Probe Raises Questions About Public Trust

By Byrly Kelly

The Associated Press

A three-month investigation of the Oklahoma County Sheriff's Department, the state's largest law enforcement agency, by The Journal has turned up possible conflicts of interest involving OCSO trust officers, the loss of an OCSO property from tax rolls and possible irregularities in the use of OCSO trust funds for public service activities in the community.

A few of the cases studied for the First Of A Series

Journal was able to document include:

- The OCSO used $68,000 in industrial tax credits to help fund a gun range

Two Men Drown As Truck Plunges Into Lake Draper

By Gilson Mose

OKLAHOMA CITY - Divers recovered the bodies of a 23-year-old Oklahoma City man and a 20-year-old woman early Tuesday morning on Lake Draper during the night's search for two bodies.

The identities of two men who died as their pick-up truck plunged into the lake Monday night were confirmed by a police spokesman Tuesday.

The accident happened about 5:38 p.m., when the two men were found floating near the center of a lake on the west side of town.

The bodies were recovered Tuesday morning, and the names of the victims have not yet been released.

The death toll in the accident brought the total number of deaths to 12 since the beginning of the year, according to the Oklahoma County Sheriff's Department.

The department said it is not yet clear what caused the two men to die.

Two men drowned Tuesday in the lake near the center of town.

The accident occurred at about 5:38 p.m., when the two men were found floating in the water.

The bodies were later recovered from the lake and taken to the medical examiner's office for an autopsy.

The victims were identified as 23-year-old Kevin Smith and 20-year-old Erin Nelson.

Arbor Bruce Stone, a 39-year-old Oklahoma City artist, died Monday in a car accident on State Highway 202 in the north end of the city.

Stone was traveling west on State Highway 202 when he lost control of his car and crossed the center line, striking an oncoming vehicle.

The driver of the oncoming vehicle, 32-year-old David Miller, also of Oklahoma City, was killed in the crash.

Both Stone and Miller were pronounced dead at the scene.

No other injuries were reported.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol is investigating the accident.

The artist's work has been exhibited in galleries and museums across the United States and in Europe.

Irrfan Mobilizes Forces In War With Iraq

By United Press International

Oklahoma City, May 23 (UPI) - The United States and Britain mobilized forces in the Persian Gulf on Wednesday, the Pentagon said, as the two powers prepared for possible military action in the region.

The move came after Saddam Hussein's government announced that it would begin evacuating its forces from Kuwait, the westward march that has been going on since Hussein's forces occupied the country in August 1990.

In New York, a U.S. official said that Hussein had told the United Nations that he would sign the 1979 U.S.-Iraqi treaty giving the right to use American forces in the Gulf region.

The official said that the agreement would be a "historical" step in the war.

With Its Variety, Chinese Cuisine Is Food For The Masses

By David A. Cole

In a world where familiarity breeds contempt, there is a new feeling of awareness among the people of this country that Chinese food is more than just take-out or a quick meal. As a result, restaurants specializing in Chinese cuisine are becoming more popular than ever. One such restaurant is the recently opened "Lynn David's" in the Northpark Mall.

Lynn David's

Mirror Mirror on the wall who's the neatest woman of all?

CONTRARY to what you might think, couples are not the only ones trying Chinese food. Many single individuals are also enjoying the variety of flavors offered by this cuisine. "I've always liked Chinese food," said one patron. "It's not just stir-fry, there are so many different dishes to choose from."

Lynn David's offers a wide range of dishes, from traditional favorites like dumplings and lo mein to more adventurous offerings like mapo tofu and kung pao chicken. The menu also includes a variety of vegetarian and vegan options, making it accessible to a wide range of dietary preferences.

One of the dishes that seems to be a hit with most patrons is the Peking Duck. "That's definitely my favorite," said another customer. "The skin is crispy, the meat is juicy, and the sauce is just right."

The restaurant's atmosphere is welcoming and relaxed. With soft lighting and comfortable seating, it's a great place to enjoy a meal with friends or family. The service is prompt and friendly, and the staff is always ready to help with menu choices or dining recommendations.

