TWISTERS KILL FOUR

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — National Guard helicopters gunned down four men who fired on a U.S. Army patrol in a weekend ambush, killing three soldiers and wounding four others, the military said Tuesday.

The attack took place in the town of Grand Island, about 50 miles (80 kilometers) north of Omaha, where soldiers from the 112th Infantry Regiment were stationed when their camp was ambushed, the military said.

The soldiers were killed when their Humvee was hit by a roadside bomb, the military said.

The attack occurred at about 4 a.m. Tuesday, according to the military.

The soldiers were members of the 112th Infantry Regiment, which is based in Grand Island.

The attack was the latest in a series of attacks on U.S. soldiers in Afghanistan, where the military says it is fighting a war on terrorism.

People Going Nowhere

By Leah Moore

Beads of sweat rolled down David's forehead as he struggled to breathe. His heart pounded wildly in his chest. He had never felt so helpless before.

But then, he realized something. He was not alone. His friends were there with him, helping him through this difficult time.

These people were going nowhere. They were stuck in a never-ending cycle of fear and anxiety. But they were not giving up. They were fighting for their lives.

Nigh Gets Pay Hike Bill

By Johnspots

The bill passed by the Senate and is now on the way to the House of Representatives. The Senate version of the bill includes an increase in the minimum wage to $15 per hour, which is expected to help low-income workers. The bill also includes provisions for paid leave, including parental leave and sick leave, as well as funding for infrastructure projects and education initiatives.

Performance through traditional training.

The bill will raise the average salary of Oklahoma teachers by an average of 6 percent. The bill also includes provisions for teacher certification standards, which will be reviewed and updated periodically. The bill will also provide opportunities for teachers to advance their careers through professional development and advanced degree programs.

Board Upholds Codex Win

Baltimore (1951) — Harford's "Codex" has been upheld by the Board of Appeals in the case of Porter V. Harford. This decision was made following a long appeal by the taxpayer, who asserted that the property was valued at much lower rates than the assessed value. The Board of Appeals ruled that the assessed value was justified and that the taxpayer had not made a case for reduction.

VP Choice Important

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice president choice may be the least important question in the upcoming Democratic convention. But it could be the most interesting, according to the current field of candidates. Senate Majority Leader David Durenberger, D-Minn., is the leading contender, followed by three others: former Vice President Walter Mondale, Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, and Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich.

The choice is expected to be announced by the end of the week.
