Fickle Allies

From the situation in the Middle East to the domestic economy of the United States, a pattern is evident in the relationship between our two allies, Israel and the United States. This pattern is not new, but it has become more pronounced in recent years.

In the Middle East, the United States has supported Israel's efforts to establish itself as a viable state. However, the United States has also been critical of Israel's actions in areas such as human rights and occupation of Palestinian territories. This has led to tension and strained relations between the two nations.

Domestically, the United States has provided significant financial aid to Israel, particularly in the defense sector. However, the United States has also imposed economic sanctions on Israel for its actions in the Middle East. This has led to a mixed message in support and criticism.

Overall, the relationship between Israel and the United States is complex and multifaceted. While there is a strong bond of history and shared values, there are also significant differences in interests and policies that can lead to tension and conflict.

Victim Of Society's Last Taboo

Bob Greene

There's a new term in the language of our time: "fickle allies." It's a word that describes the behavior of those who ally themselves with one another for their own selfish purposes, only to turn on each other when it suits their own interests. It's a word that describes the relationship between Israel and the United States.

Just as there are individuals who can be considered fickle allies, so too can nations. Israel and the United States are such nations. They have a history of working together, but their relationship is often characterized by periodic tension and conflict.

There are many reasons for this. One is the difference in their interests. Israel is a small nation, and its security is its top priority. The United States is a large and powerful nation, and its interests are far more diverse. When these interests clash, it can lead to strained relations.

Another reason is the difference in their values. Israel is a democratic country, and it places a high value on human rights and democracy. The United States is a country that has been criticized for its human rights record, particularly in the Middle East. This can lead to tension and conflict.

In conclusion, the relationship between Israel and the United States is complex and multifaceted. It is influenced by factors such as their interests and values. It is a relationship that is characterized by both cooperation and tension.

Traber Sparks Orange Victory, 21-7

By Tim Nichols
EL PASO, Tex. — It was hard to keep a scorekeeper from time to time. With 512 minutes of action remaining before halftime, Traber, the men they call "giant," managed to score 21 of the last 25 points of the game to lead the Oranges to a 21-7 victory.

"Our running game was good," said Traber, "but we didn't get many opportunities to pass. But I'm proud of the way we played. We played a good defensive game and kept the bookstore in check. The bookstore is down, but we're still in the game. We're going to keep working hard, I think we're going to get a win."

The bookstore, down from its first-place lead, was eliminated from the playoff race with two games left in the season. Traber, who scored 21 of the last 25 points of the game, said, "We're not going to let this happen again. We're going to work hard. We're going to get a win."

Denver Gets Defense, Pitching For 6-2 Win

By Warren Drake
LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Denver's defense and pitching combined to shut out the Angels 6-2 in an interleague game at Dodger Stadium. The Angels' only runs of the game came on a wild pitch in the first inning.

"We didn't have much of an offensive game," said Angels manager Bill Gates, "but our defense and pitching were good. We kept them off the board. We're going to keep working hard. We're going to get a win."
Rhodes Optimistic Heading Into 5th Year

"If it isn't exactly what those Rhodesies had in mind, we'll make do," said Al Eschbach, "but there's no doubt that this is our time to shine. We've been waiting for this moment for a long time, and we're not going to let anyone deny us our victory. This is our chance to show the world what Rhodes can do."

Ellis Island

Immigrants’ Gateway Revisited; They Called It ‘Isle of Tears’

NEW YORK (AP) — They came, 11 million strong, from the 1880s to the 1920s, a veritable flood of humanity that poured over the bars of Ellis Island. Millions more on sailboats and steamers would later arrive under the banner of the Statue of Liberty.

But as the United States marks the 100th anniversary of its busiest immigration station, Ellis Island, the ghosts of those who passed through here are remembering the effects of the 1980s and 1990s. The island has become a symbol of the nation’s past, a place where history is made.

Economy Launched Exodus

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (AP) — The Mexican government has launched a major effort to repatriate millions of its citizens who have moved to the United States in search of better opportunities.