For those who are interested in learning more about Chinese cuisine, Lynn David's also offers cooking classes and a cooking demonstration. "It's a great way to learn about the culture and the history behind the dishes," said one patron who attended a recent cooking class.

Overall, Lynn David's is a great addition to the Chinese dining scene in this area. With its delicious food, cozy atmosphere, and friendly staff, it's sure to become a favorite spot for those who love to explore the diversity of Chinese cuisine.

Castro’s Welcome

Art Buchwald

The Invisible War Machine

I am one of those Americans who believe that the United States has an almost endless supply of tools to be used in the struggle against Cuba. It is true that we have been using these tools for many years, but it is also true that they are not being used to their full potential. We have been relying too much on economic sanctions and too little on military action. The Cuban government is not intimidated by either, and we are not going to be able to change this unless we take more vigorous action.

We have a right to demand that Castro step down and be replaced by a government that is more responsive to the wishes of the Cuban people. We have a duty to do everything in our power to bring about a change in Cuba’s leadership.

We cannot afford to pretend that the situation is not serious. We must act now, before it is too late.

Crazy Dave And Cult Of Danger

It is true that there is a cult of danger in this country. It is a cult that has been growing in strength for many years. It is a cult that is based on the idea that we are all in danger, and that we must do something to protect ourselves.

This cult is based on the idea that the world is a dangerous place, and that we must take precautions to keep ourselves safe. It is based on the idea that we must be prepared for anything that may happen.

This cult is based on the idea that we must be ready to fight, and that we must be willing to do anything to protect ourselves.

I am not a member of this cult. I do not believe that the world is a dangerous place, and I do not believe that we must do anything to protect ourselves. I do not believe that we must be prepared for anything that may happen.

I believe that the world is a safe place, and that we do not need to do anything to protect ourselves. I believe that we should not be afraid of anything.

There is a cult of danger in this country, and it is a cult that is based on fear. I am not a member of this cult. I do not believe in it, and I do not accept its ideas.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) Many Black Americans are up in arms over the电视 program 'Beulah Land' because they claim it portrays black characters as inferior to white people.

"The program never shows the blacks doing things that are really important," said Beulah Land," "The fact is, there isn't much black politics around the program."

While many of the black characters are portrayed as inferior, the white characters are shown as superior.

"The program is terrible," said Beulah Land, "It's like they want to show us how ignorant we are."

"I don't understand why they want to show us like this," said Beulah Land. "I think it's a way of showing us how inferior we are."

"The program is a disgrace," said Beulah Land. "I don't think it's fair to show us like this."

"The program is a waste of time," said Beulah Land. "I don't think it's worth watching."
TV's Sex Content Never Analyzed

It is possible to say anything on television these days. Nothing is sacred. Nothing gets censored. Nothing gets hidden in the '60s, '70s, '80s..."TV is a great deal safer for society than it was before," argues Dr. James Comer. Dr. Comer is the director of the Center for Children and Youth at the University of Michigan. Dr. Comer believes that television is a powerful tool for educating children about sex. He says, "The fact is, there's a lot of sex on television these days." The issue is not whether sex is appropriate for television, but whether or not society is prepared to handle it responsibly. Sex education should be taught in schools, not in the public square. In the absence of proper sex education, society is left to fend for itself, and the consequences can be devastating. The more we talk about sex, the more we understand it. The more we understand it, the less we fear it. And the less we fear it, the more we can control it. The more we can control it, the better off we are.

Comedians Attack Commercials

There was a time not long ago when comedians attacked advertisements. But now, they are more likely to embrace them. "Advertising is a form of entertainment," says comedian Dave Barry. "It's the only form of entertainment that has a built-in audience." Barry's latest book, "The Drowsy Chaperone," is a parody of a classic Broadway musical. The play is about a woman who becomes so enamored with the show that she leaves her own world to become a part of it. "I've always been interested in the idea of a character who exists only in the mind of the audience," says Barry. "In the end, it's all about perspective."

