Heat 'Relief' Coming?

NIGHT: The state Senate approved a $1.5 million emergency energy assistance program last winter, which provided money for welfare recipients to buy high-blowing fans.

"It is my understanding this program applies to all Oklahomans with a family income below the poverty level or below, with special preference for the elderly," the state senator responsible for the measure said. "The funds can be used to help purchase fans, to help with utility bills or possibly to provide temporary, temporary, temporary..." (story continues)

The Race Is On For Bellmon Replacement

By Harry Calver

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) -- The U.S. Senate race got top billing in Oklahoma's election campaign this year, but state Sen. Thad Bellmon, a Republican party legend, is retiring after 12 years in Washington.

More than 20 candidates are trying to succeed him.

The three-day Senate special election for state and federal office is today in Moore. As many as 20,000 voters may cast their ballots in the race for the seat now held by U.S. Sen. Thad Bellmon. The election was called to fill the Senate seat left open when Bellmon died in August.

The race for U.S. Senate is already under way as Bellmon's successor is expected to be named by the Oklahoma Senate, as is the case with all state and federal elections.

"It is my understanding that the program applies to all Oklahomans with a family income below the poverty level or below, with special preference for the elderly," the state senator responsible for the measure said. "The funds can be used to help purchase fans, to help with utility bills or possibly to provide temporary, temporary, temporary..." (story continues)

Gasoline Stockpiling May Result In 'Waves'

By Mark Emody

LOS ANGELES (UPI) -- The oil industry is stockpiling gasoline at unprecedented high rates, costing consumers in higher prices.

In an interview, Emody said refiners face the same problems as other companies trying to keep prices down. "They're working really hard to keep prices down," he said. "But the market is always volatile, and it's hard to predict how prices will move." (story continues)

Wind Energy

By John Smith

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) -- The Florida legislature, facing pressure from environmental groups and consumers, has passed a bill that would allow wind energy projects in the state. The bill, which passed both houses of the legislature, would provide tax incentives for investors in wind energy projects.

"We've been working on this for a long time," said Rep. John Smith, sponsor of the bill. "It's time for Florida to be a leader in clean energy and renewable resources." (story continues)

The weather service says the wind is strong enough to drive waves of up to 3 feet on the beach. The high temperatures are expected to continue throughout the week, with a high of 90 degrees expected on Tuesday. (story continues)

SPOTLIGHT ON ATTITUDES

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, known to their neighbors as "the nicest couple on the block," have been the center of a heated debate among the local community. The Smiths' decision to spend their retirement savings on a luxury vacation to Europe has sparked controversy among their friends and neighbors.

GREENWOOD, S.C. (AP) - The Smiths are planning to travel to France, Italy, and Greece this summer, spending thousands of dollars on accommodations, food, and entertainment. Some of their neighbors have expressed concern about their choices, while others have praised their adventurous spirit.

Despite the controversy, the Smiths are determined to enjoy their retirement to the fullest. "We've worked hard all our lives, and we deserve a break," Mrs. Smith said.

The Smiths' decision has also raised questions about the value of savings accounts and the importance of planning for retirement. Many people are wondering if the Smiths could have done better with their money.

What America Is Thinking

More than 130,000 households responded to FAMILY WEEKLY's recent "Timely Issues" survey. Here's a summary of their opinions.

NATIONAL ISSUES
- 60.3% cite inflation as our most serious issue. Money is not as bad as 23.6%, that is growing tension with the Soviet Union at 21.7%. Many readers vote in unemployment. 80.1% believe the country needs new and dramatic economic programs.

- 82% favor the death penalty for murder, yet 66.6% agree banning the possession of handguns. 64.2% doubt about the safety of nuclear power plants. 52.1% would conserve energy through gasoline rationing.

- 60.1% oppose the proposed Congress as a whole, but 66.6% trust their own Congressmen.

- 71.9% of readers say the Carter Presidency has not been a good influence on the country.

The conservative trend toward government spending is made by the 67.1% who believe the fiscal as should hold tax on government agencies. A strong minority feel we should cut back on social programs. Even in today's economy, 69.1% believe the govt. has created enough benefits for the unemployed, up from 52% that way in our poll four years ago. And 80.6% of voters think the notion of quota hiring is needed to correct sex discrimination.

The poll reveals some interesting paradoxes. While 54.2% reject the Equal Rights Amendment, they say they would vote for a woman to be our next President. 71.3% believe the most serious threat to the future is Communist gains abroad, and 50% say they are trying to improve relations with the U.S.S.R. To reverse Communist gains abroad, 77.6% think we are isolated using the C.I.A. and we need to increase our military and intelligence support of the C.I.A. 52.1% want full support of the C.I.A. 36.6% want recognition of the rest of Israel and won't vote for people who do.