It’s a move that is expected to cost billions of dollars and could lead to a significant reduction in the number of illegal immigrants in the United States.

Lance In Jury’s Hands

ATLANTA (AP) — After a sometimes heated debate, a jury in Chicago is expected to decide whether to award a $16 million settlement to the family of a teenage boy who was killed in a shooting.

The boy’s parents, who are suing the city of Chicago, say the city failed to properly supervise the police officers involved in the shooting.

Interest Rates Stagger Auto Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interest rates are rising, but the auto industry is not looking for any rate hikes. Automakers are hoping for a break in order to keep their customers interested in buying new vehicles.

The rate hike is expected to cost the industry billions of dollars, according to analysts. Some have predicted that the increase could lead to a decrease in sales.

Too Much Surgeon?

Over the past decade, the amount of surgery in the U.S. has risen by 25 percent. Too often, however, operations are being performed needlessly.

"At the end of 1984, 2,000 million more dollars were spent on surgery than in 1973. In 1973, surgery was the answer to many diseases. Today, surgery is the answer to many more diseases."

Dr. George Cole: "Often there are alternatives."

You don't know me, I realize...

But, I want you to have this before it's too late.

Hello... My name is Bud Weckesser. I'm 46 years old and I own a small firm in Dunkirk, New York. Our phone number is 716-366-8300.

A number of years ago I was in a serious accident in Kent, Ohio. I had no savings and a bankrupt state wagon that wasn't paid for.

Our insurance didn't cover it and I was playing cards with some friends. My partner won and he bet me that—on our budget—he was sure I knew 101 ways to fix his wagon. That hurt. So I challenged her. "If you'll type up the recipes," I said, "I'll take out a small ad in the National Enquirer and we'll see if anyone will pay $3.95 for your collection.

I rented a P.O. Box in Kent and placed a small ad. It was surprisingly cheap.

Several weeks later I stopped by the post office. I walked over and there I was, I looked through the little glass window on the door. I almost dropped my key. The box was stuffed—jammed—full of letters. All of them contained checks for $3.95 and they'd come from all parts of the U.S. and Canada.

The next few days were hectic, to say the least. My wife typed the recipes. I had them duplicated, stapled them together and our crude little book was born. Every day, orders continued to pour in. And every day we'd have another check and send out our stapled recipe packets.

I decided to try another ad. This time I placed a classified ad for some of my beer and wine making recipes. In Minnesota, I remember, I had $12,000 ordered in. Over $1,000.00 in just several weeks. And, as our business grew, I corresponded with our customers who were mostly women.

A husband-wife team from Santa Barbara put together a book about how to "win at card games". They pulled in $14,870.00 in just 5 months... all cash... all orders... all from small ads... all by mail.

As Oregon man informed me he had made over $100,000... and we got a booklet about getting rid of moles and gophers in your yard. Again... all by mail.

A Maryland man wrote an 84" x 11" booklet about business advice. So I bought him over $40,000.00... all by mail.

Don't misunderstand. This isn't a get-rich-quick scheme. It's a business, and, as such, it's speculative. But test ads are cheap (as low as $3.95 for a national ad and the profit potential is staggering) An Ohio man spoke with me a large display ad in a national business supplement. A few days later orders started pouring in—mail orders fell! Within the next two months he received over $220,000.00 in cash for his $3.00 booklet.

So, I want you to think for yourself. "Yes, but this only works for a few lucky people." If that's your thought—and I don't blame you for being skeptical—please try this simple little test. It won't cost you a cent.

1. Go to the library and get some 1979 year-end issues of magazines with classified ads like Popular Mechanics and Sports Afield, etc.

2. Select current issue of these magazines.

3. Compare the classified ads. Look at the first test issue then at the back issue. Note how many of these same classified ads are still running, ONE YEAR LATER. People don't continue running ads for one year unless they're making money at it.

