Orlando Hit With Violence Again

By Craig Allen, Tampa Tribune – Orlando police said on Monday that a weekend shooting sent a 19-year-old man to the hospital with a gunshot wound, adding to the city's recent series of violent incidents.

The victim, identified only as a male, was shot in the 200 block of West Pine Street shortly before 2 a.m., according to police reports. The incident is under investigation by the Orlando Police Department's Homicide Unit.

This latest shooting comes as the city continues to grapple with rising crime rates, including a recent series of shootings and stabbings that have left at least five people injured over the past week.

The city has taken steps to address the issue, including increasing police patrols and launching community outreach programs.

Despite these efforts, crime rates remain high, with shootings and stabbings occurring almost nightly in certain parts of the city.

Mayor Buddy Dyer has called for a citywide curfew to help stem the tide of violence, but the measure has faced opposition from local residents and businesses.

Dyer said the city is considering other options, such as increasing police presence and implementing stricter gun laws.

But many residents say they feel unsafe and frustrated with the city's response to the ongoing violence.

"It's a never-ending cycle of violence," said one resident. "We need a solution now, not just talk."

Missouri, As Usual, Big 8's Mystery Team

Missouri will come into the start of the Big Eight season with the state's top football team, but the Tigers are still regarded as the mystery team in the conference.

The mystery is not whether Missouri will be good. The question is whether Missouri will be better than Oklahoma State.

Missouri is coming off a disappointing 5-6 season last year, but the team has made significant improvements in its offensive line and defense, and the team has been ranked in the top 10 in both the Associated Press and United Press International polls.

The Tigers have a solid defense, led by senior linebacker Mike Smith and sophomore defensive tackle Michael Haynes. Smith, a two-time All-Big Eight selection, is considered one of the best linebackers in the country and has the ability to make big plays.

On offense, Missouri has a strong running game and a capable quarterback in sophomore James Franklin. The team also has a solid receiving corps, led by senior wide receiver Marv Pence and junior tight end John Mobley.

The Tigers' schedule is tough, with games against Stanford, Oklahoma, Texas, and Arkansas, but Missouri has a good chance to come out of the Big Eight with a winning record.

Cityans Pace South Cagers

South Carolina's women's basketball team will be led by senior center Ashley Price, who is expected to have a breakout season.

Price, a 6-foot-4 center, was a unanimous First Team All-Big Eight selection last year and is one of the top returning players in the conference.

The Gamecocks have a strong supporting cast around Price, with sophomores Kiara Smith and Sydney Novak providing scoring options.

South Carolina has a tough schedule, with games against Georgia, Florida, and Kentucky, but the team has the talent to compete for a Big Eight championship.

The Mavericks have a solid supporting cast around Munninghoff, with sophomores Emily Persson and Kassy Lengyel providing scoring options.

Omaha has a tough schedule, with games against Oral Roberts, Missouri State, and Northern Illinois, but the team has the talent to compete for a Missouri Valley Conference championship.

'Countdown' has biggest female star ever

By Chuck Davis

SPOKANE, Wash. — She is the world's biggest superstar, and she's in town this week to promote the film "All Quiet on the Western Front." She's Joan Crawford, and she's been making movies for nearly three decades, but this is the first time she's appeared in a film shot in color. The film, "The Great Gatsby," is being released in theaters nationwide this summer.

Crawford's appearance is part of a larger trend in Hollywood, where more and more actresses are taking on prominent roles. In recent years, there have been several high-profile female-led films, including "The Dressmaker," "The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo," and "The Imitation Game."

Crawford has been a fixture in the industry for decades, having appeared in over 100 films throughout her career. She's received numerous awards and nominations for her work, including seven Academy Awards nominations and one win.

The film "The Great Gatsby," which Crawford stars in, is based on F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel of the same name. It tells the story of Jay Gatsby, a wealthy man who is obsessed with winning back his former love, Daisy Buchanan. The film was directed by Baz Luhrmann and released in 2013.

Despite the success of "The Great Gatsby," Crawford's appearance in the film didn't quite live up to expectations. Many critics and fans were disappointed by her performance, feeling that she didn't fully embody the character of Daisy.

Still, Crawford's presence in "The Great Gatsby" was significant, as it marked one of the first times a major Hollywood actress had taken on the role of a leading lady in a major film. Her work in the film helped to solidify her status as a true icon of the Hollywood film industry.

In addition to her work as an actress, Crawford has also been involved in various charitable causes throughout her career. She's been a longtime supporter of the American Red Cross and has served as a goodwill ambassador for the United Nations.

Crawford's appearance in "The Great Gatsby" is just one example of the many ways in which she has contributed to the world of film. Her dedication to her craft and her commitment to her community have earned her the respect and admiration of fans and colleagues alike.
