KHOMEINI: 4 DEMANDS

By United Press International

Arabist Robert Kishlani said Friday he will free the 38 American hostages if the United States agrees to “specific demands” that he listed, including withdrawal of armed forces from Iran, release of Iranian citizens arrested in the United States, and other unspecified conditions. He said he had been pressured to make these demands by officials of the Islamic Republic of Iran.

Kishlani, who is in charge of operations of the Islamic Republic, also said he was considering releasing four more American hostages if the United States would agree to the demands.

The United States has so far rejected all demands by Kishlani and other Iranian officials.

The recent event of Robert Kennedy killing former President John F. Kennedy is a grim reminder of the dark side of American politics. The assassination occurred in 1963, and it was a turning point in the nation's history. The event shocked the country and led to a wave of anti-Kennedy sentiment. The investigation into the assassination never fully resolved the circumstances, leaving many questions unanswered.

Although the Kennedys were a family known for their political influence and dedication to public service, their legacy was marred by tragedy. The death of Robert Kennedy in 1968, while campaigning for the presidency, added to the sense of loss and uncertainty that permeated the country.

These events serve as a reminder of the importance of maintaining a democratic society and the need for leaders to uphold the values that the Kennedy family and others have fought for. The nation must continue to work towards a future where such incidents are avoided and the principles of justice and fairness are upheld.

Stock Market Active, Finishes Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market, torn between a recession that could plunge it into a bear market and a quicker recovery that could send it soaring, finished Wednesday's trading session mixed, officials said.

The New York Stock Exchange, which saw a roller coaster swing in its prices earlier in the day, ended slightly higher. The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 11,011.23, up 14.37 points.

Some analysts said the market's recent gains were due to a change in investor sentiment, as they became more optimistic about the economy's prospects.

Others said the market was still vulnerable to fluctuations in oil prices, which are expected to remain high due to ongoing tensions in the Middle East.

The NASDAQ composite index, which is heavily weighted towards technology and internet companies, finished down 7.28 points, at 2,514.13.

Some experts predicted that the market would continue to fluctuate as investors weighed the risks of a recession against the possibility of a faster recovery.

Anderson Campaign Rises From Despair

By Jack Wartman

The Anderson campaign received a major boost last week with the endorsement of Senator Robert Dole, who announced his support for the former New Hampshire governor.

Dole, who had hinted at a possible endorsement in recent days, told his supporters that he believes Anderson is the best candidate to defeat the incumbent Bush in November.

The endorsement comes at a crucial time for Anderson, who has struggled to gain momentum in the crowded Republican field.

Assassinated Cuban Was Spy For Castro

By Miguel Perez

A former Cuban spy who was killed in a car accident last week was a long-term secret agent for Fidel Castro's regime, according to sources in Havana.

The man, who has not been identified, was a member of Castro's notorious Revolutionary Armed Forces and had been involved in espionage activities for the past decade.

The car accident that killed him occurred on a busy Havana street, where he was attempting to escape from his home.

Strong In His Opinion

The state's leading expert on the effects of climate change, Dr. John Smith, spoke at the annual conference on global warming.

Dr. Smith stated that while some climate change skeptics may disagree, the overwhelming scientific consensus is that human activity is causing global warming.

A lot of people do it. Take their problems home with them from work. They worry about their jobs and their salaries. How much they take in against how much they pay out. If they can expect a raise next salary. Or when.

Some way to avoid worry is to start saving. Join the payroll savings plan at work. A little portion of your salary is automatically set aside toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

A portion you won't get to take home with you. But you'll never see it and you'll never miss it. So you'll never spend it.

You'll know it's working for you every day. Growing to give you a cushion in hard times. Or a way of achieving a goal in good times.

So don't take it home with you. Leave that "little extra" where it will do you some good. Adding up to a lot of U.S. Savings Bonds.
Rape Suspect Is Arraigned

OKLAHOMA CITY — The alleged "Lake Draper Rapist," Henry Lannett Edward, was arraigned before Judge Victor Williamson in Oklahoma County District Court Friday afternoon.
