Canada Ends Boycotts, Boycotts Olympics

OTTAWA (1761) — Canada will have better Olympic Games than Sweden, according to Prime Minister Mark Macdonald, who announced today that the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan had strengthened Canada's position in the Olympics.

Macdonald has been waiting for this moment for years. He has been fighting the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, which has weakened the Soviet Union's position in the Olympics. He has been working hard to win support from other countries, and now he has succeeded.

"We have won," said Macdonald. "This is the moment we have been waiting for. We have won.

"Canada will have better Olympic Games than Sweden," he said. "We have won.

"We have won," he said again.

Macdonald then took the microphone and announced that the Canadian Olympic Committee had decided to boycott the Games. He said that this was a necessary step to show the world that Canada was not going to be pushed around.

"We will not be pushed around," he said. "We will not be pushed around.

"We will not be pushed around," he said again.

He then proceeded to name the members of the Canadian Olympic Committee who would be going to the Games. He said that they were the best athletes in the world, and that they would bring glory to Canada.

"We have the best athletes in the world," he said. "We have the best athletes in the world.

"We have the best athletes in the world," he said again.

He then closed the microphone and walked off, leaving the crowd in awe.

Everyone Pays For Proof-Of-Purchase Thieves

DEAR SUPERMARKET SHOPPER,

I am a whole new breed of consumer who for years had been a victim of proof of purchase thieves. I call myself the 'smart shopper' and I have managed to keep my money safe from the hands of scoundrels who profit when a consumer is duped by a crook.

I have learned to observe my supermarket carefully and take note of anything that might be suspect. I have discovered that many shoplifters are attracted to supermarkets and that they scout out the aisles and shelves for items that they consider easy targets.

I have also learned to be alert to any activity that seems unusual. I watch the checkout clerks carefully and note any transactions that seem odd. I have found that many shoplifters try to avoid detection by pretending to be shopping for something else.

I have also learned to be observant of my fellow shoppers and to note any unusual behavior. I have found that many shoplifters try to blend in with the crowd and pose as legitimate shoppers.

I urge all supermarket shoppers to be alert to the problem of proof of purchase thieves and to take appropriate steps to protect themselves and their families.

Now's The Time
To Eat More Pork

By Conner Baker

A recent survey of 1,200 people in the United States indicated that 82% of them have never tried pork. This is a significant figure, considering the fact that pork is a nutritious and flavorful meat. The survey also revealed that the majority of people who have never tried pork believe that it is unappetizing and unwholesome.

I believe that people need to be educated about the nutritional benefits of pork. Pork is a good source of protein, iron, and vitamins A and E. It is also low in saturated fat and cholesterol.

I urge all supermarkets to emphasize the nutritional benefits of pork and to encourage people to try it. I believe that if people are educated about the benefits of pork, they will be more likely to try it and enjoy it.
