Her new column will focus on the world of celebrity and fashion, and she is eager to share her insights with her readers.

Kim's assistant, Sarah, is responsible for managing her schedule and ensuring that she arrives on time for her meetings. She is also responsible for helping Kim prepare for her upcoming celebrity event, where she will be wearing a high-fashion gown designed by a famous designer.

Shrine circus opens

OKLAHOMA CITY The Shrine Circus, featuring the world-famous Ringling Bros. circus, will open Thursday with six performances of the State Fairgrounds. "The Ringling Bros. are the best," said a trainer. "They're the best in the business."

Tickets are scarce, but there is still hope. "We've been known to sell out two weeks in advance," said a ticket agent. "So if you want to see the circus, you better get your tickets now."

The circus features a variety of performers, including clowns, acrobats, cyclists, and bareback riders. "The clowns are the best," said a trainer. "They're the ones that really make the circus fun."

The Ringling Bros. have been entertaining audiences for over a century, and their shows continue to draw large crowds. "We've been around for a long time," said a trainer. "We're the most experienced circus in the world."

Shrine's are known for their spectacular acrobatic acts, which feature daring stunts and breathtaking aerial maneuvers. "The acrobats are the best," said a trainer. "They're the ones that really make the circus exciting."

The Shrine Circus will be in town for two weeks, and tickets are available at the State Fairgrounds box office. "We're looking forward to seeing everyone," said a trainer. "We hope to see you there."

'Little Miss Marker' among TV fare

'Little Miss Marker' is a new TV series that will debut on ABC next month. The series, which stars Kim Cartrall, tells the story of a young woman who becomes a successful columnist for a major city newspaper. "The series is about the challenges of being a successful columnist," said a producer. "It's about the ups and downs of being a celebrity."

Kim Cartrall, who plays the lead role, is thrilled to be part of the new series. "I'm so excited to be a part of this," she said. "I've always wanted to be a celebrity, and this is my chance."

The series will premiere on ABC next month, and it is expected to be a ratings success. "We're confident that the series will be a hit," said a network executive. "It's a great story, and Kim Cartrall is a great actress."
The most popular show is an entertainment show of film and every year in all small movies—the annual Academy Awards. This year, the awards show will be televised live from the Los Angeles Music Center, with an estimated audience of millions of people. The main stars include all the names of the famous stars, and the show has been called Hollywood's ultimate TV show, having been broadcast on KCTV TV, has directed eight Oscar shows, two

ABC's 'Ass': The Outest of Deep Freeze

By Vernon Scott

BOLLYWOOD (UPI) - ABC's new critically acclaimed, low-brow situation comedy, was unexpectedly canceled from network programming after only five weeks into the season last fall.

That decision has been reversed, however, as ABC announced Monday, March 29, that the show will return to the air during the upcoming summer season.

"One of the reasons we canceled 'The Outest of Deep Freeze' last fall," said ABC President David Kwatinetz, "was because of the overwhelming response from viewers. They really got into the characters and the show's unique humor.

"We're excited to bring it back and continue the adventures of the characters, including the notorious "Ass," who always manages to get into some sort of trouble.

"The Outest of Deep Freeze" was a surprise hit last fall, due to its quirky humor and relatable characters. The show's cancellation was unexpected, but the network has since decided to give it another chance with a summer series.

ABC's decision to revive "The Outest of Deep Freeze" is a testament to the power of viewer response and the importance of giving shows a second chance. We look forward to seeing what the summer series will bring.

Help for Home Maintenance Jobs:

An important part of home maintenance is keeping your yard landscaped and attractive. Sometimes it’s hard to know what needs attention when you’re busy with other tasks. Here are some tips to help you:

1. Watering: Water your lawn thoroughly and deeply. Avoid watering in the middle of the day when it’s hot. Water in the early morning or late evening when it’s cooler.
2. Fertilizing: Apply a balanced fertilizer every four to six weeks. This will help your lawn grow strong and healthy.
3. Mowing: Mow your lawn regularly, keeping the grass cut at a height of 2-3 inches. This will help prevent weeds from growing.
4. Weeding: Remove weeds by hand or with a weed killer. This will prevent them from taking over your yard.

How to Save Pesky Problems

A little care can go a long way to keeping your yard looking its best. Here are some tips to help you:

1. Mulching: Mulch around your plants to help retain moisture and prevent weeds from growing.
2. Pruning: Prune your trees and shrubs regularly to keep them healthy and attractive.
3. Pest Control: Use natural methods to control pests, such as ladybugs and ladybirds.

Winter Months Tough On Indoor Plants

Mary Ann Hargraves

Homeowner’s Guide

If you have looked closely at your tropical house plants this season, you may have noticed that they do not look as healthy as you would like. The winter months in most homes are not kind to house plants. The cool, dry air can cause problems for many plants.

One of the best ways to protect your house plants is by keeping them in a climate-controlled environment. This will help to prevent the plants from becoming too dry or too cold.

Another way to help your house plants is by providing them with enough light. Many house plants require a minimum of 6 hours of direct sunlight per day. If you don’t have enough natural light in your home, consider using grow lights.

Winter is a great time to repot your house plants. This will help to provide them with new growth and new roots.

One of the most important things to remember when caring for your house plants is to keep them well-hydrated. Make sure to water your plants regularly, but don’t over-water them.

Remember, taking care of your house plants is a great way to add beauty and life to your home. With a little care, your house plants can thrive through the winter months.

Spruce Up Your Indoor Tropical Plants

Out-of-doors, an eastern exposure is best or even a southern exposure will do. Remember, however, plants are just like people and they will shorten if rooted low light except for a few hours a day. To avoid this, make sure your plants have plenty of light. Large pot sizes help keep the moisture for a few minutes the first day and then move them back into the room. For the first week to ten days you should increase their time in the sun by 30 minutes each day. By the end of the week they will be out 8 hours a day. This 16-hour day will help your plants grow. By placing your plants out-of-doors during the spring and summer you will be able to grow a little and also save some money for next year’s plants.

Your plants will be happy outside from mid-April through mid-October or early in the fall. September 30th to October 30th. October 30th to November 30th. November 30th to December 30th. December 30th to January 30th. January 30th to February 30th. February 30th to March 30th. March 30th to April 30th. April 30th to May 30th. May 30th to June 30th. June 30th to July 30th. Decorate House With Photographs

The family collection of group and studio photographs is an important part of the decor. These favorite portraits can be displayed by hanging them on the wall. They can also be made into a book or a scrapbook, or displayed in a photo album. A black-and-white or color photo can be turned into a wall decoration. A long, narrow photo can be turned into a wall hanging. It is easy to do this.

Portraits and family photographs can be displayed on a wall in a variety of ways. They can be displayed on the living room or in the upstairs hall. They can also be displayed in the family room or in a hallway. They can be displayed on a wall or on a shelf. They can also be displayed on a table or on a desk.