Let me give you some more amazing facts about this unique little business:

• You can start at home... in your spare time... quietly... it won't interfere with your present job.

• You can make a test ad for as little as $3.95 in a variety of well-known national magazines.

• You don't even have to write a booklet yourself. I'll show you how to obtain "how-to" booklets or pamphlets and send them out. Below they are already written, already printed and ready to sell. Even better, you don't have to buy them until you get customers to buy them in. And you handle only the portion of the book you sell. In hand. In short, you don't tie up any money in stock or supplies of books.

• You can set your own hours. All you need is a post office box nearby.

• You can deduct up to 33% of the expenses on your home or set up your office at home.

• You can travel whenever you wish—or just leave town. All you need to do is pack your mail twice a week. You don't have to go to the office. You'll open orders, remove the checks (95% of them don't bounce, believe it or not) and bank your money just like this.

• In the afternoon or evening, you can type the labels for the envelopes you'll use to ship your booklets. Ship them off at the post office and collect your money. No bosses, no layoffs, no strikes, no rat race.

I've put all of my instructions—every secret—in a simple Starter Guide. And if you're wondering why I'd share my business with you—especially if it's so profitable—there's why:

The range of topics and ads is almost infinite. I won't be competing with you nor you with me. The advertising is all temporary. In fact, the ideas I never tried yet. There's plenty of room for everyone.

I'll show you...

• Where and when to get national ads for only $13.50... ads you can run month after month.

• How to obtain FREE ADS—YOU PAY ONLY IF THE AD IS SUCCESSFUL.

• How to start with no money in books or supplies.

• Where to obtain hundreds of pre-printed booklets—at super low wholesale prices.

• How to use word your ad— I'll include various sample ads.

• How to set up your office in a spare room or basement.

• I'll also include a giant list of "how-to" topics.

• All... the sample ads, forms, lists, addresses—everything you'll need to get started within thirty days.

If you're still skeptical, let me offer you a most unusual guarantee. I'll send you the Starter Guide for SEVEN MONTHS. That gives you plenty of time to actually try my materials. If, at the end of thirty months—or anytime between—you want your money back, just return what I've sent you. I'll issue you a full refund within three working days—no questions, no delays. That's our iron-clad guarantee.

Also, please feel free to POSTDATE your check.

THIRTY DAYS. If you're not satisfied with my materials just send them back and I'll refund your original UNCONDITIONAL CHECK.

To begin, just write the words, Dollars In Your Mailbox on a piece of paper. Enclose your check for $13.50 and send it to Bud Weckesser, at my address: Green Tree Press, Dept. 134, 1057 Temple Road, Dunkirk, N.Y. 14048. If you wish at mail delivery, please add $1.00.

Your Newspaper Of The Future

A message from Morton Frank, Publisher of THE DAILY WELLS

On Monday, February 8, the cover story in today's FUND WELLS was an article by Allan Smale, a member of the Small Newspaper Publishers Association (SNPA) from Littleton, Colorado. Smale's perspective on the future of newspapers is one that many in the industry would do well to heed.

The evolution of the newspaper has been a slow and steady process, with the advent of new technologies and changing consumer habits. But Smale's article highlights the need for newspapers to adapt and evolve in order to remain relevant in today's digital age.

He argues that newspapers must focus on providing quality, in-depth reporting and engaging content that cannot be found elsewhere. This includes covering local news, community events, and important issues that affect residents. Smale points out that newspapers are valuable resources for people who want to stay informed about the world around them.

In addition, Smale emphasizes the importance of building relationships with readers and engaging them in the community. Newspapers, he says, can foster a sense of belonging and bring people together, which is especially important in today's divided society.

Smale also notes that newspapers can offer unique advantages over other media, such as the ability to engage readers in a more personal and interactive way. This can be done through social media, email newsletters, and other digital tools.

Finally, Smale stresses the importance of innovation and experimentation. Newspapers must be willing to try new things and take risks in order to stay relevant and successful in the long run.

