OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA — Are you on the bus, or on the train, or is the bus of the train carrying you? It may seem like a strange question, but it's one that Terry Prittle recently found herself asking while riding the bus.

Prittle, a regular commuter to and from Oklahoma City, noticed that the bus was running late one day and assumed that the train was also running late. She later realized that the train was actually running on time and the bus was running late.

Even with the increase in public transportation options, the bus and rail systems can still be slow and unreliable. Prittle said she sometimes feels like she's sitting in traffic when she's actually on the bus or train.

The Oklahoma City bus service is currently undergoing a rebranding effort called "Bus for the People," which aims to improve the reliability and efficiency of the system. The rebranding includes new routes, schedules, and fare structures.

Movie Spur Suicide

MIDWEST CITY — A 3-year-old boy who recently discovered a Batman action figure scene from the movie "The Dark Knight Rises" was found dead in his bedroom. The boy's mother said the scene featured Batman fighting a villain in front of a television, and the boy was allegedly playing with a toy gun.

The police are investigating the case as a possible suicide. The boy's mother said she found him dead when she entered his room.

Mountain St. Helens Blows Top Again

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Reagan announced today that he will visit the site of the Mount St. Helens eruption tomorrow. Reagan said he will meet with scientists and officials to discuss the ongoing efforts to monitor the volcano.

Mount St. Helens last erupted in 1980, causing widespread destruction. The volcano is still considered to be very active, and scientists are working to better understand its behavior.

Koreans Demonstrate

The Associated Press - The South Koreans demonstrated in Seoul for the eighth time in two years to protest the presence of U.S. troops in their country. The demonstration was called by the National Liberation Committee, an anti-war organization that has been in opposition to U.S. policy in South Korea for several years. The demonstration was peaceful and the police made no attempt to prevent the marchers from reaching their goal. The demonstration was attended by about 10,000 people and was the largest out of all 10 previous demonstrations.

Korea Comes To Stop

It seemed too good to be true — the 1960s peace treaty that ended the Korean War. Yet, despite the optimism, the lessons of history are clear: peace is fragile and must be defended. The world must continue to support the South Korean government in its efforts to maintain stability and security.

Exercise: Everyone's Doing It!

By Therese Berard

Everyone is doing it! Everyone is exercising! This is good news. However, we need to think about what we can do to make it fun and enjoyable. It's not just about working out, but also about eating healthy and enjoying our lives. We should also think about how much time we are spending exercising and how much we are eating. We can do better if we are more conscious about what we are doing.

Cubans Offer Love, Pie, Chicken To KKK

Cubans have a reputation for their love of food, and they are definitely not afraid to share it with others. In fact, they are known for their generosity, which is why they are often invited to participate in events such as the KKK, where they are expected to offer love, pie, and chicken. This is a great opportunity to learn more about the Cubans and their culture.

State Remains HOT!

The state is still HOT! The weather is hot and the air is humid, but it's not too bad. The recent heat wave has been a challenge, but we are all doing our best to stay cool. We should try to stay hydrated and avoid being outside during the hottest parts of the day.

Less Potent Gas Fatal To Inmate

The gas was less potent than expected, but it proved fatal to the inmate. This is a serious issue and we need to do more to ensure the safety of our inmates and staff. We need to be more aware of the potential dangers of gas and take appropriate precautions.

Fraud Trial Delayed

The trial has been delayed due to technical issues with the computer system. This is a frustrating situation, but we need to be patient and work with the courts to resolve this issue. We should also consider alternative ways to proceed with the trial, such as teleconferencing.

Trips Taken By Pairs

People are taking trips in pairs. This is a great way to explore new places and have fun together. We should encourage more people to try this, as it can be a great opportunity to learn more about different cultures and make new friends.

U.S. Productivity Not Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is losing its productivity edge and becoming less competitive in the world market, according to a new report by the National Bureau of Economic Research.

The report, "The Future of Productivity," released Tuesday, found that the country's productivity growth has slowed significantly in recent years. It notes that the United States has fallen behind some of its major trading partners, including China, Japan, and Germany.

The report also highlights the importance of education and workforce development in driving productivity gains. It calls for increased investment in education and training programs to help workers acquire the skills needed to succeed in a globally competitive economy.

U.S. Steelmakers Longing For Good, Old Days

NEW YORK CITY -- U.S. steelmakers are longing for the good, old days when they could compete on equal footing with foreign rivals. But they face challenges in regaining that position.

"We are working hard to improve our competitiveness," said John Durwood, CEO of US Steel. "But it takes time and investment. We need to upgrade our facilities, improve our labor efficiency, and reduce costs."

