MWC Man Faces Extortion Charge

By Harry Kelly

Oklahoma City — A federal grand jury Friday indicted a MWC oil company executive on extortion charges in connection with the March 23 kidnapping of a McAllen, Texas, woman.

Nicholas Edward Ogletree, 25, was indicted Friday by the federal grand jury for the Western District of Texas on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to commit extortion. Ogletree was arrested March 26 in Oklahoma City after a joint federal local law enforcement operation rescued the 28-year-old woman and her son.

Ogletree has been in custody since his arrest. He faces up to life in prison on the charge.

The woman, who was kidnapped in McAllen, Texas, was rescued in Oklahoma City.

Youngsters 'Borrow' Truck

CLINTON (UPI) — The rate of thefts of trucks and trailers in central Oklahoma has increased in recent months.

Thieves are apparently targeting trucks and trailers at night.

A 28-year-old man was arrested for theft of a truck and trailer.

He admitted to the crime and was booked into the county jail.

The victim claimed that the truck was stolen from his farm in the country.

"I was going to use the truck to move my furniture to my new house," the victim said.

The truck was a 1965 Ford F-100.

Nations Are Reluctant To Back Carter Efforts

By Barry James

LONDON (UPI) — European leaders and nations today are said to have the least to lose by imposing sanctions against President Jimmy Carter's administration. They are expected to make a decision soon on whether to impose sanctions against Carter's administration.

The European Union, which has been trying to negotiate a peaceful solution to the crisis in Central America, is expected to announce a decision on sanctions today.

A British official said that the European Union is expected to announce sanctions against the Carter administration soon.

The official said that there is a consensus among European leaders that Carter's administration is not making progress in the negotiations.