All in all, Smale's article provides a thoughtful and encouraging perspective on the future of newspapers. It is clear that these institutions play a vital role in our community and will continue to do so for many years to come.

The Challenge to Newspapers

By Katherine Graham

Chairman and Publisher of THE CHALLENGE

The 1980s are off to a particularly promising start in the world of newspapers. The first half of this decade has been marked by an incredible wave of innovation and change in the industry, with new technologies and business models leading the way.

One of the most significant developments has been the rise of digital newspapers. These online publications offer readers the ability to access breaking news, local and national events, and in-depth features with just a few clicks of a button. The challenge for traditional print newspapers is to find ways to compete with this new breed of media.

Another key trend is the growth of local news and community journalism. With the rise of social media and blogs, people are more connected than ever before, and they are increasingly interested in knowing what is happening in their own backyard. This presents an opportunity for local newspapers to reach new audiences and build stronger connections with their communities.

Finally, newspapers must continue to adapt to the changing preferences of their readers. This includes offering a range of content formats, including print, digital, and audio options. It also means being willing to experiment with new revenue streams, such as subscription models and sponsored content.

The future of newspapers is bright, but it will require ingenuity and hard work to make it happen. The key is to embrace innovation, listen to readers, and stay grounded in the values that have made newspapers so successful for so long.

Getting to the Root of Math Anxiety

By Leisy Berger

Do you freeze up when faced with algebra? Does thinking and solving for x make you sweat? Or is math anxiety so bad that you avoid or detest it completely? If so, you are not alone. Math anxiety is a real condition affecting millions of people. It is a common problem, and the best way to deal with it is to understand it and overcome it.

How do you acquire math anxiety? Research has shown that math anxiety is influenced by a variety of factors, including early experiences with math, cultural beliefs about math ability, and personal experiences with math. People who have had negative experiences with math, such as being criticized or punished for mistakes, are more likely to develop math anxiety.

The key to overcoming math anxiety is to take a positive approach and to focus on your strengths. This means practicing math regularly, seeking out help when you need it, and using positive self-talk to boost your confidence.

You can overcome math anxiety with practice and persistence. By: Leisy Berger, Ph.D.

Doomsday Powder for Roaches can Endanger Species.

The cockroach could become the next endangered species if a California manufacturer has its way. Alain Brie, who 30 years ago developed and lent his name to what is now a standard household cleaner, COPPER BRITE, has a new product called ROACH PROOF.

Brie states that because roaches simply do not recognize ROACH PROOF as an insecticide, they do not avoid it, thus scattering to other parts of your residence as they do with the more toxic insecticides. Copper has been a roach repellant for centuries, but it is ill not only the roaches you see, but also those hiding and multiplying in your walls and that you cannot find against reinfection.

In scientific tests conducted during a major research project by a leading Southern University, the ROACH PROOF formula was tested in heavily infested housing developments, restaurants, hotels and grocery stores against the most powerful insecticides used today. In every instance including tests just completed in 1979, ROACH PROOF proved strikingly superior in eliminating roaches and preventing reinfection.

ROACH PROOF is registered by the United States Environmental Protection Agency for use in all residences and can be used in homes with children and pets. The powder is odorless and non-dusty and has no harmful or irritating effects on the user as it is simply applied with a teaspoon under kitchen appliances and other hidden areas.

There is a problem, however. Copper, Brie says, has a tendency to leach out over time, and these leachers apparently think it's unprofitable to stock the one-shot roach killer on their shelf when other roach killers come in again and again to buy the other roach insecticides. So he has decided to sell his product directly to the public for $1.00 a pound. ROACH PROOF costs 7.95 (including postage) for a one-pound can. Airmail 1.00 additional per can. In California add 6% tax. One can covers up to 4-room residence, plus one can for basement and garage. To obtain the product, send a check or money order to COPPER BRITE, Inc., Dept. 93 at 5147 West Jefferson Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90017.