Durwood said the company is investing in new technology and training programs to help workers become more productive. He added that US Steel is also focusing on reducing environmental impact and improving sustainability practices to appeal to customers.

Sinatra Finally Settling Down

By Clyde Adams

NEW YORK — Frank Sinatra's habits are changing. The 61-year-old singing sensation's recent behavior has been marked by a new-found sobriety. While he still enjoys the finer things in life, he has indicated a desire to put his past behind him.

Sinatra has been spotted in multiple public appearances without his usual array of women. He has also been seen in the company of his family, including his wife, Barbara Cook, and their children, Nancy and Frank Jr.

The change in his lifestyle has not gone unnoticed by those close to him. "Frank is a new man," said one friend. "He's really turned his life around."

Despite his newfound sobriety, Sinatra remains a legend in the music industry. His influence on popular music cannot be overstated. He has sold millions of records and received numerous awards.

And so it goes. Sinatra's recent behavior is a testament to his ability to adapt and evolve over the course of his career. As he continues to work, he remains a symbol of style and sophistication.

Hope Hits 77 With Special

A male 70th birthday tribute to Bob Hope is in the works, according to sources close to the production. The special, titled "Hope 77," is being planned by the producers of the popular TV series "The Love Boat." It will feature celebrity guests such as Steve Martin, Chevy Chase, and Bette Midler.

The show will focus on Bob Hope's legacy and his impact on the entertainment industry. It is expected to air on NBC in the fall.

In other news, Bob Hope's daughter, Bottes, has announced that she will release a new book, "Bob Hope: The Man Behind The Legend." The book will provide a behind-the-scenes look at her father's life and career.

"Bob Hope was more than just a comedian," Bottes said. "He was a man of integrity and a true American hero."

The book is scheduled to be released in the spring.
Rivera An Advocate For The Defenseless

By Joan Hammar

Chief Correspondent

Cindy Rivera sits behind the desk in her small office at ABC, surrounded by notebooks, files, and computers. The atmosphere is quiet and professional, with the sound of typing and occasional phone calls filling the air. Cindy is well-organized, with piles of papers and files neatly arranged on her desk. She wears a dark blazer and skirt, her hair pulled back in a neat bun.

Cindy Rivera has been an advocate for the defenseless for many years, working tirelessly to help those in need. She has been involved in many high-profile cases, and her work has earned her the respect and admiration of her peers. Cindy is a dedicated and compassionate person, always putting the needs of others before her own.

Over the years, Cindy has faced many challenges, but she has never wavered in her commitment to justice and fairness. She has been criticized for her方法s and tactics, but she remains steadfast in her belief that each case is unique and requires a tailored approach.

Cindy's work has been recognized with numerous awards and accolades, and she is widely regarded as one of the most influential advocates in the field. Her dedication and commitment to helping those in need continue to inspire others, and she remains a much-loved and respected figure in the legal community.

"I never thought I'd be doing this kind of work," Cindy says with a smile. "But I knew from the start that I wanted to make a difference, and I've never looked back."

‘Gopher’s’ Off-Ship Life Colorful Too

By Vernon Bull

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Fred ‘Gopher’ Gonn, the film director who directed the television series “The Love Boat,” is living a colorful life. Fred bought the house where the show is filmed and moved in with his wife, June, and their two children.

Because they’re living in a home different from the one they filmed, the Gonn family is still living on the set of the show. June said they still get to work on the show every day, but Fred is now a producer. They have a lot of friends who work on the show, and they still have their own house.

‘Big Show’ Keeps Everybody Happy

Createe and producer of NBC’s ‘Big Show’ says he finds the part of the show that takes the biggest toll on his performance is not the actual acting, but the preparation. He says he gets into character by drawing on his own experiences and by working with the cast and crew to develop the show’s humor. He also notes that the show has received positive feedback from viewers and critics alike, and he is proud of the work that he and his team have done.

Flagrantly Successful Chase ‘Getting Better’

By Jay Larrance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Four or five years ago, John B. Chase was a star producer at NBC. Today, he's the managing partner of a New York investment firm and a busy father of three. Chase credits his success to a combination of good fortune and hard work.

Chase was a child of Hollywood royalty. His father, John Rose, was a successful actor and producer. His mother, Patricia, was a successful designer and artist. Chase grew up in the industry, and he was always surrounded by talented people.

Chase's career started in the late 1970s when he joined a start-up production company. He quickly rose through the ranks and was named executive producer of NBC’s hit drama series “The A-Team.” In the early 1980s, he was named executive producer of the action series “Miami Vice.”

