Oil Crunch Not Long In Coming

Let's put it bluntly: We have already begun to see the effects of the oil crunch. This is not to say that the Middle East is not a major player in the world economy, but it is a fact that the oil crisis will have a major impact on the world economy.

News In Brief

Cops Kidnap Suspect Captured

LEHIGH, Pa. (AP) — A lewis police officer was wounded in a shootout with a fugitive wanted in the abduction of a 15-year-old girl. A Pennsylvania State Police officer was shot in the leg during the exchange of gunfire at a residence in Lehigh County. The suspect, who is currently at large, is described as a white male, approximately 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighing around 170 pounds. He was last seen wearing a black shirt and black pants. The officer has been treated and released from the hospital.

Garwood Mental Health At Issue

CAMP LEIMESTER, N.J. (AP) — The question of mental health care for U.S. military personnel is once again a focal point in the debate over the costs of providing mental health services for returning veterans. The Garwood Health Clinic in Garwood, New Jersey, has been at the center of controversy regarding the quality of care provided to service members and their families. Local officials are calling for an independent review of the clinic's services and operations.

Cancer Vaccine Near?

BOSTON (AP) — The National Cancer Institute has announced that a new cancer vaccine is almost ready for human trials. The vaccine, which targets a type of cancer known as pancreatic cancer, has been in development for several years. According to the institute, the vaccine is expected to be available within the next year.

Engineers Return To Work

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Engineers at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) have returned to work following a brief work stoppage. The engineers had been involved in negotiations with the federal government over salary and benefit issues. NASA officials have expressed confidence that the engineers will continue to contribute to the agency's mission.

Cleveland Starts Desegregation

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Board of Education has approved a plan to desegregate the city's schools. The plan, which includes busing students to achieve a more diverse student body, was developed in consultation with the city's residents. The board has stated that it is committed to ensuring that all students have access to a quality education.

Site For Policeman's Trial Sought

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The U.S. Department of Justice has announced that it has identified a site for the trial of a police officer accused of corruption. The officer, who is accused of accepting bribes from local businesses, was arrested last year. The trial is expected to begin in the fall.

Boren For Coats

South Bend, Ind. — A local coat drive is in full swing, with hundreds of coats already collected. The drive, which is being organized by the local police department, aims to provide coats to those in need. The department is asking for donations of new or gently used coats.

New Italian Government Forming

Rome (AP) — Italy's political landscape has undergone a significant shift following the formation of a new Italian government. The new government, which includes representatives from multiple political parties, has been tasked with addressing the country's economic challenges and political instability. The government has been praised for its inclusive approach, but it remains to be seen how it will perform.

Reagan Campaign Head Eager Lackey To Hughes

WASHINGTON - The recent rise of the less ambitious but highly opportunist riding Hughes' wave has been a source of both excitement and frustration for the Reagan campaign. Hughes' campaign has been on the rise for months, but now it appears he will finally catch up to Reagan. Hughes has been a loyal lackey, always in close proximity to Reagan. The timing of this move is opportune for Reagan, who is already in an advantageous position. Hughes' campaign office has been swamped with calls, and the pressure to act fast is mounting. Hughes' recent activities have been nothing short of impressive, and it's clear he has a real shot at capturing the nomination.

Cries For Defense Spending Increases Dangerous

By Paul K. Widen

Washington, D.C. - The nation's leaders are facing a crucial decision, as the president and Congress struggle to reach a consensus on the budget. The pressure to increase defense spending is growing, but at what cost? The question of whether to allocate more resources to defense is a complex one, and there are valid arguments on both sides.

Hamp Baker: A Rubber Stamp For The Utilities?

By Kyle Baker

Oklahoma City - When the Public Service Commission (PSC) in Oklahoma ruled that the state's 105 investor-owned utilities could keep their rates the same, many people were relieved. But what sort of rubber stamp is Hamp B. Baker, the PSC's new chairman? The choice could determine the future of the state's electric and gas utilities. Baker's appointment has been criticized by consumer advocates, who say he lacks the necessary experience to handle the complex issues facing the utilities.

Vampire Census Nearing Completion

Galveston, Texas - The 1990 Census is fast approaching, and the city of Galveston is preparing to count its residents. The city's population has been on the decline for years, and the census will provide a snapshot of the city's current demographics. The city's population is now estimated to be around 30,000, down from a peak of 75,000 in the 1950s. The city's reduction in population has been attributed to a number of factors, including economic decline, aging population, and a lack of job opportunities.