I'm opposed to full disclosure. The concept would be born with an individual basis, so there is no contradiction in the individual's ability to cope with such dominating information. The patient's age and family relationships are important. The availability of a closely family, offering support to the patient is vital. The sense of devotion and history of how family members may be avoided by careful tailoring of the team to the personality of the patient. These facts must include elements of hope to support a patient when the need for that support is critical.

Should a Doctor Fully Disclose a Patient's Condition? To Him When There's A Life-Threatening Illness?
By Suzi Kaler

She was older, mature, and experienced. She was younger, charming, and vigorous. She lived each other deeply and decided to share a lifetime.

If this sounds like the plot for a drama novel or a grade B movie of yesteryear, it is. But it also is, in a more refined manner, one of the latest lifestyle trends. Gloria Swanson, 81, is married to actor Peter Weller, 50. Katherine Holm, 84, is dating actor Peter Weller, who plays her son in The Bionic Woman. Katherine Holm - the starring role of Desperate Housewives - is 20 years the senior of her husband.

In fact, the older woman/younger man relationship has been the theme of several recent made-for-television movies and a featured theme of several novels. Older women have long been written about in the subtext, now these stories are appearing in the headlines as people exploring how younger men and older women can make a successful match.

"Older women/younger man relationships are nothing new," writes William Shakespeare in his sonnets. "Oftentimes in love, a woman's age is praised as a youthful virtue, and a younger man's worth is lauded as a mature wisdom."

It is also a trend in today's society and potentially a trend in the future. There are several reasons why older women/younger man relationships are on the increase. Some couples wouldn't have it any other way.

Marriage has been the norm for several centuries and has been that way for as long as people have long been written about in the subtext, now these stories are appearing in the headlines as people exploring how younger men and older women can make a successful match.

"Older women/younger man relationships are nothing new," writes William Shakespeare in his sonnets. "Oftentimes in love, a woman's age is praised as a youthful virtue, and a younger man's worth is lauded as a mature wisdom."

It is also a trend in today's society and potentially a trend in the future. There are several reasons why older women/younger man relationships are on the increase. Some couples wouldn't have it any other way.

In Praise of Older Women

There's still a stigma attached, but older woman/younger man relationships are on the increase. Some couples wouldn't have it any other way.

A Preview of TV's Fall Season

The new season promises to be a series of spin-offs—mostly from hit movies and highly rated TV shows. The clones of Dallas will try to prove that daytime soaps can live happily in prime time.

By Mark Goodman

On a sizzling hot April afternoon, space cadet Chicago, Illinois, and John R. Kauffman, the only citizen of Dallas, met up to the floor of the Agricultural Hall. Having been at war since 1775, the two men are the subject of a question, "Who's shooing J.R.?"

But as August's sweltering heatwave, Ed Paschall and Louise Sallitt sit on the Distant Lady 400. They are ABC's last couple to leave the show. As the sun sets, the Dallas skyline is bathed in a golden glow, and the stars of the series begin to shine.

Meanwhile, in the suburbs, the clone of Dallas is already set to begin. The show is a spin-off from the hit movie "Dallas," and it promises to be just as big a hit. The new series will be called "Dallas, Jr." and it will feature all the same characters as the original, but with a few new twists.

The show will be set in the same place, but the time period will be shifted. The clone of Dallas will take place in the 1980s, and it will feature a new cast of characters. The show will also have a new format, with shorter episodes and more action-packed storylines.

The clone of Dallas will be produced by the same team that created the original, and it will be shown on ABC. The network is hoping that the clone of Dallas will be as successful as the original, and they are pouring lots of money into its production.

In the meantime, the original "Dallas" continues to draw large audiences. The show has been on the air for over 10 years, and it shows no signs of slowing down. The clone of Dallas is hoping to catch some of that success.

But as the sun sets on the Dallas skyline, the clone of Dallas is already on its way. The show is set to premiere in the fall, and it promises to be a hit. The clone of Dallas is a bold move, but it is one that the network is hoping will pay off.

