Becoming A '10' Isn't That Easy"

By Gina Moon

It isn’t easy to become a “10” — beautiful, that is. The problem is that everyone seems to have an opinion about “beauty.” And it can be quite confusing.

To be fair, the term “10” has never been defined. In fact, it’s a subjective measure of beauty. But there are some common characteristics that people often associate with being a “10.”

First, there’s the issue of intelligence. A “10” should be intelligent, right? Of course, but intelligence isn’t just about having a high IQ. It’s about how a person uses their mind. A “10” should be able to think critically, communicate effectively, and solve problems.

Another characteristic of a “10” is leadership. A “10” should be someone who can lead and inspire others. They should have a strong sense of purpose and The Journal

Lawmakers Win Round In Funding Challenge

By Ray McCarthy

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — The State Senate Committee Wednesday issued a 5-2 ruling in favor of increased spending for state programs, setting up a potential political confrontation as lawmakers haggle over appropriations bills.

The Senate, in a reversal of original jurisdiction, meaning it agreed to hear the case, and is expected to pass the bills Monday, when the state Senate Committee will meet. The Senate is expected to take further consideration.

The ruling Wednesday means the Legislature is now in a more favorable position if it were to pass a budget when it reconvenes Monday after a three-month recess.

A total of 11 appropriation bills were ordered to file a reply brief by June 30. Senate Speaker Dan Beegle, Senate President Pro Tem Peter G. Hays, D-Durham, Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Dan Dearing, D-Durham, and Rep. Bill Whalen, D-Thuco, filed the suit, asking the Senate to intercede and support the bills in order to reach a speedy decision.

"We have an obligation to the people of Oklahoma, to the Legislature, to the Republican Party," said Senate Majority Leader Carl Folsom, D-Durham. "We believe in the Constitution and the rule of law."

Folsom said he had asked his colleagues to support the bills and then file a reply brief if they get an unfavorable decision. He said he was "very hopeful" the Senate will pass a budget when it reconvenes Monday.

"Lance Acquitted Of Bank Fraud"

By Robert Harrington

AKA "Yonah" (MIDWEST CITY - Former federal defendant Donia Bancroft Lance today said the four trials he faced for fraud were "nothing compared to what I went through in jail") Lance was charged with 20 counts of misappropriation of bank funds and one count of false pretenses in September 1985. Lance's attorneys based their defense on expert testimony that the defendant's financial transactions were not solely for the purpose of personal enrichment. The trial ended in a mistrial in July 1986. Lance, 39, pleaded guilty to some of the charges and was given four years probation. He was acquitted of all charges in the second trial. The third trial ended in a mistrial in May 1987. Lance was acquitted of all charges in the fourth trial in June 1987. Lance's lawyers have announced plans to appeal the case.

Different Connections

On the subject of fire fighting in Oregon, the state legislature is considering a bill that would establish a uniform fire service. This is a step in the right direction, but we need to go further. The fire service in Oregon is a patchwork of independent departments, each with its own policies and training. This makes it difficult to provide a consistent level of service.

There is a long history of fire fighting in Oregon. The Alsea country fire department has been fighting fires for over a century. The firefighters have a sense of community and dedication to their work. They are an example of the kind of dedicated service that we need to see throughout the state.

Billy Graham

DEAR MR. GRAHAM: I am a young woman who has been asked... the community. Please consider joining us.

Thoughts

The role of fire fighting in Oregon is important. It is not only about protecting property, but also about protecting the community. The firefighters are not just heroes, but also community leaders.

Inflation Doubles Price Of Happiness

WASHINGTON - The things that inflation has done to me since I started coming here is something else. It has doubled the price of happiness for me. Now, I can't tell you what you would pay to be happy, but I can tell you that inflation has made it twice as expensive.

I have always been a happy person, but inflation has made it harder for me to afford the things that make me happy. For example, I used to be able to afford a $50 lunch at the restaurant across the street. Now, it costs $100. It's not just the cost of living that has increased, but also the cost of doing things that make me happy.

Hollies Hurt

North Star's Jim Horacek, seen here playing against Minnesota at the Forum in Los Angeles last month, is expected to return to the Dallas Stars this week. He has been out of the lineup for the past two weeks with a shoulder injury. Horacek is a key player for the Stars, who are looking to make a deep run in the playoffs. They currently sit in fourth place in the Western Conference and are looking to secure a playoff spot.

The Stars have been playing well under the guidance of head coach Ken Hitchcock. They have won four of their last five games and are looking to continue their success in the playoffs. Horacek's return will be a boost for the team, as he brings a strong presence on the ice.

The Stars face a tough challenge in the playoffs, as they will have to face teams like the Los Angeles Kings and the Anaheim Mighty Ducks. However, they are confident in their ability to compete and are looking to make a statement in the playoffs.

Red Wings Considered Pests

The Buffalo Sabres have been dealt a tough hand in the playoffs, as they face the Detroit Red Wings in a best-of-seven series. The Red Wings have been consistently dominating the league with their skilled forwards and solid defense. They have been considered pests by many teams in the league, and the Sabres are no exception.

The Sabres will have to be at their best to have a chance against the Red Wings. They will have to rely on their strong defense and solid goaltending to keep the Red Wings at bay. If they can do that, they have a shot at winning the series and advancing to the next round.

Sun Sets On Maharajahs, Memories Live On

Maharaja, July 1977 - As the last rays of the sun cast their final spell on the splendor of the palace, the Maharaja sat alone in his study, reflecting on the years that had passed. He had ruled his kingdom with dignity and grace, but now it was time to step down and pass the baton to the next generation.

The palace, once a symbol of power and opulence, was now a testament to a bygone era. The maharaja, dressed in his traditional regalia, watched as the last of the courtiers made their way out, each carrying with them a piece of his legacy. The palace, once filled with the sound of laughter and music, was now silent, save for the distant echo of the wind through the corridors.

The maharaja's thoughts drifted back to the days when he had first ascended the throne, surrounded by the admiration of his people. He had brought about many changes in the kingdom, modernizing it while preserving its cultural heritage. He had prioritized education and healthcare, ensuring that the people of his kingdom lived in peace and prosperity.

As he sat in the twilight, he knew that his legacy would live on in the hearts of his people and the memories of those who had known him. He closed his eyes, a smile playing on his lips, content that he had fulfilled his duty as a leader.

The maharaja realized that though the palace and its riches would fade, the memories of his reign would remain etched in the minds of his people, a reminder of a life well-lived.

About People

Pops Really Poppin'

Pops has been the subject of much speculation. The rumors about his true identity have been rife for years, with many believing that he is a secret agent or a high-ranking government official. However, there is no concrete evidence to support these claims.

Pops is known for his eccentric and enigmatic behavior. He frequently appears in public events, always dressed in a colorful outfit that draws attention. His speeches are filled with wisdom and humor, and he often imparts valuable advice to his listeners.

In his personal life, Pops is a private individual, rarely revealing much about his past or present. However, it is believed that he has a family, although their existence is not confirmed.

The mystery surrounding Pops has only increased his appeal, making him a beloved figure among the people. Despite the rumors and speculations, the true identity of Pops remains as elusive as ever, adding to the intrigue that surrounds him.

In an interview, Pops said, "I live my life in the moment, and I enjoy every second of it. I don't need to worry about the past or the future. I just live for the present."