In the late 1980s, Chase was named president of NBC. He was responsible for the network’s programming, marketing, and finance. He was also responsible for the network’s deal with the National Football League, and he helped to launch the network’s cable channels.

In the early 1990s, Chase moved to New York to become the managing partner of an investment firm. He has since helped to lead the firm to success, and he has also found time to raise his three children.

Chase says his success is due to a combination of good fortune and hard work. He notes that he has always been ambitious and driven, and he has always been willing to work hard to achieve his goals.

Chase says he enjoys being a father and a business leader. He says he is proud of the work that he and his team have done, and he is grateful for the support of his family and friends. He hopes to continue to grow and to contribute to the success of his firm and his family.

Unraveling the Mysteries of Outer Space

Man has always been fascinated with the heavens, but only recently have scientists begun to understand their secrets. We know now that the universe began with a giant explosion, and that there just might be other worlds out there like our own.

By Robert A. Jastrow

Strange words like "black hole" have been cropping up in conversations in the last few years, and they sound as if "black hole" is a term from some unknown, secret world. Even the term "universe" itself can be a bit frightening.

The answer is that these peculiar objects, scattered throughout the heavens, are signs in the sky of the fabric of the universe. They are the characters in a marvelously deep — or too deep, many would say — play that has been unfolding in the heavens for billions of years. They are the stars and galaxies, the clusters and nebulae, the filaments of interstellar gas and dust, the cosmic dust that fills the space between the stars.

The stars, which we see as the lights of the night sky, are the dying embers from the birth of the universe. They are the last vestiges of the material that was used to form the universe. The stars are the remnants of the material that was used to form the universe.

The universe is a place for the stars to be, and the stars are the lights of the night sky. They are the lights that mark the end of the universe.

If we believe the theory that the universe is finite, then there is no end to the universe. The stars are the lights of the night sky, and the universe is the place for the stars to be.

Dolphins - the exploitive breed of the universe! Rounding up the universe, or whatever planet they have, the world really did explode into existence. And then immediately disappeared! The universe must have been created with a mixture of cosmic and radiation. As the universe expanded, the gas of the cloud would have become less dense, but a new trend of the cosmic cloud would be detectable today. It was a study of the cosmic explosion, that the two phases had not detected. This was the research on the final proof that the universe had an age beginning, not no longer a theory.

In 1978 Peterson and Wilson reported the Nobel Prize for their discovery. Since then every astronomer has accepted the idea. Since then, every astronomer has discovered a new way to measure the universe. We can make no approximations about the size of the universe. Our only answer is a universe.

The Scrumptious Strawberry
By Marilyn House

Red, ripe strawberries are in our markets now waiting to be enjoyed in a limitless variety of ways.

Strawberries are an excellent source of Vitamin C, with 1 cup supplying about 156 percent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for the average adult. Also one of the recent things about strawberries is that a whole cup of them has only 60 calories.

American kids — a trend that affects about 100,000 students. And even when schools have physical education classes, the amount of exercise may be negligible.

The problem, says Ritter, is that parents aren't always aware of the connection between fitness and health, and if they are, they don't always know how to encourage their child to eat healthy food or get enough exercise.

The solution is in your hands. Try Triumph at only 3 mg. You'll be surprised at the difference.

Since 1950, over 534 million Cambodians have died from war and disease. Many of these deaths were caused by the lack of food so many were starved to death. The country is now in a state of war and disease, with many children dying of malnutrition. The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) is now working to help provide food and medical supplies to the people of Cambodia.

Lost And Found
Ancient China has long been renowned for its beauty and culture. However, in recent years, there have been reports of a strange object being discovered in a remote area of the country. The object is believed to be a piece of ancient Chinese pottery, and it has caught the attention of archaeologists from around the world.

Marathon Man
The Boston marathon has been a symbol of American pride since it was first run in 1897. But in 1979, a new distance was added to the race. The marathoners, who typically run 26 miles and 385 yards, were asked to run only 10 miles. However, the average runner was not satisfied, and "cherry" gym and hotel staff said that they had seen many incidents involving the use of barbiturates.

CALL THE TURNS Directions—north, north east and west—have taken a party to the house.

Clue 1: "West Pacific" 1: "Northside Story" 1: "Call Eleventh 712" 1: "Can you straighten them out?"

Three cards are salvaged:

- One is a 1:
- One is a 6:
- One is a 7:

Zumbro Tiger: Short lines and more than short lines.

Long lines are more than short lines. Long lines are less than short lines. Which card is it?

You say:

1. Whole Stepper: Place one finger inside the card.

3. Elf: What do you take for a gift?

How do they react? Are they interesting?