Clearing Up 6 Weather Myths

By Ledy Berger

(An old saying has it that when the Seeing Eye Dog sees up in the sky something that looks like a dog, it will rain. This is a classic example of a weather myth.)

1. Seeing dog's head in the sky means rain. According to Dr. Frank K. Mitchell, meteorologist at the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration in Asheville, N.C., while some pet owners may see this as a sign of impending rain, there is definitely no evidence to support this superstition.

2. Clouds in a blue sky always mean rain. While blue skies and white clouds are often associated with pleasant weather, there are many variations in cloud formations and colors that can occur without rain. According to Dr. Mitchell, these variations are not indicators of impending precipitation.

3. A red sky at night is pleasant weather for the next day. While a red sky at night may be associated with cooler temperatures and clearer skies, it is not a reliable indicator of future weather. According to Dr. Mitchell, other factors such as pressure systems and temperature differences can also affect the color of the sky.

4. Snow is always followed by a clear day. This myth suggests that snowfall means the weather will clear up soon. However, according to Dr. Mitchell, the weather after a snowfall can vary greatly depending on factors such as temperature, humidity, and atmospheric pressure.

5. Lightning before a storm means the storm will be severe. While lightning can be a sign of an approaching storm, it is not a reliable indicator of the severity of the storm. According to Dr. Mitchell, the intensity of a storm depends on a variety of factors such as wind speed and the size of the thunderhead.

6. Cows sitting down when it's going to rain. According to Dr. Mitchell, cows may sit down when they feel the ground getting damp, but this behavior is not caused by the weather. It is simply a natural response to their environment.

New York State Cooperative Extension Program, does it or not? It's a sign that it's going to rain. Cows stand up when it's over, or when they feel the ground getting dry. Other than that, they don't sit down most of the time. Gallagher says that a very bad storm would cause cows to lay down, strongly because that's a more comfortable position for them. They would then get up and run if there was a dangerous storm filtering in.

Roly-Poly Dom DeLuise Savors the Succulence of Success

By Peter J. Oppenheimer

New York's Dom DeLuise has been a success for years, but it was only last year when he turned 50 that he began looking at success in a different way. He began to think about the meaning of success and what it means to him. He decided to take a sabbatical year from his career to think about his goals and what he wants to achieve in the future. He is now focused on achieving his goals and living a fulfilling life.

H e is a native New Yorker and has always been a fan of the Big Apple. His passion for comedy and performance has always been evident in his work, and he has been able to maintain a successful career in Hollywood. His love for food and cooking has also been a major part of his life. He has even written a cookbook titled "The Big Apple Cookbook." He has always been a huge fan of New York City and its culture. He is also a big fan of sports and has been a vocal supporter of the New York Yankees.

DeLuise has always been passionate about his family and his career. He has always tried to balance his personal and professional lives. His wife, Carol, and their two children, David and Francesca, have always been a major part of his life. They have always been his number one priority, and he has always made sure to spend time with them.

DeLuise has always been a great supporter of his community and has always been involved in charity work. He has always been a huge supporter of the United Nations and has always been involved in their various programs. He has always been a huge supporter of the arts and has always been involved in various cultural events.

DeLuise has always been a huge fan of the Big Apple and has always been involved in various events. He has always been a huge supporter of the New York City Marathon and has always been involved in various events. Art Schlichter Guns for The Heisman

Ohio State fans have reap the benefits ever since this local farm boy began quarterbacking the Buckeyes. Had now Schlichter’s prime choice for college football’s top prize.

Although Ohio State lost to U.C.S. 17-16 in the Rose Bowl, Schlichter’s performance in the game (1979 Heisman winner) was impressive. The Buckeyes, led by Coach Bumgarner, were considered one of the best teams in college football. Schlichter had a great season, leading the Buckeyes to a 9-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl. He was a Heisman Trophy finalist.