PEOPLE QUIZ: By John E. Gibson

Can Your Hands "Say" — I'm Lying?

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Your hands "say" things everyone knows — they tell you if you're lying.
2. Your hands "say" things few people know — they tell you who you can trust.
3. Your hands "say" things you can't see — they tell you what's wrong with your body.
4. Your hands "say" things you can only hear — they tell you what's going on in your mind.

ANSWERS

1. True. The hands can reveal many things about a person's mood and state of mind. This can be used to help determine if someone is lying or not.
2. False. While the hands can reveal some things about a person's state of mind, they do not necessarily lie about who one can trust.
3. False. The hands can reveal some things about a person's health, but they do not detect things that are not visible to the eye.
4. False. The hands do not have a way of conveying sound, so they cannot "say" things through hearing.

How Does Deborah Raffin Balance Career and Marriage? Very Nicely, Thank You!

By Jone Hershey

With her natural, no-nonsense, hard-understanding, style of dress, actress Deborah Raffin looks like someone you might meet on the way to class at an Ivy League college. She's strong, and you can tell she's a loving mother — the kind who旗下 goods this to a baby that you feel like you're part of your family. At 26, Deborah has been in films and television series for a year. Her husband and partner, Michael Hargan, has also managed to keep going strong and begun work in New York on their second picture. Their two children, both more than 2 years old, are part of their busy lives.

The two projects of Deborah's that the public will see this spring are the recently completed Columbia Pictures film "Elvis With A Love" and a CBS mini-series "House of The Eagles". In "Elvis With A Love", Raffin plays a dedicated young woman who is struggling to maintain her family's traditions.

Like her husband, Deborah is dedicated to her career and to her family. She credits Michael with being a supportive partner and sharing the responsibilities of raising their children.

She's a success story, and she's right to be proud of what she's accomplished. But she's also human, and she has her moments of uncertainty and doubt.

Deborah Raffin and her husband, Michael Hargan, shared their lives with us.

How can you choose the best diet plan to lose weight and keep it off? The following are some tips:

1. Choose a healthy diet plan that you can stick to. This means choosing a variety of foods that are healthy and satisfying. For example, you could choose a diet that includes plenty of fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and lean proteins.

2. Make sure you get enough exercise. Exercise is important for losing weight and keeping it off. You could start by walking for 30 minutes a day, or you could try swimming or cycling.

3. Get enough sleep. Lack of sleep can affect your metabolism, which can make it harder to lose weight and keep it off.

4. Stay hydrated. Drinking enough water is important for losing weight and keeping it off. Aim for at least 8 cups of water a day.

5. Limit your sugar intake. Sugary foods and drinks can be high in calories and can contribute to weight gain.

By Wanda Urbanska

Sometimes you'll probably give almost anything to get what you want. You're standing at the checkout counter in a supermarket when someone announces the newest microwave. "That's mine!" you think. You rush to the cash register, but you see no one else nearby. "I'll have that one," you declare, but the cashier looks at you as if you're crazy.

Do you know how much that actually costs? Can we cultivate good luck the way we do health? If it's able to go from being an unlucky person to a lucky one?

Some believe that the tendency to be lucky or unlucky is assigned to an individual at birth, and there's very little anyone can do to change it. Others see luck as capricious, but nonetheless countable. They see lucky charms, knock on wood, or put a finger to their ear to bring good luck their way.

More likely, however, is the idea that luck is one of the great unknowns, that the human mind is so often in a state of ignorance.

"I portray Brooke from 16 to 34," says Deborah. "I think it's one of the things that's great about writing for film: you get to play all kinds of roles," she adds. "It's not like TV's what I've got to do." For now, she'll focus on her role, year-round, and in even 5 years.

1990 is a remarkable historic year! It is exactly 20 years ago that John F. Kennedy was elected President of the United States and exactly 120 years ago that Abraham Lincoln was elected President. This century between these two great leaders is so startling that if these documentary facts were not fully considered, we would find them almost impossible to believe.
