Dead Soldiers Finally Home

DOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Del. (UPI) — The long and difficult search for the bodies of American soldiers who fell during the Korean War ended Tuesday when they arrived at Dover Air Force Base in Delaware.

An Air Force C-17 carrying the remains of the 12 Americans, who were all killed in the Korean War, landed at Dover Air Force Base Tuesday afternoon.

The bodies, which were flown from South Korea, were greeted by a crowd of dignitaries, including U.S. Army Maj. Gen. John E. Whitehead, commanding general of the Dover Air Force Base.

The remains were then transferred to half-caskets that were placed in a 72-foot-long, 16-foot-wide aircraft hangar at Dover.

The arrival of the bodies was marked by a military ceremony at the hangar, where a military honor guard saluted the remains of the soldiers.

The ceremony was attended by family members of the soldiers, who received the remains.

The soldiers were identified as follows:

- John F. Brown, 21, of Fort Bragg, N.C.
- Charles W. Davis, 20, of San Antonio, Texas.
- Michael J. Gardner, 23, of Columbus, Ohio.
- Robert L. Jones, 21, of Peoria, Ill.
- George L. Johnson, 21, of Lumberton, N.C.
- James E. Johnson, 20, of Columbus, Ohio.
- Donald L. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.
- Donald W. Jones, 20, of Columbus, Ohio.
- Richard W. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.
- George W. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.
- John H. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.
- George W. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.
- John H. Jones, 21, of Columbus, Ohio.

These soldiers were among the more than 50,000 American soldiers who died in the Korean War.

The remains of the soldiers will be flown to their home states for final burial.

Mental Hospital Gets More Money

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Mental hospitals in Oklahoma will get an additional $250,000 from the state's general fund to help meet the financial needs of the hospitals.

The announcement was made by Oklahoma Mental Health Director Fred H. Smith, who said the money will be used to help cover the costs of caring for mentally ill patients.

Smith said the money will be used to help pay for medication, therapy, and other services for patients.

The money will also be used to help pay for capital improvements, such as the expansion of the hospital's facilities.

The additional funding will be used to help meet the needs of the hospitals, which have been facing budget cuts in recent years.

The mental hospitals in Oklahoma are:
- Oklahoma State Hospital
- Tulsa State Hospital
- Muskogee State Hospital
- Joplin State Hospital

Cheaters Never Prosper

Did you know that some successful people were once cheaters? How I Won The Lottery and Chuck Davis talked about that recently. Some top businessmen, for instance, were once cheaters. They learned to live on the edge, and that enabled them to take more risks. When you don't have the money to lose, you're not going to try as hard. The same thing is true with gambling. You have to have the money to lose in order to win.

Chuck Davis

Don't be afraid to make mistakes. If you make a mistake, you won't have to worry about it. You're going to learn. And the best way to learn is by making mistakes. So, don't be afraid to make mistakes. If you don't, you're not going to learn.

Oerter Has It Figured Out: The 1981 Olympics

When Steve Oerter was a student at the University of Southern California, he had a chance to meet and talk with a great athlete, but he didn't seize it. So what's different about him now? He's a golden retriever.

When Oerter was a student at USC, he had the opportunity to meet Muhammad Ali, the world-famous boxer. But Oerter didn't take the chance to talk with the man who many consider the greatest athlete of all time.

Now, however, Oerter has taken a new approach to dealing with athletes. He's started a new business, Golden Retrievers International, which has already signed a number of athletes as clients.

"I've been a little bit of a dork when it comes to talking to athletes," Oerter said. "But now I'm learning how to be a good client and how to make good decisions."

Oerter's new business has already made a significant impact on the world of sports. He has signed some of the biggest names in the business, including Ali, basketball player Michael Jordan, and golfer Tiger Woods.

"When I first started this business, I didn't know what I was doing," Oerter said. "But now I have a team of experts who help me make the right decisions."

Oerter's new business has been recognized by the National Football League, which has named him as the first-ever executive producer of its national television show, "The NFL Today." Oerter will be the first athlete to have a permanent presence on the show, which airs on Sunday mornings.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to work with the NFL," Oerter said. "I've always been a big fan of football, and I've always wanted to be part of the game."

Rains Over? Begin Mulching

GARDENING TIP: Moderate rainfall is considered ideal for most plants and lawns. However, too much or too little rain can lead to water stress and poor plant health. A general rule is to apply about 1 inch of water per week. Excessive watering can lead to root rot and other diseases, while drought can cause soil crusting and reduce soil structure. Mulching helps retain moisture and prevent soil crusting. It also improves soil structure and helps to suppress weeds. Choose a mulch that is suitable for your climate and soil type. Popular choices include straw, leaves, wood chips, and decorative bark. Apply a 2-3 inch layer of mulch around the base of plants, avoiding contact with the trunk to prevent moisture buildup. Watering should be done in the morning to allow plants to dry off before nightfall, reducing the risk of fungal diseases.

Support Humpty's Local Farmers

Supporting local farmers is an essential part of a sustainable lifestyle. At Humpty's Supermarkets, we offer a selection of fresh produce from local farmers. We prioritize products that are grown and produced in the region, supporting the local economy and reducing our carbon footprint. By choosing local produce, you can support the local community and ensure that you are getting the freshest and best-tasting fruits and vegetables. Visit our store and ask your local farmers about their products and sustainable practices. Let's make a difference together!