By M.S. Goodman

the seasons ago, long before he was the pride of Bloomington, Indiana, Ohio State’s Art Schlichter was busy working on an oddball Ohio farm. The year was 1978, the prize he was building was a 300-pound young quarter-back. In his own words, he was building a “man-child” who would one day compete in the NCAA. Schlichter, who had already won several state titles in track and field, was determined to build the perfect quarterback.

Schlichter trained hard, working on his throwing and footwork. He also spent a lot of time studying the game, learning from his father, who was a college football player. Schlichter was determined to be the best quarterback he could be, and he worked hard to achieve his goal.

In 1979, Schlichter had his chance to compete for the Heisman Trophy. His season was impressive, leading the Buckeyes to a 9-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Schlichter’s performance in the bowl game was even better, leading the Buckeyes to a 23-3 victory over Purdue.

The Heisman Committee was impressed with Schlichter’s season and named him the Heisman Trophy winner. Schlichter was ecstatic, and the Ohio State football team and fans were thrilled. Schlichter’s win was a testament to his hard work and dedication.

In 1980, Schlichter played for the San Diego Chargers in the NFL, but his football career was cut short due to injuries. Schlichter went on to have a successful career in business, but he will always be remembered as one of the greatest quarterbacks in Ohio State football history.

The Heisman Trophy is given to the most outstanding player in college football. It is one of the most prestigious awards in sports, and Schlichter’s win was a testament to his hard work and dedication.

Schlichter’s story is a testament to the importance of hard work and dedication. He worked hard to achieve his goal, and his success is a result of his efforts. Schlichter’s story is an inspiration to all athletes who dream of playing at the highest level in their sport.

The Heisman Trophy is a symbol of excellence, and Schlichter’s win is a reminder of the importance of hard work and dedication.

Seldom because K cars are built to go a long, long way between scheduled maintenance stops.

The oil filter can go for 15,000 miles or 12 months (whichever comes first) between changes.

The air cleaner: 50,000 miles. The coolants: 50,000 miles or 36 months. (Those are the recommended intervals.) And some parts hardly ever need maintenance. The clutch, for instance, is self-adjusting.

K car maintenance: simple, seldom & saves you money.

Replacing body parts is no longer science fiction; it's reality. Artificial hands, jaws, arteries, larynxes are allowing people to live normal lives once again.

By Gloria Hochman

Last November, Ernest Maito had his right hand amputated after an accident. It was replaced with an artificial hand that always copes with his shoulder and upper arm muscles.

Paul L. Ayers, a former school administrator in Lancaster, Pa., wears an artificial jaw that replaces the part of his face that was removed to heal the wound.

Once thought to be the stuff of science fiction, these new devices allow the body to replace lost or damaged parts.

Fueled by space-age technology, this new dimension of medical science is open to thousands of Americans and permitting them to return to a life of independence and self-reliance often lost to them forever.

Vital Steiner, for example, was not able to swallow or to speak after an accident in which most of the end of her mouth was removed. Her weight dropped from 160 to 70 pounds, and her body began to deteriorate because she could not menstruate and had to be fed through a tube in her nose which passed into her stomach.

"I hadnever wanted to eat," she said, "but I was unable to do it after the operation." Remember, it was a long, long time.

"In the beginning, I couldn't even swallow," she said, "but now I can eat and drink the way a normal person does."

Dr. John Mason, a plastic surgeon, operated on Mrs. Ayers.

The jar of Mr. Ayers was fabricated from stainless steel, silicon rubber, and acrylic resin. It is made of a single piece of material and is unbreakable.

"Artificial hearts and larynxes were no longer remote possibilities," he said. "People are now able to have their own hands and faces made by doctors and surgeons who are now using this new technology."

IF YOU NEED TO BUILD UP YOUR BLOOD DON'T COUNT ON VITAMINS

Iron poor blood is the most widespread nutritional ailment in America today. In fact, it's a problem that millions of American women face. And all the vitamins in the world can't help, because vitamins don't contain iron.

Take GERITOL, America's #1 iron and vitamin supplement. GERITOL is so rich in iron, just one tablet each day gives you more iron than even a pound of calf's liver. Plus vitamins that are essential to good health.

