Clergymen To Spend Easter With Hostages

By United Press International

Three American clergymen prepared to leave for Iran Friday to spend Easter with the 39 Americans held hostage in the U.S. Embassy, the second time since they were seized there. If the captives have been released, the hostage crisis could end after only six months without a war or a diplomatic settlement. The hostages have been held without food or water for five days, but the exact number of hostages has not been released.

The clergymen, who were scheduled to arrive in the United States today, are Rev. John H. Marshall, a Presbyterian minister from New York City; Rev. J. Douglas Brown, a United Church minister from Seattle; and Rev. John S. Shanks, a Roman Catholic priest from Los Angeles.

The clergymen are expected to arrive in Teheran at 8 p.m. local time, according to White House officials.

Meeting Competition

With all the talk these days of the importance of maintaining a competitive edge, it's easy to forget that sometimes a little friendly competition can go a long way.

Thoughts

By Bob Greene

In what may be a landmark study, researchers have found that maintaining a competitive mindset can actually improve one's health and well-being.

Redefining 'Leisure'

The American worker has a new definition of leisure, according to a recent survey. What used to be seen as a chance to relax and unwind is now viewed as an opportunity to stay competitive.

U.S. Economy Sound, Although Mismanaged

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The U.S. economy is sound, but its management is often criticized. The nation's economic strength is evident in its low unemployment rate and low inflation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5 (UPI) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., who was presented with the human rights award by the Congress of Racial Equality here yesterday, said he had not been asked about the vice presidential project yet and that his name was not on the list of names that had been considered.

"I don't know what the list is," he said. "I don't know who has been approached by whom, who is considered for what, who is under consideration for what. I don't really know the answers to any of the questions that have been asked," he added. "But I have been approached by a lot of people about the possibility of being a candidate for the vice presidency." He said he had not been asked to consider a vice presidential candidacy yet.

CBS Finds Reagan Talks Error-Filled

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (UPI) — Ronald Reagan's speeches are error-filled and his campaign talking points are stale and his campaign manager, Richard M. Nixon, has not made his presence felt.

A new report by the CBS News team found that Reagan's speeches were filled with errors and that his campaign was relying on old talking points.

Spring Break Celebrants Stay Out Of Trouble

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 26 (UPI) — Two college students were kicked out of the Papas Beach Bar and Grill here yesterday for allegedly drinking too much. The two students, who were said to be enjoying a spring break party, were asked to leave when the manager of the bar, who was not present at the time, heard them.

"They were drinking too much," said the manager. "I had to get rid of them."

Lance Trial In Confusion

ATLANTA — Lawyers for the two men accused of raping a young black woman in a senseless attack followed the opening statements in the jury selection process yesterday. The defense attorneys, who are seeking a change of venue, argued that the trial should be moved to a more neutral setting because of the publicity surrounding the case.

In the meantime, the trial is expected to continue as scheduled, with opening statements set for next week.

It's Time For Some Common Sense
This Message Brought To You By Concerned Automobile Dealers In Our Community.

IN THE EARLY 1970's
The consumer groups, environmentalist, and government demanded that new cars get better mileage and pollute less.

SINCE 1976
The automobiles pollute approximately 90% less and get twice the gas mileage of many of these early cars.

IN 1980
Now it's time for reasonable people to say: Doesn't logic dictate that these same groups should demand that these new cars be driven, that the older cars are eliminated?

If you're interested, here are some surprising and little known statistics:

* Every time a thousand 1980 American automobiles replace a thousand 1975 and older cars, 10,112 barrels of oil per year are saved and every time a five year old car leaves the highway, our air becomes a little cleaner.

* The automobile industry is the largest industry in the world. It has more than 850,000 businesses related to it.

* It provides jobs for over 14 million men and women — 23% of the nation's labor force — nearly one out of every six workers is employed by an industry (directly related to the automobile industry). 1 out of 4 persons is employed by an industry indirectly related.

* Every time an additional million new vehicles are manufactured, 1.1 million jobs are created. Every time new car sales go down, 1.1 million people lose the job market and the employment goes up.

* Our automobiles have produced a new way of life. Today, there are 10,000 shopping centers, 5,000 drive-in theatres, 16,000 drive-in restaurants, 31,600 drive-in banks.

We thought it was important that you know.

As soon as everybody is driving a 1980 — The sooner we can stop importing as much oil — period!

A MESSAGE FROM THE NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ASSOCIATION
