WASHINGTON (UPI) -- President Carter will "respond fully" to the Senate's inquiry into the "Watergate" scandal, his press secretary said Thursday.

Press Secretary Jody Powell told reporters Carter had made no decision on whether he would be willing to personally attend the Senate's special hearing on Saturday, scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

But he said the president would like to cooperate fully with the two-term member of the Select Senate Tuesday to Thursday. He said he had made no decision on whether or not the president would be willing to personally attend the Senate's special hearing on Saturday, scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

The president himself will also respond fully to the Senate's inquiries into the "Watergate" scandal, his press secretary said Thursday.

Measles Vaccines Ordered

By United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- The U.S. government ordered an additional 25 million doses of the measles vaccine Friday, bringing the total number of doses to 50 million.

The move came after the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announced that a measles outbreak had been declared in several states.

The outbreak, which began in New York City, has now spread to other parts of the country, including California and Texas.

The CDC said that the outbreak is likely to be ongoing for several weeks, and that it is important for people to get vaccinated.

Jordanians Hijack Kuwaiti Airliner

KUWAIT (UPI) -- Two Jordanian brothers armed with pistols and bombs hijacked a Kuwait Airways Flight 645 on Monday, demanding to be flown to Jordan.

The hijackers, who are also suspected of being involved in the hijacking of an American Airlines flight last year, were arrested by police after they landed the aircraft at a southern airport.

Betty Boop For President!

NEW YORK (UPI) -- The president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) has endorsed Betty Boop for president.

"Betty Boop is the only candidate who understands the issues facing working Americans," said AFSCME President John Sweeney. "She's got a plan to create jobs, reform Social Security and Medicare, and make America strong again."

But the endorsement is not without controversy.

"I don't think Betty Boop is ready for the Oval Office," said conservative commentator Ann Coulter. "She's too light on the issues."
News In Brief

Hostage Relief Bill Asked
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress announced Thursday to approve a $1 million relief fund to help hostages held abroad. The fund, which was authorized by the Senate on a voice vote, will help families of hostages pay for legal fees, medical expenses and other costs. The legislation also provides for the establishment of a national hostage crisis center. The center will be run by the FBI and will provide assistance to families of hostages.

The bad news of a two-day ceasefire in Beirut, Lebanon, was that the fighting continued. The ceasefire was supposed to be a temporary measure, but it has failed to stop the violence.

Audrey Hepburn Thinks Shopping's A Hit

By Barbara Johnson

Audrey Hepburn is well-known for her elegance and style, and it seems that her love for shopping hasn't changed much over the years. The actress was recently spotted out and about in New York, with her shopping bags clearly visible as she strolled along the streets. Hepburn, who is known for her love of designer clothes and accessories, has been a frequent visitor to the city's high-end boutiques. In fact, her shopping habits are so well-known that some local merchants have even started offering personal shopping services just for her. Hepburn, who is currently filming a new movie in the city, was seen shopping with a group of friends and seemed to be having a great time. Despite being busy with her career, Hepburn always finds time to treat herself to a little retail therapy. As one local merchant put it, "Audrey has always been one of our favorite customers. She's such a pleasure to do business with."

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I recently received a letter from a reader who was having trouble with her dog's behavior. The dog was barking excessively and was causing a lot of stress for the owner. I wrote back with some advice on how to handle the situation.

The Libyian Connection

The Libyan government, under the leadership of Colonel Muammar Gaddafi, has long been known for its support of various liberation movements in Africa and its efforts to promote pan-Africanism. The country's policies have been characterized by radicalism and anti-imperialism, with Gaddafi calling for a united Africa free from Western influence.

In recent years, Libya has become a focal point of global attention due to its oil wealth and strategic location in the Mediterranean. It has also been involved in conflicts with neighboring countries, particularly over borders and resources.

Hot Days Bring Bad Memories

Dr. Billy Graham

I don't think anyone would ever want to experience the heat of the 1960s again. It was a turbulent time in the history of the world, and it brought about significant changes in society. It was a time when people stood up for what they believed in, and it was a time when the world was constantly changing.

Heston stars in son's screenplay

By Gene Triptek
Entertainment Writer

When Charlton Heston was a young boy in the late 1930s, his budding interest in acting was encouraged by his mother. She bought him a gun andvelte suit and brought him to the studio of an influential movie producer who was looking for young talent. The producer was impressed and signed Heston to a contract, but his mother insisted that he not accept it. She told him he could never be a success in the movies if he was just another face in the crowd. He should continue his studies and learn what it means to be a true artist.

Charlton Heston

Heston quoted his favorite line from the film, spoken in a scene with his father, in his keynote speech at the 1960 Academy Awards. He said, "There is no substitute for hard work. If you want to be a success, then work hard and never give up.

Heston also spoke about his son, who he considers to be the most gifted actor in Hollywood. He said, "My son is more talented than any other actor in Hollywood. He has the ability to bring a character to life in a way that no one else can.

Heston was also asked about his role in the film "The Mountain Men," which was released last year. He said, "It was a difficult role for me to play, but I felt that it was important to give my son a chance to shine."