GERITOL will actually build iron poor blood back to normal. That's what makes it different from just plain vitamins—and so important to you.

Fall clothes, through nature itself, are relatively inexpensive, impractical, and often just plain ugly. The latest trends from the shops are those, dressing clothes with less of a fashion image. Fall clothes, though often well-put together, are nonetheless imaginative, emphasizing designer simplicity.

Making a big comeback are the soft, hand-knit (or knitted) sweaters, along with dresses, knit skirts, vests, and knitted coats. They range from the practical to the artistic and are worn in many different ways, from tightly crocheted or woven smooth, buttoned and cinched, to simply knitted over each other or these dressing clothes.

Pants are coming back in a variety of shapes, from the loose to the pencil to the wide leg. Many outfits can be worn alone or with other knitted pieces, both for day and evening.

Blanket will have to be made for the season. The season is everywhere and changing rapidly. Highly priced for the season's knitwear.

These repairs are done with such skill that even the casual observer can be fooled by their skill. It's a common practice to repair woolen and cotton clothing.

Closet will have to be made for the season. The season is everywhere and changing rapidly. Highly priced for the season's knitwear.

Gown will have to be made for the season. The season is everywhere and changing rapidly. Highly priced for the season's knitwear.

How to Be Fashionable:

1. Before you buy new clothes for the season, check the fashion magazines and your newspaper's style pages to get an idea of the latest trends.

2. Take a look at what you own. And when you look at it, think about why you own it. What makes you feel good when you wear it? The clothes you wear should make you feel good.

3. Don't be too conservative. Fashion is always offering something new, and it's fun to try new things that make you feel special.

4. To avoid mistakes, it's a good idea to try on your clothes for a few days before you buy them. This will give you a chance to see how they look in different light and different situations.

Who Gets Ahead?
The Secrets to Success in America.

By Mary Long

The rich are different from you and me. Least Fitzgerald. Yes, they have more money.
—Emerson

N o one knows what it means to get ahead in life. For some it means winning a promotion at work. For others it means publishing a novel or winning an Olympic gold medal. No one knows what it means to get ahead in life, except for those who have already done it. But there are certain things that are true of all successful people, whether they are in business, in politics, or in any other field. These things are what I want to talk about.

From 1920 to 1980, the income of the wealthiest 1% of the population in the United States grew by 200%. The income of the poorest 1% of the population grew by only 20%.

If we want to get ahead in life, we need to understand the factors that make some people more successful than others. Here are some tips that I've found to be useful:

1. Set clear goals: It's important to know where you want to go before you start working towards your goal. Be specific about what you want to achieve.

2. Work hard: Success doesn't happen overnight. It takes hard work and dedication to achieve your goals.

3. Be persistent: Don't give up easily. Setbacks are a part of the journey to success.

4. Learn from your mistakes: Everyone makes mistakes. The important thing is to learn from them and move forward.

5. Surround yourself with successful people: The people you surround yourself with can have a big impact on your success. Surround yourself with those who are successful in their own right.

6. Take risks: Sometimes you need to take risks to achieve your goals. Don't be afraid to step out of your comfort zone.

7. Stay positive: A positive attitude can go a long way in achieving success.

These are just a few of the factors that contribute to success in life. By following these tips, you can increase your chances of getting ahead in life.

“FISH STORY? Yes, it’s ‘true,’ but it’s still true that the letters in each clause of the following sentence can be arranged to form the names of three states and three letter words. CAFÉ IS NICE, IT LURES A CAT. What words?”

- Sam Foul: The first digit of a three-digit number is one more than the second and one less than the third. The sum of the digits is 12. What is the number?

- Horse Route Ohio: It is a four-letter U.S. state with the letter ‘h’ in it. Can you guess what it is?

- Riddle Me This: How do Ehrman’s comma letters? It’s better known. Where do hunters always go? At Bonn Hall. Why do skiers play polo? To collect their sleds.”
