Judge Fights School Project

By Mary Pontier

The U.S. District Court has issued an order in favor of the Pembroke Heights School District in a lawsuit involving a proposed contract with the Pembroke Heights Community Baptist Church. The order allows the school board to proceed with the contract, which had been challenged by the Parents for Educational Rights group. The order states that the church has the right to use the school facilities for religious purposes, subject to certain restrictions. The school board will be required to post signs indicating that the facilities are being used for religious purposes and that the school does not endorse the church's activities. The Parents for Educational Rights group plans to appeal the order. Fire Doesn't Stop Selling

Stockyards Still Going

By Bill Tidwell

The Stockyards in Oklahoma City have been hit by a series of fires in recent weeks, but the city's tourism officials say the fires have not affected the overall business of the Stockyards. The fires have been caused by electrical equipment and electrical problems, and have damaged several buildings and structures. The city has called in the Oklahoma Fire Marshal to investigate the cause of the fires. The Stockyards have been a popular tourist attraction for many years, and the city hopes to continue to attract visitors even though the fires have caused some damage.

Apology Owed

Billy Graham

DEAR EDITORS: How many people know...that Faith does not mean faith? It is a mystery...to those who do not believe...in God. To those who do believe...it is a reality. It is not a matter of believing or not believing...but a matter of...living or not living. If you are a Christian...and you don't live as a Christian...then you are not a Christian.

Agent's Book Attacks CIA's Secrecy Demands

Jack Anderson

Soviet Criticism of CIA

The CIA is under attack from an unexpected source: a newly released book by a former CIA official. "The CIA's Secrets," by former agency director Richard Helms, accuses the agency of being too secretive and too focused on intelligence gathering.

Soviet critics, such as former KGB agent Yuri Bezmenov, have been critical of the CIA's operations and its relationship with the U.S. government. Bezmenov, who defected to the U.S. in 1984, has accused the CIA of using spies and terrorists to bring down the Soviet Union.

Spending Curtailed

"A very strange thing happened today to a lady who went shopping," said a woman to her friend. "I went into a store to buy some groceries, but when I got there I realized I had forgotten my wallet. I went back to my car to get it, but it was missing. When I went back inside, the store was closed. It was a very odd day." "But you did get your groceries," her friend said. "Yes, I did," the woman replied. "I had some bread, milk, and eggs. I guess I'll have to go back tomorrow." "That's not such a bad idea," her friend said. "You could save some money by not spending too much." "That's true," the woman said. "I'll have to be more careful next time."

Sohio Hikes Gas Price

CLEVELAND (UPI) - Sohio will raise gas prices in the Cleveland and Cincinnati areas effective May 1st, the company said today. The move comes as the demand for gasoline continues to increase. The average price of gasoline in Cleveland is currently $1.20 per gallon, and is expected to rise to $1.25 by the end of the month. The price hike will affect all Sohio-branded gas stations in the area, and is expected to create a backlash among consumers.

Fuel Controls Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Department of Energy is supporting fuel controls to help reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil. The government has announced a plan to increase the use of domestic energy sources and reduce the country's reliance on imported oil. The plan includes a number of measures, such as improving energy efficiency, increasing production of renewable energy, and encouraging the use of fuel controls. The government hopes that this plan will help reduce the country's dependence on foreign oil and create a more stable energy future.
