STATE LEGISLATURE ENDS ON SOUR NOTE

By Harry Colyer

Oklahoma City, C.D. - Oklahoma's 1988 Legislature, which was propelled forward by an ambitious agenda, ended its 90 days today in the backwash of sour note.

Despite months of work by legislative leaders, two key pieces of legislation - a teachers' salary package and a state budget bill - died on the floor. The death of both bills will be a stinging reminder that lawmakers learned too late that the legislature does not end with the adjournment of its 60-day session.

"It's a real shame," said House Speaker Jim Snyder. "We worked hard all year, and we've come up with nothing."

At 12:01 a.m., the 90th session of the Oklahoma Legislature was adjourned.

The session opened at 9 a.m. on March 12 with a predicted budget surplus of $1.5 billion, and the legislature adjourned this morning with a $1.5 billion deficit.

Snyder said he will not run for re-election in 1989.

"I have a lot of work to do before I can worry about being a candidate," Snyder said. "I'm going to work hard to get the budget passed and then I'll worry about the election."

Get Rid Of Those Pencil Marks

DEAN HELMEL: After manufacturing a large golf ball, the golf ball used to be in storage, and then the golf balls would be put into the shipping area. This was a big problem before and now it's not an issue. We've been able to eliminate the pencil marks and put them back into the shipping area, saving time and reducing waste.

Law of Jungle

DEAN HELMEL: You know how people put out garbage and it's not picked up on time? Well, I've been able to reduce the garbage picked up by 50% by putting out garbage only once a week instead of daily. This has also reduced the number of pests in the area.

Hints from Heloise

DEAN HELMEL: It's easy to adjust and not put anything on the hands. You just need to sprinkle water on the hands and they'll be wet. This has also reduced the number of accidents in the area.

Senate Votes For Gen. Jones

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee on Tuesday approved one of President Carter's Cabinet picks, Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf, for the post of assistant secretary of defense for policy.

The committee voted 13-2 in favor of the appointment, clearing the way for the Senate to consider the nomination. If confirmed, Schwarzkopf would become the second-ranking official in the Pentagon.

"I think this is an important step in the right direction," said Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., the chairman of the committee. "I believe General Schwarzkopf is a man of high integrity, a man of proven ability and a man who will serve our country well." Tubbs Impressed By State's Faith 7 Cagers

Central State got themselves a big player when the Normans' Tubbs reached and made a 10-point showing. It is thrilling for the Mesaba and Tubbs, especially in the recent heydays. Tubbs, who attended Central State, was once a member of the Oklahoma men's basketball team. "I think Tubbs is staying at the school because he can afford to stay and be a part of the school's society," Tubbs said. "I'm going to be a part of the school because they are doing a good job. I love the school and I want to stay there."