Maternity Fashions: They've Come a Long Way, Baby

By Rosalyn Arbecova

hat do mothers-to-be have in common with sex-savvy, sassy college coeds? They're both pregnant, and they all want to look good. But they don't have to choose between being stylish and being comfortable. These days, there are maternity clothes that are just as trendy as any other outfit you might wear. And they're not just for the last few months of pregnancy, either. In fact, some companies are now offering stylish maternity wear even before the 20th week of pregnancy.

A pregnant woman often stays at home to care for her new baby. However, she doesn't have to sacrifice style just because she's pregnant. Many clothing companies now offer maternity wear that can be dressed up or down, depending on the occasion. So whether you're going to a baby shower or just running errands, you can look fashionable and comfortable.

Plus, as more and more women are choosing to have babies later in life, there are now maternity wear options for older women too. So even if you're already a mom of two, you don't have to give up your sense of style just because you're expecting.

In addition to clothing, there are alsomaternity shoes and accessories available. And some companies are even offering services like custom tailoring and personal styling to help you find the perfect outfit for your body.

Maternity wear has come a long way from the baggy, shapeless outfits of the past. Now, you can look just as fashionable as any other woman, no matter what stage of pregnancy you're in. So don't settle for just any old maternity wear. Choose something that makes you feel good and that complements your unique style.
Thunderstorms And Lightning

Summer showers can be pleasant and cooling, but the thunder and lightning that sometimes go along with them is often downright scary. As a thunderstorm rolls in, suddenly the electrical charges that are always present in the air start to move into positive and negative charges. According to one theory, the charges then create a powerful electrical current that can cause thunder and lightning. When lightning strikes, it can be very dangerous and can cause serious injuries or even death. It is important to stay inside during a thunderstorm and avoid being outdoors. If you are outside and see lightning, it is important to seek shelter immediately. Safety measures such as avoiding tall objects and staying away from water can also help to prevent injuries during a thunderstorm. With these precautions, we can enjoy the beauty and benefits of summer weather while staying safe from the potential dangers of thunderstorms and lightning.
My Feet Were Killing Me...Until I Discovered the Miracle in Germany!

It was the European trip I had always dreamed about. I had the time and money to go where I wanted—to see what I wanted. But soon learned that money and time don't mean much when your feet hurt too much to walk. After a few days of sightseeing my feet were killing me.

Oh, I tried to keep going. In Paris I limped through Notre Dame and along the Champs-Élysées. And I went up in the Eiffel Tower although I couldn't honestly say I remember the view. My feet were so tired and sore my whole body ached. While everyone else was having a great time, I was in my hotel room. I didn't even feel like sitting in a sidewalk café.

The whole trip was like that until I got to Hamburg, Germany. There, by accident, I happened to hear about an exciting breakthrough for anyone who suffers from sore, aching feet and legs. It was a wonderful invention called the Flexible Feather-pring. When I got a pair and slipped them into my shoes my pain disappeared almost instantly. The flexible shock absorbers support my feet like cradling them on a cushion of air. I could walk, stand, even run. The relief was truly a miracle.

And just one pair was all I needed. I learned that women also can wear them—even with sandals and open bucked shoes. They're completely invisible. Imagine how dumbfound I was to discover that these miraculous devices were sold only in Europe. Right then, I decided that I should share the miracle I discovered in Germany with my own countrymen.

Over a quarter million Americans are using these flexible Feathersprings to relieve pain from walk, stand, even run. In fact, many who are more severe than mine have experi-enced this blessed relief for themselves.

Here's why Feather- spring work for them and why they can work for you. These supports are like nothing you've ever seen before. They're custom fitted and made for your feet alone! Unlike conventional devices, they actually stimulate the natural elastic support that Nature originally intended your feet to have.

Whatever your problem—corns, calluses, burning nerve ends, pain in the balls of your feet, painful ankles, old injuries, backaches or just generally sore, aching feet. Flexible Feather- spring will bring you relief with every step you take or your money back.

Don't suffer pain and discomfort needlessly. If your feet hurt, the miracle of Feather- spring can help you. Write for more detailed information. There is no obligation whatsoever. No salesman will call. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT THE MIRACLE:

"Since I've been wearing Feather- springs I have been able to wear shoes I wasn't able to wear before. Mainly because of my corns and calluses. Thanks a hundred times over!"
